

Controller, Associate Named

Two financial management officials have been appointed at the hospital.

The appointments were announced by Dr. Roscoe R. Robinson, associate vice president for health affairs and chief executive officer of the hospital.

William A. Summers has been named hospital controller and Robert L. Newton has been promoted to the new position of associate hospital controller.

Before coming to Duke, Summers was vice president for finance of the Merit Corporation, Memphis, Tenn., a company which operates hospitals and extended care facilities, as well as other businesses.

A certified public accountant, Summers holds BBA and MBA degrees from Memphis State University.

"We look forward to the expertise and the depth of management ability that Mr. Summers will be able to add to the hospital's management capabilities," Robinson said.

Summers will report jointly to Robinson and to J. Peyton Fuller, university assistant vice president and corporate controller.

He and his wife have two sons, ages 18 and 16, and a daughter, age 11.

Newton has been director of the hospital business office for the last five years. The Wyoming native holds a BS degree in business administration from the University of Wyoming.

He is secretary of the North Carolina chapter of the Hospital Financial Management Association, an organization in which he has held a number of posts.

ROBERT L. NEWTON

WILLIAM A. SUMMERS

DHN Information Team

(Continued from page 1)

The appointments were announced by Dr. R. R. Robinson, associate vice president for health affairs and chief executive officer of Duke Hospital.

Robinson said that two other people making up the central working group on the project are Wallace E. Jarboe, director of the Office of Logistics and Management for Duke North, with responsibility for the planning of the activation and operation of the new hospital, and Joe Sigler, the medical center's director of public relations.

Before heading the Office of Publications, Furlow was art director for seven years in the university editor's office. Some of the most visible art work has been for the Duke Athletic Department, including the current "a devil of a schedule" football promotion.

A native of Rochester, Minnesota, Furlow earned an A.B. degree in art at Carleton College in Northfield, Minn., in 1949 and later attended the American Academy of Art in Chicago.

For eight years he operated his own advertising agency and design studio in Nashville, Tenn., and he was editorial designer and illustrator for the Chicago Sun Times for several years prior to coming to Duke.

Roberts holds a B.A. degree from Wellesley College. She has had a wide range of experience as a copy writer and generalist in advertising and public relations for firms including Marshall Field and Co., Chicago and McCann-Erickson, in Chicago and London.

Her experience also includes a series of free lance projects for clients such as Scott, Foresman and The Kresge Foundation.

Roberts joined the Duke publications staff as a writer for the Epoch Campaign. Her husband, George, is an associate professor of philosophy at Duke.

Thomas Symposium

(Continued from page 1)

Duke faculty members who will present talks are Drs. Roy T. Parker, Bernard Fetter, Creasman, Lowell Miller, Kenneth McCarty Jr., Charles B. Hammond, Gale Hill, Frederick Jelovsek and Allen A. Addison.

The symposium and an educational fund which supports it were named in honor of Dr. Walter L. Thomas who served as professor of obstetrics and gynecology here from 1932 to 1970.

OMIT NEEDLESS WORDS

Professor William Strunk, Jr. notes that "a sentence should contain no unnecessary words, a paragraph no unnecessary sentences, for the same reason that a drawing should have no unnecessary lines and a machine no unnecessary parts."

The following phrases in italics are wordy; those in parentheses convey the same meaning briefly, accurately:

- * Due to the fact that (Because)
- * He is a person who (He)
- * It gives me great pleasure (I am pleased)
- * In the near future (Soon)
- * Feel free to ask us (Ask)
- * It is my considered opinion (I believe)
- * There is no doubt that (Doubtless)
- * Or in other words (Or)

But Not Forgotten

Recently the Employee Relations Office had an inquiry related to this year's Night Owl Club trip to White Lake. The trip had already taken place so the Employee Relations representative could only express regrets to the caller.

The Night Owl Club is interested in locating the caller, a mother who lost a child to sickle cell anemia and has another child with the trait.

If this mother recognizes herself in this description, please call Employee Relations, 684-6037, and leave your name and phone number. There is still the possibility the club can share an outing with you and your child.

Help for Teenagers

Teenagers for whom alcohol is a problem may find help in the High Image Program sponsored by the Durham County Alcoholism Treatment Clinic.

The program is open to both problem drinkers and children of alcoholic parents. Fees are based on what the client can afford.

For more information call Mrs. Marks at 682-1126.

