

Amco News

Published by and for the employees of ADAMS-MILLIS CORPORATION in High Point, Kernersville, and Tryon, North Carolina. Produced in the Duplicating Department of ADAMS-MILLIS CORPORATION.

Plant No. 1 - Helen Mason, Lela Russell, Mary Maske, Rochelle McArthur, Katie Saunders, and Virginia Wood.

Plant No. 2 - Ethel Fitts, Ethel Carden, Margye Martin, Margaret Russell, and Jessie Phillips.

Plant No. 4 - Minnie C. Nelson, Jean Iris Smith, Ruth Hayes, and C. W. Browning.

Plant No. 7 - Etta S. Kapp, Marjorie Chilton, Margaret Fulp, Blanche Jackson, Viola Jones, Eva Jones, Nannie Smith, and Louise Tuttle.

Plant No. 8 - Ann Fisher, and Sybil Po-teat.

Machine Shop - E. Verne Sotherly.

Office - Fay Cheek and Frances Smith.

Composing Staff - Chas. Deviney, Jr., Addline Hill, and Ruth Ellington.

VOL. XIII July-August, 1956 NO. 6

OUR COVER

Our cover features five employees who have retired recently. The combined employment of these employees totals 107 years. Articles about their service with Adams-Millis Corporation are found on pages 4 and 5.

Our "Sandy Says" column for this month was written by Darrell Craven, Boarding Department Employee of Plant #1.

Speaking of champions. . . .

All of us like and admire a champion. Being a champion is not a simple matter. A champion knows that he makes mistakes, but he always listens to his supervisor in a friendly, courteous and disciplined way and works harder to correct his mistakes in order to become and remain a champion. He knows that he must go forward to stay on top.

All of us working at Adams-Millis Corporation can be champions in the eye of our fellow worker by doing our best to make his work easier, instead of taking the "I don't care, let the other fellow worry about it" attitude. A champion does not think this way. He does his best on the job and helps his fellow worker to do his best. With this kind of team work, there is no hardship worked on any member of the team.

We all know our business has not been up to par the past few months. There is a reason for it. Take a look at yourself and see if you have failed to be a champion. If so, do something about it!

(Continued on page 19)