Campus Events

August 25 August 26 August 27

August 28 September 2

September 7

October 9

October 19

October 23-28 November 2

November 4-8

November 26-December 2

December 13-19 January 14

January 15

January 20

March 17-21

April 26

May 2 May 18

Freshmen Arrive Sophomores Return Fall Registration Fall Classes Begin Fall Convocation Home Football Opener

Founder's Day

Homecoming and Band Day Mid-term Break

Parent's Day

Campus Evangelism Week

Thanksgiving Holidays

Final Exams

Spring Registration

Spring Classes Begin Spring Convocation

Religious Emphasis Week

Spring Festival

Honors Day

Baccalaureate Services and Graduation Exercises

Herring a good catch for Braves squad

With a last name like Herring and playing for a junior college named Chowan, one would expect this basketball player to be at home around nets Basketball nets that is.

Zach Herring, who will wear the blue and white for Chowan College the next two years, has already proved to be a good catch for the school's program.

For Herring, being caught up in the net of a successful and nationally recognized program should tip the scales in his favor when it comes time to put his player on the market for four year colleges to consider Herring is in safe waters at Chowan, whose total athletic program has spawned several successes. The basketball program's most famous product, so far, is NCSU's Nate McMillan.

Herring, a product of Wilmington's Laney High School, served notice Tuesday night that he will be a force to contend with during his college career. Herring was named MVP of the 37th annual East-West All-Star game in Greensboro, scoring 25 points and grabbing eight rebounds in leading the East squad to an 89-87 win over the taller West squad.

Coming from Laney High School, home of the NBA's Air (Michael) Jordan, Herring is constantly facing people casting comparisons between him and the former UNC standout.

Herring, who stands somewhat between 6-foot 3 and 6-foot 4, will find himself being compared to former

Chowan greats. For the new kid to make his mark at Chowan, he's going to have to at least play up the standards set by McMillan, Greg Hollingsworth, Jim Dillard, and Jerome Cooper. The fast three names on the list have signed with successful four year schools, with last year's leader Hollingsworth going to the University of South Florida

USF beat Wake Forest in the opening round of the NIT tournament this past season and has a better than average shot at making the NCAA tournament this coming season.

Herring can do it all on the court coming up with two steals, three assists ans hitting 11 of 13 shots from field in Tuesday night's game. Herring had 14 of his 25 points in the game's first half.

For Chowan coach Bob Burke, he may face recruiting efforts in two years for Herring's services at a four year school similar to sharks feeding in a

Herring could be the biggest fish to come out of the Chowan spawning grounds, but he will have to prove himself in waters teeming with talent

Three new athletic members

Three new faces will be found walking the halls of the athletic department at Chowan College this school year.

A new wrestling coach, assistant football coach and a director of the presports medicine program have been named to the Chowan faculty.

Robert Casmus is the college's head trainer and director of the pre-sports medicine program.

Mark Krautheim will assist Jim Garrison with the Braves' football team as a defensive coach and will also serve as resident director of West Hall.

The new coach was a graduate assistant at William and Mary before coming to Chowan.

Krautheim replaces Mike Bradley. Bradley left Chowan to accept the assitant baseball coach position at Duke University.

Anthony served as an assistant wrestling coach at Virginia Tech before accepting the wrestling coach's posi-

Assitant athletic director Niel Wellborn says the new additions are some of the best young men in their fields. Wellborn says he thinks they will uphold the successful tradition of Chowan College athletics and add their own mark to Chowan sports.

The pre-sports medicine program was implemented to give students exposure as soon as possible to one of the fastest growing, and changing, areas in

Paths to Ponder

A very strange statement for a world torn by strife, hunger. loneliness, and hardship. Can it be that God over states His love. No! What God has declared is tremendously true as seen in Holy Scripture.

In Genesis God speaks and creation is born. Order, Light, Life, and opportunity come from God's actions and God says, "It is Good". However, man sins by disobedience to God. So, how can it be good? The key is in the scripture which states that before the foundation of the world God gave His son. God had created so that he could Love and redeem. It is only in our failure that we realize the need and love of God. It is in our hardships that we can come to know His redeeming love. So it works for Good to those that love the Lord.

In the story of Abraham and Sarah we see them longing for a son. God assures them of a son. Years slip by without the birth of a son and their faith begins to waver. They decide to help God out and arrange for Abraham to give Hagar a servant woman a child. From the birth of the child comes bitterness in the home. The child, Ishmael, and its mother are cast out after Abraham and Sarah have a child, Isaac. Good out of it! The lack of faith of Abraham and Sarah led to hate, jealousy, and problems; but from it God brings goodness. God didn't hate Ishmael. God loved Ishmael and blessed Ishmael. It was Ishmael's descendants later in the mountains that harbors Moses who fled from Egypt for murder. It is there that Moses learns of God and is commissioned of God to deliver the Family of Abraham from Egypt. After the Exodus it is the descendant of Ishmael, the father-inlaw of Moses that leads the Children of Abraham through the wilderness. So all things do work together for good for those that love the Lord.

In the story of Jacob and Esau we see the life of the two brothers torn by jealousy. Each fears that the other will be the head of the family. Deception and anger causes the family to break up. However, in separation they come to know the love of God and his Guidance over the years. Years go by and reunion takes place with neither brother desiring to be the head of the family or to possess the material goods. Each has learned to depend upon God and they seek new relationships. Not just obedience to customs was the result but heart loving relationships to each other and to God.

