A Personal View

How Does a Man Become a Man?

Eric Welle is an international student from Nigeria and is a sophomore in Graphic Communications.

By ERIC WELLE

Man in the womb, and during the periods of his early childhood while under the care of his mother, is a very happy man. While in the womb he feeds through the mother, when put to bed the mother breast-feeds him and gives him all motherly care. At this early age and stage of man's development, nothing looks dangerous to him. He sees everything as good no matter how dangerous it is.

As he begins to know his name and answer when called, he begins to perceive the world in his own way. He believes, at this stage that what is true for him is true for everybody. He is now almost far from reality but will come to reasoning when he goes into school. At a certain grade in school, life at home with parents only becomes incomplete to him. Right now he is coming a little bit rational. He has a mixture of ideas, some of which are his and others borrowed. What a mysterious happening! Let alone in the college, he becomes very conceptive and is in for the problem of planning to make a good living. Within a very limited period of time, man at this stage of teenagehood has a terrible choice to make; what to be in life and how to accomplish that goal. Think of yourself under this type of condition, be reasonable and imagine how frustrated you will be internally. For sure it is a terrible choice which is left for the future to decide. But bear in mind, "as you make your bed, so you will lie on it."

"I am a man now, free from most of my parent's restrictions, Oh, I'm just so happy that I'm no more enslaved to my parents." That is what he says, a young independent man, but he will look forward to realize that life is not a bed of roses. Look boy, your parent's advice is worth hearing and very educational at your planning stage because they have undergone that and know the success and failure of them. Please don't ignore their advice for they are your God here on earth. To some people whose parents are thousands and thousands of miles away, anybody's advice should mean much to you, especially those of your instructors and your elderly ones. On the other hand, being in the position to offer advice is like being someone's judge, so examine your thoughts very well so as not to issue a misleading advice. The success and failure in life of whoever is concerned will reflect back to who advised him and your conscience will be judging you right or wrong for every bit of advice you give to someone else.

What is it that makes life on earth very difficult? Left alone to undergo the process of life, man is like a frog undergoing the process of metamorphosis, in which the egg changes into a tadpole and then to a frog. Man on the other hand does not undergo the metamorphosis, but has three stages of life to live through, ranging from babyhood, teenagehood to adulthood. These three stages of life share man's periods of harmony and sadness. There are periods when a man is happy and periods when he is sad. These two moments of life, happiness and sadness, are highly influenced by the environment to which the man belongs. A healthy environment projects happiness with little or no shortcomings, while an unhealthy environment is characterized by periods of uncertainty and uncooperativeness. The unbalance of these two environmental targets leads to differences in individual behavior. People in each of these environments talented differently to suit the environment. We can now infer that there is a very big idea behind God creating some tall and some short, others in between. These three categories of man have certain things in common and differ from each other in many respects. They have different destinies. Recalling back to what William Shakespeare said in one of his writings: "Some people are born great, some achieve greatness and some have greatness trusted on them." To which of these categories of greatness do you think you belong? Why not achieve greatness if you are not born great or have greatness trusted on you?

What do you do in time of depression? Does depression render you helpless? When one is very depressed, he is like a tree without a taproot. How do you overcome this period? One answer might be that, like a tree without a taproot, you should try to grow a taproot. That is a good answer. Overcoming these periods of depression, loneliness and temptation is halfway towards your manhood. Adjusting your cultural intuition and making something out of this modern world of ours is the biggest goal in one's material life.

Behind every successful man there is a woman, but don't fall into the wrong one's hands else all your effort will be returned to a stage of nothingness. You can have everything in the world under your thought control but in reality you are lost, perceiving another world which does not belong to you physically. But you could have made it yours if you had started on time and with the right person, taking the right step and precaution. You could still make it yours if you are very persistent in your effort to attain manhood despite the obstacles along the road to success.

Perseverance is what is needed of a man, and that is my view of a man becoming a man.

Spikers Put Four Victories Together in Rare Home Stand

By KATHY FISHER

During a series of home games Chowan had one of the longest winning streaks in its volleyball history by winning four straight games. These wins left the Lady Braves with an overall record of 10 and 12 and a conference standing of 2 and 4.

On October 31 Chowan lost to Louisburg after three well-played matches. Chowan took the first match 15-13 but lost the next two 4-15; 11-15.

Louisburg out-served the Braves 7 to 6. Consistently getting the serve over for Chowan were Belva Tharpe, Susan Whalen, Terri Tyler, Georgia Ross and Heather Holt.

