Delta Sigma Theta By Shirley R. Williams

The members of Alpha Lambda Chapter, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority recently selected their representative to the Delta National Convention which will be held in Detroit, Michigan. Miss Valeria Powe, president of the local chapter was selected to make the trip during the Christmas vacation.

Mrs. Virgie Washington and Mrs. Alma Wade were chosen by the members of Alpha Lambda Chapter to advise them during the current school year. Mrs. Washington, an alumna of Hampton Institute, is head of the college dance department. Mrs. Wade resides in Durham and is the former president of Alpha Kappa Sigma Chapter of Delta Sigma Theta.

Delta sorors were the guests of the Omegas at a pre-Thanksgiving banquet and dance. All of the sorors who attended the affair had an enjoyable and full evening.

Alpha Kappa Alpha By Sigredda Richardson

On November 16, 1956, the Alpha Chi chapter of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority sponsored "Harlem Nocturne," a variety show in which various well-known campus entertainers appeared. Among those appearing on the program were Charles Joyner, Marshall Redding, the Twilighters, Barbara McLendon, and the AKA chorus. Last on the program was "golden-voiced" William Grimsley, who thrilled the audience with his rendition, in the "Hamilton manner", of "Hurt" and "Ebb Tide".

During the intermission, a prize of one dollar was presented to each of the four people sitting in selected jack-pot seats.

Alpha Chi welcomes eight neophyte sorors—Anetta Benton, Durham; Carrie Fair, Asheville; Geraldine Tillery, Williamston; Dorothy Smith, Rocky Mount; Hilda Harris, Warren-ton; Claristine Turner, Burlington; Betty Cooper, Raleigh; and Marlene Enoch, Burlington. The "Socrates" of the AKA probation was Miss Carrie Fair, a political science major. Carrie boasts a cumulative average of 2.6.

Alpha Chi is also proud to welcome Miss Barbara L. Crockett, a junior from Raleigh. Miss Crockett is a transfer student from Fisk University where she was a member of the Pi chapter of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Probation week ended with a joint banquet in honor of the AKA and Alpha neophytes. The banquet was sponsored jointly by Gamma Beta chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity and Alpha Chi chapter of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority.

Alpha Phi Alpha By William Nelson

Two weeks ago, the probation period for the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity took on a new trend, for the campus chapter of A. Phi A. changed its traditional probation period from the usual "Hell Week" to "Help Week." The president of the Gamma Beta chapter, LeVonne Chambers, along with a committee composed of Walter Brown, Samuel Chess, David Morgan, Wendell Neal and William Nelson, completely revamped the "Hell Week" probation activities, bringing in the "Help Week" idea.

This new probation period included writing letters for the sick at Lincoln Hospital and performing menial tasks for needy families and churches.

The members of the Gamma Beta chapter believe that fraternity activities and ideas must be in keeping with the modern trend toward practical probation week activities. Many of the fraternal organizations in some of the larger colleges and universities have also changed their probation period from "Hell Week" to "Help Week." The local Alphas are first in instituting this much needed constructive program at North Carolina College.

Kappa Alpha Psi By Grady Bell

The Alpha Kappa Chapter of Kappa Alpha Psi presented the first Jazz concert of the year in B. N. Duke auditorium on Friday, November 30. This concert featured such stars as the Kool Kollegians, the Kolleginaires, Barbara Scott McLinden, and the Songsational William Grimsley. The second of the Kappa Alpha Psi Jazz

In the friendly atmosphere abounding at NCC, large numbers of students from the same cities and/or high schools often come together for informal "bull sessions." Typical is the group, above, of Winston-Salem natives who gathered recently in the CAMPUS ECHO office to look over the latest edition of the Atkins High School "MAROON WAVE," and the Carver High concert series will be presented early next year.

The Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity would like to express its gratitude and appreciation to all the fellows who attended the smoker at the Algonquin club house recently.

The Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity has made preparation for the distribution of funds to a few needy families for the Yuletide Season.

The Fraternity extends the season's greetings to the entire faculty and student body and sincerely hopes that the spirit of Christmas will dwell in your hearts.

Pi Gamma Mu By Shirley James

The program for the year outlined at a recent meeting of the Alpha Delta Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu, National Social Science Honor Society, calls for close cooperation with the Social Science Club. The program includes such activities as debates, field trips, presentation of papers, and the initiation of new members.

The Social Science Club has agreed to cooperate in sponsoring debates on campus this year.

The officers of the Alpha Delta Chapter of Pi Gamma Mu are: Andress Taylor, president;

Carrie Lane, Vice-President; Rubin Weston, Secretary-treasurer; and Shirley T. James, Reporter.

Around The City With Bets...

By BETSY PAGE

All of a sudden, it's dark before the afternoon is half over, there's a festive nip in the air, and the parcels people are carrying all gift-wrapped-evidence that Christmas will be here before you know it. If you're all like me, you'll agree with me when I say the stretch between the two holidays is the most exasperating time of year. You haven't quite recovered from the Thanksgiving holiday and you're trying to decide what approach to use on the folks at home Christmas;

The basketball season descends upon you in full force and yet football championships haven't been fully decided; you haven't caught up with the assignments that you should have done Thanksgiving, but you're going to get that notebook in before you go home for Christmas. Then there are concerts, plays, talent shows and a thousand and one other social functions that the "well-rounded collegian" must attend. There are only twenty-four hours in a day.

Suddenly you find it almost impossible to cram all of it in and that familiar old phrase "wait 'til next year" comes to mind. Well, if you're a senior, you're coming in on the home stretch and the phrase doesn't quite work. So what's the solution? I hadn't figured it out
