

THE ELON COLLEGE WEEKLY.

Vol. II. New Series.

Greensboro, N. C., Friday, September 29, 1911
and Elon College, N. C.

No. 20

LOCALS AND PERSONALS.

Dr. J. O. Atkinson preached at the eleven o'clock service Sunday, and delivered an excellent sermon, which was enjoyed by a large congregation. After the sermon the Lord's Supper was administered in the usual solemn manner.

The Christian Endeavor Society Sunday evening was led by Mr. J. S. Truitt. The topic of the meeting was "Missions in Africa." This being an interesting as well as an educational subject was enjoyed by a large number of students.

Miss Vera Gay led the Y. W. C. A. Sunday afternoon. The subject was "Providential Care." The interest in this association is growing from Sunday to Sunday. This meeting was attended and taken part in by a larger number of girls than any meeting this year.

In the Psephelian Society Friday evening, those who deserve special mention were Miss Davidson, a piano solo; Miss Ethel DuRant, a "Good Story;" Miss Pearl Tuck, "College Cuts."

Uncle Wellons spent a few days in Franklin visiting friends. He returned Tuesday evening.

President W. A. Harper spent Sunday in Greensboro raising money for the Special Fund for the College. He returned Monday and reported a very successful day. Greensboro is to be praised in the highest terms for what she has done for the college.

Miss Ethel Coggins spent Sunday and Monday with her parents in Greensboro.

Mr. Jennigs Lincoln spent Sunday here visiting his college friends.

Misses Sudie McCauley and Frankie McNeill spent Saturday and Sunday near Altamahaw, visiting their friend, Miss Annie Rippey.

Miss Fannie Pasthel spent Sunday with her parents in Burlington.

At the regular business meeting of the church here Wednesday last, some matters of importance and interest were transacted. Among them Messrs. J. A. Diekey, J. A. Fogleman, Staley Wicker and John Watson were elected ushers for all church services in the chapel. This fills a long felt need as with us since all religious services of the church and college are held in the chapel where two-thirds of the seats are assigned to students who are expected to be in them. Now if a stranger were to unwittingly occupy one of these a misunderstanding might result. This move is an excellent one.

Prof. W. P. Lawrence, Prof. W. A. Harper and Mr. D. W. Brown were elected delegates to the conference at Bethlehem, N. C., which convenes the latter part of September.

Prof. W. P. Lawrence and Mr. R. C. Campbell are attending the Laymen's Missionary Convention at Asheboro, N. C. Prof. Lawrence is to address the Convention on Friday morning. Mr. Campbell assists with the music.

Mr. M. W. Pinnix, formerly of Kernersville, N. C., but who is at present interested in one of the leading drug stores of New Bern, N. C., spent a few hours with his sister, Miss Nina, on Wednesday.

Mr. Pinnix was formerly a student here and since leaving college has been fortunate enough to secure a helpmeet for the duties of life. We rejoice in our old friend's good fortune and extend to Mr. and Mrs. Pinnix our very sincere good wishes for long and happy lives.

The classes in English I and History II, have outgrown their recitation rooms. The same is true of the classes in Latin A and Math. B.

Prof. Amick filled the pulpit of Rev. Geo. L. Curry, pastor of the Methodist Protestant church at Graham, on last Sunday morning. Rev. J. F. Morgan filled the pulpit of the same church on Sunday evening. Both had attentive and appreciative congregations.

The dining hall at West Dormitory is pretty nearly filled to overflowing. Students speak of the excellent fare and the careful attention of the housekeeper.

Mr. R. C. Causey spent a few days at home recently. He had seed corn on the brain. He was the champion corn raiser in Guilford County last year. It is yet to be seen whether he will win the championship for this year.

We were much pleased to have a visit from Rev. J. S. Williams, pastor of the Methodist Protestant Church in Asheville, this past week. The services in the college chapel conducted by him were highly enjoyed. We trust he may pay us a visit often.

Mrs. Thomas C. Amick spent a week at home with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Ward, recently. She also attended the meeting at her home church while away. We were pleased to have her return to the hill on last Friday.

CLASS RECORD OF ELON COLLEGE SUNDAY SCHOOL FOR SEPT. 24.

Class No. 1. Dr. J. U. Newman, Teacher. Present, 22; 9 absent; collection, 50 cts.

Class No. 2. R. A. Campbell, Teacher. Present, 23; 6 absent; collection, 43 cts.

Class No. 3. Mr. A. L. Lincoln, Teacher. Present, 22; 9 absent; collection, 1.00

Class No. 4. Prof. N. F. Brannock, Teacher. Present, 20; 9 absent; collection, 26 cts.

Class No. 5. Prof. R. N. Doak, Teacher. Present, 12; 6 absent; collection, 13 cts.

Class No. 6. Mrs. Machen, Teacher. Present, 20; 4 absent; collection, 18 cts.