Offensively Chowan was out-played at the net 9 to 8. Spiking well for the Lady Braves were Wanda Bacote, Ross and Holt. Ross and Holt also put in some dinks. Drives were made by Whalen and Bacote.

Making good defensive plays for Chowan were Ross, Bacote, Tharpe and Tyler. Tyler also made some good blocks. The Braves had problems with their blocking and missed spikes. They also had a problem with serve reception in the third match.

"This is the best match we have ever played against Louisburg," stated Mrs. Collins. "It is the first time we have played competitively with them since we joined the conference." This match put Chowan in third place in the regionals.

Chowan started the four-game winning streak on November 1 by defeating Meredith College 9-15; 15-5; 15-10.

The Braves out-served their opponent 7 to 3 with Whalen, Holt, and Tyler having the most consistent serves. Offensively Meredith was out-played 8 to 2. Good spikes were made by Bacote, Whalen and Holt. Dinking well were Tyler and Bacote while Ross and Whalen put in some good drives.

Defensively for Chowan, Bacote, Tyler and Tharpe made good pickups and Tyler also made a few blocks. The problem that Chowan seemed to have was with illegal hits and missed serves. In the third match they also had trouble with service reception.

Mrs. Collins stated that this was an excellent match for Chowan because the team lost the first match and came back to win against a team that had beaten them before.

Chowan continued their streak on the same evening by defeating Christopher Newport 15-12; 15-7. The Braves out-served Christopher Newport 8 to 4 with Tharpe, Whalen, Bacote, Tyler and Ross putting in the most good serves.

At the net Christopher Newport was out-played 6 to 3. Spiking well were Bacote, Whalen, Ross, and Tyler. Bacote and Tyler made the most good dinks.

Defensively Tyler did a very good job blocking with four attempted and she scored on all of them. Others making good defensive plays were Bacote, Tharpe, Tyler and Holt. There was only one major problem and that was with missed serves. Except for this problem, this game had the fewest number of errors than ever before, according to Mrs. Collins. She also stated, "This is probably the best complete match Chowan has played and we played a strong hitting team."

On November 3 the Braves added two more wins to their list by defeating Wingate and Elizabeth City College in a home match. Wingate was defeated 15-2; 15-9 with every member of Chowan coming in to play.

Wingate was out-served 16 to 5 and Whalen put in 17 good serves 9 of which were aces. Also serving well were Scotlyn Patrick, Marina Hewett, Cathie Pickens, and Tyler.

Offensively Chowan out played Wingate 4 to 1 at the net. Spiking well were Bacote and Holt. On defensive plays, Pickens, Holt and Tyler did well. Pickens and Bacote had the most pickups on serve reception.

There were no major problems in the first match and there was a small problem with serve reception in the second.

Elizabeth City lost by scores of 15-11; 15-5 with Chowan out-serving them 15 to 3. Serving well were Whalen, Tharpe, Ross, Pickens and Hewett.

At the net Chowan out-played their opponent 5 to 1. Spiking well were Bacote, Whalen, Tharpe, Holt and Hewett. Good dinks were made by Tharpe and Hewett.

Making good defensive pickups were Tharpe, Bacote, Pickens, Patrick and Tyler. Holt did a good job in serve reception.

Lady Brave Comeback Falls Short

By BELINDA ELMORE

The Lady Braves fell to UNC-Wilmington on November 5 bringing their record to 2-4 in the conference and 10-13 overall.

The first game went to UNC-W 5-15 but the second game was closer. The Lady Braves seemed to come back in the second game but fell 14-16. The match went to UNC-W 2-0.

UNC-W out-served Chowan by 7 to 6. Whalen, Tharpe, Tyler, Ross and Holt were most consistent in service. Whalen and Tharpe had eight serves, while Tyler had six and Tyler, Ross and Holt had five each.

On offense, both teams were almost even at the net. Bacote had four spikes and three dinks, Ross three and five, Holt two and three, Tharpe had two spikes and Tyler had seven dinks. Chowan had to dink in order to score because UNC-W picked up the spikes.

The players with good defensive plays were Tyler and Ross with ten each and Bacote with six, Tyler had three blocks.

"I thought Chowan played quite well, especially in game two," stated Collins. Serve receptions, missed services, illegal hits, and defensive errors proved to be the problem for the Lady Braves. "The officials' calls were difficult to understand including some illegal hits and two changed line calls."

The last time Chowan played UNC-W they were badly beaten. This time Chowan played even with them.