VOLUNTEERS NEEDED

Individuals with fever blisters (cold sores) are needed for government sponsored research project. All that is required is some fluid from the blister and a small (one ounce) sample of blood. Volunteers will be paid. If interested, call 684-2129, 684-2165 or 684-2454.

Trading Post

FOR SALE—White French provincial twin-sized bedstead, no mattress, $25; 1959 Opel station wagon, make offer. Call 489-9685, after 5 p.m.

FOR SALE—Portable Kitchenaid dishwasher, white, excellent condition, $140; 80 pure vinyl tiles, 12" x 12", all for $25; black fireplace screen. Call Chapel Hill, 942-4232.

RIDE WANTED—Mon. or Tues. mornings for 10 weeks to Chapel Hill; will pay expenses. Call 286-4607.

FOR SALE—Desk with three side drawers and middle drawer, light maple, $25 or best offer. Call 383-5304, after 8 p.m. and weekends.

LOST—Blue-black vinyl zippered folder containing important papers; dropped between upper parking deck and third floor hospital during rain, Thursday, Sept. 8. If found, please contact Dr. Gale B. Hill.

FOR SALE—Ideal student car, 1970 Camaro sport coupe, attractive green, vinyl top and interior, 350 engine, three speed, very reasonable; 1975 Plymouth coupe, six, gas saver, looks, runs, drives like new, low mileage, new tires, all factory extras, excellent buy. Call 682-7802.

FOR SALE—Beautiful L.R. suite, oval rug, portable TV, dinette chairs, occasional chair, radio, lamps, Remington Rand add machine, plus other misc. items. Call 682-7802.

FOR SALE—CB radio and 102" bumper-mount whip antenna; PLL 23-channel with LED readout and public address; original cost, $140, sell for $95. Call 383-5040, after 6 p.m.

FREE—Two male gerbils, two connected cages, feeding tower and water bottle included. Call 682-2806, after 6 p.m. and weekends.

The Week on Campus

September 16-23, 1977

Event and Time	Place
RELIGIOUS (684-2572): Sun., 11 a.m. Worship service: Rev. Robert T. Young, university minister	Chapel
PERFORMING ARTS (684-4059): Fri. (9/16), 8:30 p.m. D.U.U. Performing Arts: "Toad the Mime" (Admission Charge)	Page
MUSIC (684-4059): Sat., 8:15 p.m. Faculty recital: Fred Raimi, cello, and Jane Hawkins, piano Sun., 7 p.m. Recital on the Benjamin N. Duke Memorial Organ: Seth Warner, chairman, Dept. of Mathematics Thurs., 8:15 p.m. N.C. Symphony Orchestra Society: Pops Concert (Admission Charge)	E. Duke Music Rm. Chapel Page
ATHLETICS (684-3213): Fri. (9/16), Women's golf: fall invitational Sat., 10:30 a.m. Women's field hockey vs. Durham Club Tues., 2 p.m. Women's tennis vs. N.C. State Tues., 6:30 p.m. Women's volleyball vs. UNC-G/Wake Forest Fri., (9/23), 3:30 p.m. Men's soccer vs. Pfeiffer
SPEAKER (684-4059): Tues., 8:15 p.m. D.U.U. major speaker: Frederic Storaska	Baldwin
FILMS: Fri. (9/16), 7, 9:30 and midnight, "Carnal Knowledge," Bio. Sci. Aud.; Sat. and Sun., 7 and 9:30 p.m., "The Sting," Page; Sat., 10:30 a.m., Children's Film Series: "Alice's Adventures in Wonderland," Bio. Sci. Aud.; Tues., 7 and 9:30 p.m., "Foreign Correspondent," Bio. Sci. Aud.; Thurs., 7 and 9:30 p.m., "Casablanca," Bio. Sci. Aud.; Fri. (9/23), 7, 9:30 and midnight, "Small Change," Bio. Sci. Aud.; Fri. (9/23), 8 p.m., "A Midsummer Night's Dream," Page. (Admission Charge) is published weekly for Duke University Medical Center employees, faculty, staff, students and friends by the medical center's Office of Public Relations, Joe Sigler, director; David Williamson, medical writer; William Erwin, Comprehensive Cancer Center medical writer; Miss Annie Kittrell, secretary.

Intercom

Editor

Mrs. Ina Fried

Public Relations Assistant
John Becton