

Intercom

duke university medical center

VOLUME 19, NUMBER 32

August 18, 1972

DURHAM, NORTH CAROLINA

8 New Promotions Announced

Eight faculty members have been promoted to full professors. They are Drs. Richard O. Burns, Richard S. Metzgar, Suydam Osterhout, Eva J. Salber, Donald Silver, Edward Everett Anderson, John A. Goree and Herman Grossman.

Dr. Burns was promoted to professor of microbiology. He received his B.S. degree in 1955 at St. Michael's College, Winooski, Vt., a master's in 1958 from St. Bonaventure University in Olean, N.Y., and a Ph.D. in 1962 at the University of Illinois. He came to Duke in 1964.

Dr. Metzgar, who was promoted to professor of immunology, obtained his B.S. degree in 1951 at the University of Florida and his M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Buffalo. He has been at Duke since 1962. Since 1965 he also has been a part-time staff member of Emory University's Yerkes Regional Primate Research Center in Atlanta.

Dr. Osterhout, who is associate director for admissions in the School of Medicine, was named professor of microbiology. He received his B.A. degree from Princeton, his M.D. from Duke and a Ph.D. from the Rockefeller Institute.

Dr. Salber, of Cape Town, South Africa, was named professor of community health sciences. She received M.D., Ch.B., D. P. H. and M.D. degrees at the University of Cape Town. She joined Duke in 1971 after holding several positions at Harvard University.

Dr. Silver, a 1955 graduate of the Duke medical school, joined the faculty in 1964 and has been promoted to professor of surgery. He also earned his undergraduate degree at Duke. He is director of Duke's Surgical Vascular Clinic.

Dr. Anderson, promoted to professor of urology, earned his M.D. at Duke in 1958. He is consulting urologist at Watts Hospital in Durham and the Oteen VA Hospital and is attending urologist at the Durham VA Hospital.

Dr. Goree, promoted to professor of radiology, earned his A.B. at Stanford, his M.S. at the University of Southern California and an M.D. at Duke. He joined the Duke faculty in 1959, and he

(continued on page 3)

RECEIVES GRANT—The Durham County Chapter of the National Foundation March of Dimes awarded a $6,000 grant to Dr. George W. Brumley, (pictured at far right), associate professor of Pediatrics and co-director, Division of Perinatal Medicine, for the care of infants with birth defects in the Intensive Care Nursery at Duke Hospital. The presentation was made by Bill Whichard, (left), chapter chairman, and Mickey Fogleman, (middle), Walk-A-Thon chairman.

Funds for the grant were raised by Durham County participants in a March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon, held in mid-May of this year. Over $6,000 was raised and in addition, over $4,000 was accumulated from mail-in pledges.

Part of the $6,000 grant that Dr. Brumley received will be used to purchase an Infant Care System which will serve to house critically ill babies in the Intensive Care Nursery and provide much needed standardized equipment.

At the presentation, Dr. Brumley and Whichard awarded plaques to the following persons who were responsible for the March of Dimes Walk-A-Thon, raising a total of $6,776.82: Mickey Fogleman; Frank Manson, WSSB Radio Station; W. W. Bowen, Jr., Bull City Citizens Band Club; Jim Brock, Burger King; and Captain Kevin J. Jorgenson, 17th Army Reserve.

Also on hand for the occasion was Jack McGee, central field representative for the March of Dimes in North Carolina. (photo by Bill Boyarsky)