

Anything Goes!

You can't catch me, I'm the Gingerbread man!
PHOTO BY BRIAN CRUMB

Ready or not here I come, Mason.
PHOTO BY BRIAN CRUMB

Don's impression of Tamy Fae Baker.
PHOTO BY BRIAN CRUMB

Great Chowan Water Fight of 1991

By Marty Grebing

It started out as a night like any other, but ended in pandemonium. The night was warm and stress was high—something had to be done.

A swarm of people from West Hall and Jenkins got together for what could possibly have been the ultimate tension breaker: an all-out, no holes barred, high intensity water fight. This was no ordinary water fight, by any means. Within 45 minutes, over 3 dozen eggs, 50 gallons of water, and 300 water balloons were exhausted.

Both sides fought relentlessly until their munitions were depleted, but it didn't stop there. After the balloons busted and the water spilled, Squirrel Park (Campus Green) looked more like Squirrel Lake.

The scene was set for a mud wrestling match.

Everyone found a brawling partner and locked horns. The mud splattered and the bodies flew. Just by himself, Rodney Tyler must have body-slammed Ann Taylor at least 5 times. It was a sight to see!

After the mud settled and a casualty report was taken, it was clear that West had a decisive victory. Better luck next time, Jenkins.

Here are many of the participants in the Great Chowan Water Fight of 1991. My apologies to those who are not mentioned:

Dan Lindsey, Sue Lattimer, Mike McKim, Todd Dollar, Ann Taylor, Dan Schultz, Ron Leonard, Gena Hughes, Carolann Drake, Rodney Tyler, Debbie Meeks, Marty Grebing, Wendy Yarborough, Krystyn Waldron, Tina Dawson, and Charlie Caldwell.

PHOTO BY ENID JENKINS

PHOTO BY BRIAN CRUMB

Women's football league?

Jenkins came and conquered

During this year's Springfest, the two women's dorms, Belk and Jenkins participated in a "friendly" game of powder puff football. This was by far the biggest event of the week. After two halves of play and a few controversial plays, Jenkins took control. Nicole Derkacz led Jenkins with two touchdowns, while Vanessa Bello and Amy Wojtkowski added to the score with one touchdown each. The final score, Jenkins 28, Belk 0. Watch out Jenkins, Belk wants a rematch!

P.S. Coach Meeks, you can rent a canoe anytime!
PHOTO BY BRIAN CRUMB

Isn't this sweeter?
PHOTO BY BRIAN CRUMB

Isn't this sweeter?
PHOTO BY BRIAN CRUMB

That wasn't so funny, Sean!
PHOTO BY BRIAN CRUMB