Taller St. Augustine Outplays Lady B's

By KATHY FISHER

In the Lady Braves' first home match of the season on October 19, they were defeated by St. Augustine 1-15; 4-15 and lost to Spartanburg by scores of 11-15; 8-15. This leaves Chowan 2 and 3 in the conference and 6 and 11 in overall play.

In both games Chowan had the support of a moderate crowd but that was not enough to make a win.

Chowan was greatly disadvantaged because of the height of the St. Augustine team. The Braves were out-played 8 to 1 on the net with Wanda Bacote, Heather Holt, Belva Tharpe and Susan Whalen making most of the plays of the net for Chowan.

Chowan was also out-served 4 to 2. Bacote and Cathie Pickens got in the most serves for the team. The defense was unable to dig up St. Augustine's spikes and Chowan also had problems with serve reception. According to Mrs. Collins, St. Augustine is probably the best offensive team that the Braves will play.

In the second match against Spartanburg both teams were equally matched but the Lady Braves could not control the lead.

Both teams were even on service points. The most consistent servers for Chowan were Terri Tyler, Tharpe, Whalen and Bacote.

They were also even on the net. Georgia Ross and Bacote put in the most spikes while Tharpe and Tyler made the most dinks.

In the second game with Spartanburg Chowan was unable to score until falling behind by 10 points. Mrs. Collins stated, "I think in game two we lost our confidence, then we got it back." A rally was made but it was not strong enough to give Chowan the win.

In the last away games Chowan met Christopher Newport, Meredith and St. Augustine.

In the Christopher Newport match on October 16 Chowan was defeated 12-15; 12-15; 13-15.

Chowan did control the service of the game by out-serving Christopher Newport 11 to 9. Tharpe, Pickens and Bacote were the stronger servers for the Braves in this match.

Chowan lost the match at the net where they were out-played 11 to 4. Tharpe, Tyler and Ross did well in spikes while Tyler and Bacote had a few dinks. Drives were made by Scotlyn Patrick, Ross and Pickens. The Braves had problems getting up the spikes made by Christopher Newport and this is how they lost many points in the match, explained Mrs. Collins. She also stated that it was a "very good competitive match as close as the score was, any one could have won."

In a tri-match against Meredith College and Bennett College on October 22 the Lady Braves lost to Meredith and defeated Bennett.

Meredith won by scores of 15-10; 9-15; 11-15. Chowan was out-served 11 to 5 by Meredith. Whalen, Holt and Bacote led the Braves in good serves.

Offensively Chowan out-played Meredith 8 to 4 at the net. Tyler, Bacote and Whalen put in the most spikes for Chowan. Tyler and Ross made the most defensive plays.

In this match the Braves main problem was in serve reception. "We were unable to get the serve up on our side," explained Mrs. Collins. She also added that they had some trouble with illegal hits.

In the second match Chowan defeated Bennett by scores of 15-11; 15-2. The Braves out-served Bennett 7 to 3 with most consistent service done by Whalen, Tyler, Patrick, Ross and Holt.

At the net Bennett was out-played 7 to 0. Spiking and dinking consistently for Chowan were Tyler and Ross. The team played very well defensively, according to Mrs. Collins. Tyler was consistent in blocking for the Braves.

Again Mrs. Collins stated that serve reception was their main problem along with illegal hits.

Chowan played St. Augustine for the second time on October 24. They were defeated 7-15; 3-15; 11-15.

The Braves were out-served 9 to 4 with Pickens, Holt and Tharpe doing most consistent job serving for Chowan.

Offensively Chowan was out-played on the net 9 to 4 with Pickens, Holt, and Tharpe doing most consistent job serving for Chowan.

Offensively Chowan was out-played on the net 9 to 4 except for the third game when both teams played evenly.

Spiking consistently for the were Bacote, Holt and Tyler. Tyler and Ross were consistent in dinks and Bacote and Pickens were for drives.

According to Mrs. Collins, this was the best defensive job that Chowan has had against St. Augustine. Whalen was good on pickups as were Tyler, Holt and Ross. In blocking, Tyler was the most consistent. Mrs. Collins said her blocks forced St. Augustine to stop spiking and start dinking.

In this match, serve reception and illegal hits were still a problem, according to Mrs. Collins, along with service errors.

"I know it is best defensive match we have played," said Mrs. Collins, and also one of the tightest called. She also added that "we almost took the third game" because the team had a great deal of confidence and a positive attitude.
