In addition to these elected positions, Chowan faculty and staff members take active parts in Rotary, Exchange, Jaycees, Lions, Lioness Exchanges, Melrose, and other civic clubs.

Spring Football Underway

By Jerry Sutton

At the start of the spring semester, returning players from the fall 83 football team and others interested in coming out, started on an off season training program, headed by varsity football coach Jim Garrison.

Each player is required to take it. It combines a weight training program and a conditioning program. Players go through a rigorous drills but keeping weight training and conditioning as main aspects.

Each player participates in each program twice a week with training times depending on their schedule class times.

When the middle of March comes around, each player should be in better physical condition, with much improved skills and in playing form.

Through spring training each player should gain a positive attitude. For those players who did not play alot last year a chance to play a more important role and to fit into the football team.

In years past those players in spring ball training would make up the future fall team, as will this spring training program.

Those in it will make up the 1984 football team, but not all players involved will make the team. Coming out of spring training the coaches gain some insight of which players will give strength to every position. When fall rolls around they will have a team to battle against opponents.