In the story of Joseph we see as a boy he was a brat. His brothers hated him. Because of their jealousy and hate they sell him into slavery. The whole family suffers in regret for years. Years later Joseph has an opportunity to help his brothers and the family. All having grown in spirit Joseph said to them, "You thought to do me evil, but God meant it for Good."

"God so loved the world He gave His only begotten Son that whosoeverbelieved in Him Should not perish but have everlasting life." The Christmas story shares the gift of God's love in Christ. We see Christ heal, feed, forgive, and bless individuals of all ages and races. For his love he is hated, cursed, betrayed, and placed on the cross. But it is through this that we hear Him saying to the father, "forgive them they know not what they do." It is then that we realize that we can't really kill the Word of God, Christ. We hear him saying: "I have come that you might have life"; "Go therefore and make disciples, baptize them in the spirit of God, teach them all things and I am with you."; "Love the Lord Thou God with all thy heart, mind, soul, and body; and Love your neighbor as you Love yourself"; "If you believe in me you shall never die." All things do work together for good to those who love the Lord.

> Rev. Horace Lee McLaurin Murfreesboro Methodist Church

FUN IN SQUIRREL PARK—Many students enjoyed the beautiful fall weather the afternoon of class registration day to gather in center campus for fun and games. Free soft drinks were served and the local radio station broadcast their programs live and gave numerous free prizes to the students.

Tarheel link to Art explored

North Carolina's Piedmont region is known worldwide as a commercial furniture center. Twice each year retailers come from all over the world to look at and order furniture in High Point and the surrounding area.

But far fewer people know the same area is also an arts center. In fact, within a 20- or 30-minute drive from the furniture market buildings are a number of unique museums, galleries and decorative arts centers. Together they help make an impressive case for North Carolina as one of the major artsproducing states in the country.

In Winston-Salem, for example, are found the Museum of Early Southern Decorative Arts, Reynolds House and Old Salem, which are devoted to historic arts, as well as the Southeastern Center for the Arts, Piedmont Craftsman, Inc., and the Sawtooth Arts Center, which concentrate on the comtemporary area. In nearby Greensboro, there is a the Green Hill Center for North Carolina Art, a non-profit gallery which devotes itself entirely to nurturing and exhibiting the work of North Carolina ar-

Besides these organizations in the Piedmont area, organizations within a few hours distance include Penland Craft School in Penland, the John C.

Campbell Folk School in Brasstown. and the Southern Highland Handicrafts Guild in Asheville

No one is quite sure why the state supports so many artists and arts groups but Phyllis Lang, editor of "The Arts Journal," says the state is believed to have within its borders the largest number of artists, outside of New York and California.

According to Ms. Lang, the state's long history of support for the arts is partly responsible for the current fever of activity. She noted that the traditional arts, especially pottery, weaving and music, have always been important. Furthermore, the large number of visitors who come for vacations bring with them both interest and necessary support.

The appeal of the state as a place to live has attracted artists and craftsmen from other areas as permanent residents. Besides the Penland area in the Blue Ridge Mountains, where about 100 craftsmen live and work, other artists' colonies are found in Winston-Salem, Durham and Chapel Hill and in the Southern Pines region, she added.

Cynthia Ferrence, director of the

See ART, Page 3

SUPPORT THE

You're mad at your boss, worried about money, and you think you might be pregnant again. Bad days. We all have them. And on those bad days good parents pile up and push you to the brink of child abuse-stop. Punch a pillow, not your kid. Phone a friend. Take a shower. Do some will sometimes lash out at those they love most. When troubles sit-ups. Don't take hold of your child until you get hold of yourself. For more parenting information, write:

National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse
Box 2866. Chicago, II. SCC00

Take time out. Don't take it out on your kid.

BRAVES ATTEND THE GAMES AND SUPPORT YOUR TEAM!

1985 Volleyball Schedule Chowan

College

Date	Opponent	Place	Time	Match
Sopt.	100	11
14	Longwood College Opponent	L.C.	2:00 PM	Tri
17	Methodist College Opponent	Home	6:30 PM	Tri
21	Mary Washington College Invitational Tournament	M.W.C.	12:00 Noon	-
25	Christopher Newport College N.C. Wesleyan College	C.N.C.	6:00 PM	Tri
Oct.
1	Norfolk State University Hampton Institute	Home	6:30 PM	Tri
3	Salem College Belmont Abbey College	s.c.	6:00 PM	Tri
4	Spartanburg Methodist College Anderson College	S.M.C.	6:00 PM	Tri
5	North Greenville College Opponent	N.G.C.	2:00 PM	Tri
8	Methodist College N.C. Wesleyan College	M.C.	6:30 PM	Tri
12	Catonsville Community College Invitational Tournament	C.C.C.	9:00 AM
14	Hampton Institute Opponent	H.I.	6:00 PM	Tri
18	Catonsville Community College Meredith College	*Home	6:30 PM	Tri
19	Catonsville Community College Bennett College	*Home	9:00 AM	Tri
22	Meredith College Opponent	M.C.	6:30 PM	Tri
29	Norfolk State University Opponent	N.S.U.	6:30 PM	Tri
30	St. Augustine College Christopher Newport College	Home	6:30 PM	Tri
Mov.
2	Charles Co. Community College Invitational Tournament	C.C.C.C.	9:00 AM	-
5	Langwood College Mary Washington College	Home	6:30 PM	Tri
8-9	NJCAA Region X Tourrament	TBA	TBA	TBA
7-28- 9-30	National Volleyball Tournament

each: Jamet H. Collins

CHILD ABUSE CAMPAIGN NEWSPAPER AD NO. CA-84-768