

More News On The Jazz Festival

Collegiate bands, combos and vocal groups have only a few weeks to enter the Intercollegiate Jazz Festival's 1968 competition.

Entries for the Festival's six regional competitions are currently being accepted. Regional contests are the Mobile, Villanova, Cerritos College, Midwest College, Intermountain and Little Rock Jazz Festivals.

Bands will be trying to take the national championship away from the Ohio State University Jazz Workshop Band, a 21-piece outfit that took the 1967 honors.

San Francisco State College is the defending champion in the combo division, while Joe DeVito of Rider College took vocal honors in 1967. The individual vocalist category has been replaced by one for vocal groups.

Winners of regional competitions fly to Miami Beach on May 9-11 to battle for the national championships.

The Festival, sponsored by Trans World Airlines and the Sero Shirt Company, is open to all students at the nation's colleges and universities.

Entries may be secured by writing the Intercollegiate Jazz Festival, Hotel Algiers, P. O. Box 246, Miami Beach, Florida.

Perhaps One Day At Wesleyan . . . ?

--Colorado Springs, Colo.-(L.P.)--A four-year Adviser Plan program is being offered to a limited number of entering freshmen this fall by Colorado College.

Up to 50 entering freshmen will spend four years without necessarily meeting all standard course requirements except the 128-academic hour requirement for graduation. In place of standard requirements, students will have to satisfy advisers as to their programs. They will not necessarily major in a subject or even concentrate in a single area, although both of these opportunities will be available.

The Adviser Plan will supplement other special programs at Colorado College, such as the Ford Independent Studies Program. Each faculty adviser will supervise about five students.

Dr. Worner said the Adviser Plan can benefit the student who is prepared for greater specialization than the regular student, and also could serve the student who wants a broad education but does not need the standard format of required courses.

"A student in the Adviser Plan will take courses in the ordinary manner," he said. "He will be responsible for all requirements within a given course and will receive a regular grade at the end of a semester. He will take a standard course load and graduate with 128 hours. The exact courses he takes will depend entirely on careful planning between the student and his adviser.

"At the end of his sophomore year, the student will be expected to prepare a written statement of his course plans for his junior and senior years, including any plans for a concentration or major in a particular field.

"The proposal will be reviewed by a panel of advisers participating in the plan. If a student does not declare a formal major, the student will be given a general comprehensive examination at the end of his senior year. Students will be required to take and pass the area tests in the Graduate Record Examination like other students."
