

The Wesleyan Decree

VOL. 3, NO. 5

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C., NOVEMBER 21, 1962

BI WEEKLY—$2.00 YEARLY

SCENE FROM PLAY

Comedy Slated December 7, 8

On Dec. 7 and 8, the Wesleyan Players will present the French comedy, Tartuffe, by Moliere. The production will be done in the arena style, with spectators seated on all sides of the play. The Student Union chapel area will be adapted for this purpose.

Removed From Stage

The play itself is a hilarious treatment of religious hypocrisy, set in the period of Louis XIV. When first performed, it brought about such a howl of protest that it had to be removed from the stage for five years.

Since the time of its return, Tartuffe has remained as one of Moliere's greatest plays. Certainly, it has been one of his most controversial.

The Wesleyan Players' production features Royal Brown as the hypocrite Tartuffe and Larry Gupton as his befuddled victim Orgon.

The cast also includes Jeff Griffin as Cleante, Joan Bass as Madame Pernelle, Daisey Thorpe as Elmire, Wanda Exum as Dorine, Dorcas Moore as Mariane, Randy King as Valere, and David Caison as Damis.

Rounding out the cast will be John Eilers as Monsieur Loyal, Mary C. Hodgin as Flipote, and WCEC's Ray Wilkinsen as an officer of Louis XIV.

Tickets will go on public sale Nov. 27. Students may pick up their tickets for one dollar at the Bookshop starting on that date. All seats will be general admission.

Prof Likes Wesleyan

Herta Wollscheiber, assistant professor of physics, came from Graz, Austria. Miss Wollscheiber majored in physics at the University of Graz. She secured a scholarship through the Methodist Church in Vienna to go to Duke, where she earned a Master's Degree in Religious Education.

While she was at Duke, Miss Wollscheiber met Dr. Collins and later in Austria she renewed her friendship with him when he led a Youth Caravan there. He persuaded her to renew her studies in physics and to join the faculty of Wesleyan as a physics professor.

Although she was serving as a Director of Christian Education at the Methodist Church in Vienna, she decided that by becoming a teacher she could combine her two desires of working.

She returned to the University of Graz to pursue her course work on her Ph.D and at present she is working on her dissertation which is concerned with a study of the Ionosphere.

At present Miss Wollscheiber

is residing in the Women's Dorm. She thinks the students in her classroom have been very understanding about her newness to this country and her long disuse of English. In fact she claims "everyone is so nice and helpful that I really do enjoy being here, and the college is really lovely."

UNC President Will Be Speaker At Awards Convocation Next May

Dr. William Friday, President of the University of North Carolina, has accepted the invitation to be the featured speaker for Honor Awards Convocation Tuesday, May 21, 1963.

The Convocation will be the highlight of the academic activities of the year, taking the place of Commencement Exercises until the graduating class of 1964 is formally graduated.

Dr. Friday is president of the Consolidated University, having general responsibility for the three constituent colleges, the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, North Carolina State College at Raleigh, and Woman's College at Greensboro. He was graduated from State College with a B.S. degree in 1941, earned the LL.B. degree from the University of North Carolina in 1948, and had been awarded honorary LL.D. degrees by Wake Forest College, Duke University, Princeton University, and Elon College.

At the Honors Convocation, at least five outstanding students will be recognized. Any student, from freshman to junior, is eligible to participate in these competitions.

Last year Mrs. Gayle Felton was winner of the Outstanding Achievement Award and the John Paul Jones History award.

R. Vann Massey was the recipient of the Men's Leadership-Service Award and Miss Susan Black received the Women's Leadership-Service Award. Ed Schultz was awarded the trophy as the Athlete of the Year. Etta Brown Spivey earned the President's Citation for Freshman English Composition.

A large assembly was present as an engraved trophy and a cash award was presented to each. Between now and May candidates will compete for these awards again on the basis of English compositions, history term papers, athletic competition excellence in their total program, and by their outstanding participation in leadership in the student life program.

A baseball game will be played in the afternoon and the spring concert of the Wesleyan Singers will complete the day's activities. Many parents visit the campus for this climax to the academic year.

Judicial Bill Gets Senate Approval

The Senate, on Monday, Nov. 19, passed a much debated part of the Judicial Expansion Bill. The bill, presented by Vann Massey, was to "give some concrete structure for the Student Life Association." He pointed out that the bill was much like a paper released by the Student Life Association last year, but that certain changes had been made.

The bill that passed, 8 to 2, is as follows:

I move the adoption of the following as the basic structure of the Judicial Branch of the Student Government Association of North Carolina Wesleyan College:

A. Major infractions of dorm rules, college infractions, and violations of the Wesleyan Code shall be under the jurisdiction of the Student Life Association.

B. Minor infractions or dorm and campus rules defined by the Campus Code in the Student Handbook shall be under the jurisdiction of the Dorm and Day Councils.

STUDENT LIFE ASSOCIATION: Shall be made up of the presidents of the Women's, Men's, and Day Student's Councils, Director of Student Life and a duly elected Chairman.

The authorized procedures shall be as follows:

1. The Student Life Association may determine penalty; among such penalties may be the following:

- a. Campus for .....
- b. Social probation for .....
- (Social probation is not necessarily restrictive of activity, but means simply that one more offense would incur automatic expulsion. This penalty would be filed by the SLA, but would not be added to the student's permanent record.)
- c. Resignation from office.
- d. Fine in the amount of $ .....
- e. Suspension for .....
- (Fine may be paid or worked out in college work.)
- f. Expulsion.

2. Each case may be referred to the Administration by the Director of Student Life for review.

3. The decisions of the SLA may be appealed to the Administration through the office of the Director of Student Life.

4. For major infractions (involving civil or criminal law) the Administration may act and/or Director of Student Life may present formal case.

WOMEN'S DORM COUNCIL: Made up of nine girls in the dorm who keep order in the dorm and enforce the Campus Code. Along with the Resident Counselor they handle all problems in the dorm that relate to the Campus Code for Women. They may "campus" students or set other punishments on girls that are guilty of offenses against the Campus Code. If a woman continues to break rules, she may be sent to the Student Life Association if she feels she is not being treated fairly in the Dorm Council.

College Book Store Planning Expansion

Needless to say, college students read texts, exams, newspapers; but, do they read (excluding required material) the better literature?

To see to it that we have good books available, the book store has adopted an expansion program. There are now paperback editions ranging from Jazz (Andre Francis) to Rembrandt and Hemingway. Almost anything the "browser" could want, the display includes self-help books (like Greek made easy) and eventually best sellers, school book jackets, and "requested" literature.

We all want to improve ourselves and reading is one good way to improve our word and thought power.

So if you go into the bookstore, look around, ask for what you want—a little Tolstoy or Flaubert, perhaps?

You would be surprised how much a little extra "learning" can mean to you, as a student and as an individual.
