

October 21, 2004

small TALK

Methodist College Newspaper

www.smalltalkmc.com

Fayetteville, NC

Established 1961

Volume 44, Issue 4

Alcohol Awareness Week kicks off

HANNAH HAMER
Photo Editor

Methodist College students don't drink as much as one might think.

According to the National Institute of Alcohol Abuse and Alcoholism, a recent survey showed that more than 44,000 college students drink little to no alcohol weekly.

Why do students assume drinking is so popular? Traditionally, college is pictured on movie screens as a four-year party. Everyone is beautiful and alcohol doesn't ruin scholastic, athletic or social lives.

This is a myth, alcohol can be a matter of life and death. When drinking becomes an everyday occurrence it can be like playing Russian roulette.

College campuses nationwide are trying to bust this myth during National Collegiate Alcohol Awareness Week. Many college students are unaware of the negative effects alcohol can have on their school and social lives, or how many times they risk their life when they engage in drinking activities.

Photo by Will Montoya

One of Methodist College's Area Coordinator, Chrissy Nelson, is heading up our National Alcohol

Awareness Week. She plans on pass-

cont. on page 3 See ALCOHOL

19th Hole makes campus debut

WILL MONTOYA
Staff Writer

The 19th Hole celebrated its Re-grand opening with music and giveaways last Thursday.

Whether you go after 18 holes of golf or after a long day of classes or practice, the 19th Hole at Methodist College is not just for golfers, but a place to go for your late night food cravings. The 19th Hole also offers a late night scene where students can come to socialize and eat wings or pizza. No cash is required; students' cards or Monarch Dollars are accepted.

The 19th Hole is located at Chris's House and is open Thursday through Saturday nights from 9 to 11 p.m. Saturday night is "date night," with free popcorn and a movie; however, no date is required. There are plans to hold card tournaments and showcase performers at the 19th

Photo by Will Montoya

cont. on page 4 See 19TH HOLE

Homecoming Calendar

Friday Oct. 22nd

6:30 p.m.

Athletic Hall of Fame Banquet
Riddle Center

Saturday Oct. 23rd

9:00 a.m.

Education Department Breakfast
Alumni Dining Room

10:00 a.m.

Car Show & Moonwalk
Behind Clark Hall

11:30 a.m.

Tailgate Lunch on the Mall

1:30 p.m.

Voices of the Heart: Silent Auction, Awards Ceremony

9:00 p.m.

Homecoming Dance

Holiday Inn Bordeaux