

Amco News

Published by and for the employees of ADAMS-MILLIS CORPORATION in High Point, Kernersville, and Tryon, North Carolina. Produced in the Duplicating Department of ADAMS-MILLIS CORPORATION.

Plant No. 1 - Helen Mason, Lela Russell, Donna Horton, Millie Moore, Ernestine Noble, Katie Saunders, and Virginia Wood.

Plant No. 2 - Mary Farlow, Ethel Fitts, Margye Martin, and Viola Owens.

Plant No. 3 - Mary Ellen Florence.

Plant No. 4 - Ruth Hayes, C. W. Browning, Jean Iris Smith, and Vallender Marshall.

Plant No. 7 - Etta Sherwood, Margaret Fulp, Nannie Smith, Viola Jones, Marjorie Chilton, Blanche Jackson, Paige Kennerly, Doris Williams, and Louise Tuttle.

Plant No. 8 - Mildred Rippy, and Edna Arledge.

Machine Shop - E. Verne Snotherly.

Office - Lois Jones, and Lola Grayson.

Artist - Wanda Gurley (Plant 7).

Composer - Charles Deviney, Jr.

THERE'S ONLY ONE GOAL

No matter what our job, our big job is to please our customers.

So very often, some of us feel that our particular job isn't too important -- we don't see how it fits into the entire scheme of things in the business. And so we feel that what we do just does not count for much.

On the other hand, let's never overlook the important fact that whatever our job -- however indirectly it may do so -- every job is designed to serve one big purpose -- to bring about the kind of work, the kind of quality, the kind of service that will satisfy our boss -- Mr. Customer.

The fellow who sweeps the floor may not feel that he's doing anything important -- particularly important so far as pleasing our customers is concerned. Yet, if we don't maintain a neat work place, we can't turn out the kind of job that will meet with Mr. Customer's 100% approval.

So, no matter what our job -- we repeat -- let's do it to the best of our ability -- because every job fits into the big job of pleasing our customers -- the folks who keep us in business.

VOL. 8

NO. 5

SEPTEMBER - OCTOBER, 1951

OUR COVER

Mrs. Annie Lou Davis, looper, No. 1, is being given a blood transfusion at the High Point Memorial Hospital. Administering the blood are Misses Betty Parker, technician, and Martha Snyder, nurse. More about your Blood Program on Page 8.