

Happy Holidays

Seasons Greetings

We hope everyone has a Merry Christmas,
And of course, A Happy New Year,
We wish you success and nothing less
And hope '88's full of cheer.

This greeting comes from everyone who makes up Customer Service.
There's not very many - oh about 20
Each one with an ideal purpose.

There's Ava, Ruby, JoAnn & Betty, Melody, Koweta, Melinda & Lu, Shelia C., Sharon, Terry & Sandra, Shelia L. & Margaret too.
And there's Carol -- our boss, Gail -- her assistant,
They make sure we're persistent.

And last but not least -- the Customer Service mascot,
Who else would that be but Thurman.
We all work together and help each other out.
TEAM WORK! That's what it's all about.

Sharing, caring and doing our best,
To keep Adams-Millis above the rest.

Happy Holidays
From Adams-Millis Customer Service
-- Sandra Greene

Church bells chime.
It's Christmas time,
And families gather together.
The beauty of lights,
Snow sledding at night,
And the cold wintery weather.
Cuddle up with your beau,
'Neath the mistletoe,
Christmas turkey and fruitcake, too.
But more important is to say
On this loving holiday,
Merry Christmas to all of you

—Tiffany Earnhardt

The wind whisks gently through the trees,
And a blanket of snow covers each limb.
The night is cool and brisk,
A star shines brightly over Bethlehem.
A baby's coo fills the air,
The heavens are alive with song.
The people who know of Him rejoice,
He has come to correct the wrong.
The stable animals watch with kind affection.
A donkey softly brays,
For everyone knows the good Lord Jesus
Was born for us on this day.

Nine Get CPR Certification At Plant 2

Nine employees at Plant 2 in Mount Airy received certification in a Basic Life Support Course in Cardiopulmonary Resuscitation in October.

Judy York, a computer operator at Plant 2, was the instructor for the three-day course.

Participants included Larry Hopkins, Don Goad, Craig Dickens, Lydia Shelton, Judy Tolbert, Judy Simmons, Carl Whitaker, Emma Jessup and Frances Hatcher.

Clark

"Through those triumphs and tragedies Dot Clark has helped Adams-Millis to persevere. She has helped to make Adams-Millis what it is — a fine family of folks who make the best hosiery products available today," Millis continued.

He praised her loyalty and dedication calling her a "team player" who did whatever she was called upon to do during her 50 years with

Adams-Millis. Clark has worked in several areas including folding, shipping, box stock, labeling and packing.

As Millis spoke, a selection of 1930s music played in the background. Following his remarks, Millis presented Clark a necklace with the Adams-Millis logo set with three diamonds and a 50-year service certificate.

Commenting to the group, Clark noting her lengthy tenure said, "I've seen them come and I've seen them go but I'm still hanging on."

Clark said she has no plans to retire and is looking toward another celebration on her 60th anniversary with the company.

As long as I feel good, why not work?" Clark said. "I just take life as it comes."

Clark, a Wake County native, has lived most of her life in Kernersville.

To honor Clark's 50 years, she was given several gifts. Workers in her department presented her a blanket and special night gown and hat fashioned by Maxine Perdue, a fellow employee, from many sizes and colors of Adams-Millis hosiery products.

She also received a special colorful decorative arrangement made of Adams-Millis socks.

Plant Manager Larry Strader read several congratulatory letters to Clark from Gov. Jim Martin, Senators Terry Sanford and Jesse Helms and U.S. Representatives Steve Neal and Howard Coble.

Following Clark's remarks she noted that Millis celebrated 40 years of service with the company this year and presented him a rose.

During the occasion, Ann Hoover, Folding Department Supervisor, received her 40-year service pin.