Class No. 7. Mrs. Foster, Teacher. Present, 23; 0 absent; collection, 11 cts.

Class No. 8. Miss Bryan, Teacher. Present, 16; 4 absent; collection, 11 cts.

Class No. Mrs. Saunders, Teacher. Present, 21; 0 absent; collection, 10 cts.

Class No. 10. Miss Clements, Teacher. Present, 14; 0 absent; collection, 8 cts.

Class No. 11. Mrs. McNally, Teacher. Present, 16; 0 absent; collection, 9 cts.

Class No. 12. Citizens' Bible Class. Present, 14; 0 absent; collection, 18 cts.

Total, 225 present; 38 absent; Col. $3.17. Officers and teachers present, 19; absent, 2 (Prof. Brannock and Prof. Amick) Substitutes, Mr. Williams and Dr. Atkinson.

CHANGES AT THE BANK.

The Elon Banking and Trust Company has recently changed cashiers. Mr. J. P. Somers who has acted in this capacity since the establishment of the institution has recently received an offer of and has accepted a position with the management of the Huffine Hotel in Greensboro, an offer which he could not afford to refuse. Mr. Somers will still retain connection with the Bank in some way, probably as a member of the Board of Directors, so his former protegee will not be wholly robbed of his services.

His successor, Mr. H. D. Lambeth, needs no introduction to the business men of the community as he has for the last several years been Southern Railway Agent at Elon College and was recognized by the company as well as the traveling public as one of the best, most businesslike, and at the same time most accommodating agents on the line. His experience with the books, business affairs and methods of the railway make him a thoroughly capable man for the position to which he has recently been called.

We regret to lose Mr. Somers for under his care, supported by a firm, but liberal president and board of directors, the Bank has grown from a mere creature of organization, scarcely two years ago to its present status and is according to statements from the recent examination, one of the strongest in the State in proportion to capital. While its capital stock may be, and in fact is, smaller than others in the county, yet it is equal to the best in point of safety and management. This enterprise has at its head strong, conservative, business-like men and under such constant supervision cannot go wrong. It invites the patronage of the banking men of the county, assuring prompt and efficient service together with courteous treatment.

To those in town woe would say, patronize a home institution, to those outside, look for a good, strong bank.

Mr. Lambeth's successor, Mr. C. A. Jacobs, comes highly recommended as Mr. Lambeth leaves. Mr. Jacobs was located at Alta Vista, Va., with the Virginian Railway, hence his duties here will be by no means strange. He has taken hold of his duties in the proper spirit and we believe he will fill the bill.

Mr. Henry Blount spoke in the College chapel Monday evening. A few were present to hear him. His subject was, according to announcement, his own excellent version of "Rip Van Winkle."

"On what grounds does your father object to me?" he asked.

"On any grounds within a mile of our house," she answered.—Buffalo Express.

ELON COLLEGE.

By C. B. Riddle.

Over in the County of Alamance
Lies a village which will you entrance;
On the Southern Railway built
Level as you please—not even a tilt.
This village is in a sunny elime,
A pleasant place there; health sublime,
Deep wells; water cool and pure,
Good folks to be with, to be sure.
There is a college at this place
That's to no nation a disgrace,
For she has sent out thence strong men
Our great country to defend.
Her sacred doors stand open wide
For all who will may there abide,
Learning lessons of peace and love
That'll glorify the Father above.
This institution pleads for a Christian home,
And teaches you lessons where'er you
roam,
The influence surely is not surpassed,
And the homelike feeling you soon will grasp.
Away back in years that now are past,
It was, to some, a bitter task
To build this hall of Christian learning,
But Lo! our people's hearts were yearning.
For a place their children to send,
A place to others they could commend;
Sole and hearty with devotion did nil,
Until the workmen laid the sill.
The hammer and saw were daily heard
Until at last the promoters were cheered;
Soon others joined the worthy cause,
Bye and bye it brought forth great applause.
But here I must stop and tell you the name
Of the place that's deserving of so much fame:
To the best of my belief and knowledge
They call this institution Elon College.

FREQUENT PHRASES.

Space is nothing if minds are in sympathy.—Weavers.

Many a man owes his success to an 80-cent alarm clock.—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Out with it boldly; truth loves open dealing.—Henry VIII.

Men who seek the downfall of others advertise their own littleness and are unfit for positions of trust.—Salesmanship.

All real leaders have something of fanaticism in their make-up.—System.

Back of the light there is a dynamo. Back of the dynamo there is Mind. Back of the mind there is Law.—John Wana-maker.

The American system of man-culture is like the florist who destroys a dozen buds in order that one specially large blossom may result.—Caxton.

"Men's business here is to know for the sake of living and not live for the sake of knowing."—Lee.

"How shall I a habit break?"

As you did a habit make;

As you gathered you must lose,

As you yielded now refuse."