

The SGA

By Jim McKinley

The question of whether the Student Government Association has been fully accepted by the student body, was answered by Robert "Doc" Stephens, President of the S. G. A. Doc stated that the student's respect for the S. G. A. was the expected reaction. The Freshmen have received the idea with high enthusiasm.

Several of the students are already interested in working for the Senate. The Senate is organized to pass the legislation that has been established by the students.

Doc Stephens stated that, "When we take student judiciary matters into our own hands, it is a measure of the validity of the entire student government that we can make a more sound student government with the respect it should have."

The members of the Executive Council are:

- President--Robert Stephens
- Vice President--Guy Turner
- Secretary--Sara Oliver
- Treasurer--Albert Rexroad

The present members of the senate are:

Circle K Orientates Prospective Members

The Circle K Club of North Carolina Wesleyan College held its annual "open meeting" for all prospective members on October 7, 1964. The interest shown in the organization was very good, with some 15 to 20 men each expressing a desire to become a member. Applications for membership will be reviewed and voted on by members of the club in the near future, and new members notified.

After a short business session led by President Steve Peilitz, the program was presented by Al Stallings, Chairman of the Education Committee. The program was entitled "What is Circle K". Involved in the discussion of the topic were requirements for membership, procedure for joining, and future plans of the club. Circle K was defined as a service organization for college men of good moral character and high scholastic achievement.

Billy Norton, Chairman of the Public Relations Committee, listed for the club the accomplishments of the last school year. The two major projects were the erection of a flagpole in front of the Administration Building and the support of the Carolinas District at the Annual Convention in South Carolina. Circle K wishes to take this opportunity to publicly thank Dr. Seidel for donating the flagpole. It was a gift to the school through Circle K. The club paid for the dismantling of the pole and for the transportation of the pole to Rocky Mount from Greensboro. Through the efforts of the membership the pole was completely refinished and turned over to North Carolina Wesleyan College.

After discussing this year's projects and plans, the next being a Car Wash on the 17th of October, the meeting was adjourned.

TO ESCAPE FROM CUBA

Article No. 2
By Jose Perez

In 1961, there started to function in Cuba what is called "La Cortina de bagazo." This is similar to the iron curtain which has been established in all the Communist countries. The name is derived from the primary item of Cuban economy--Sugar. Bagazo is a waste product of sugar cane, and the word has come to have the connotative meaning of "good for nothing." This connotation of "good for nothing" is applicable to Castro's policy of trying to keep people from leaving Cuba. He warned the people that they would lose their property if they did not return within a period of 29 days. Many people who did not care about material properties decided to remain poor, but free. At that time, Pan-American and K. L. M. Air Lines had flights connecting Havana with Miami; although passengers had to have permission of the G-2 (Castro's Espionage System) to take the plane. Passengers expected to be at the airport four or five hours early. During this time they were insulted and requested to stay in a very small room without air conditioning. This was known as the "fish-bowl". As the people left, they were called "worms", a name given to people who opposed Castro.

Why did Castro continue to allow people to leave Cuba by plane? Mainly because it was part of his policy. As Castro said, "Those who are not living for the 'welfare' of the country can get out of here." Some of the population ignored the situation which was forming around them. When some finally faced the situation, it was too late: Air planes would no longer take off from Cuba carrying passengers to lands of freedom. This, however, did not totally stop the emigration from Cuba. By the Bay of Pigs' Agreement, the United States would send ships full of medicine to Cuba as ransom for prisoners of war. These ships came back to free soil full of refugees. However, the majority of people are still trying to free themselves from the bonds of Communism.

JIM GARRISS NAMED HEAD OF CITIZENS FOR JOHNSON

James Garriss, President of the Young Democratic Club on our campus, has recently been honored at the YDC convention held in Raleigh. There he was selected to assume the duties of an Executive Director of the Young Citizens for Johnson Organization. In this position he will be coordinating the efforts of all young Democrats with Washington in respect to the colleges in our area where he will set up programs aimed toward President Johnson's re-election. Jim has taken on a large responsibility and we, the Wesleyan Community, should be proud that one of our students has been so highly honored.
