LOCALS AND PERSONALS.

Misses Pitt and Barnes spent Wednesday in Greensboro shopping.

Miss Eula Long spent the week end at her home in Graham.

Misses Sallie Foster and Ethel Barrett spent Saturday and Sunday with Miss Nellie Fleming at her home in High Point, N. C.

Misses Beulah and Mary Foster, Sadie Fonville and Edith Walker were pleasant callers at West Dormitory Sunday afternoon.

Misses Lucile and Martha Page of Burlington spent Sunday with Miss Jennie Willis Atkinson and Hilby, their brother.

Mr. and Mrs. Fuller and their daughter Esther spent Monday in Greensboro shopping.

Mr. Flick of Greensboro visited Mr. R. A. Campbell Sunday.

Mr. M. B. Hill left his home in Ivor Sunday for a few days' visit.

Mrs. R. R. Auman of Steed, N. C., visited her sister, Myrtle Lawrence, for several days.

Miss Clara Harvey of Greensboro visited Miss Annie Bell Smith Saturday and Miss Smith welcomed Miss Annabelle Hyatt of Harrisburg, N. C., also.

Miss Crew of Graham was a pleasant caller at West Dormitory Sunday; also visited Miss Nannie Doyals Wilson.

"Mr. R. A. Campbell spent Monday afternoon in Burlington shopping—while there he lost fifteen cents in the drug store, for which he has extensively advertised and offered a handsome reward."

RECITAL.

Musical Program Given by Pupils of Miss Pitt.

The second spring recital of the music department, this one by those studying with Miss Pitt, occurred on Saturday evening, April nineteenth. Those appearing, acquitted themselves satisfactorily to their teacher and to the department head as well. The evening's program was another evidence of the efficiency of work in these courses.

To Miss Gertrude Mason belong first honors for the occasion, she having appeared as both pianist and soloist and done both well. The piano work, however, on this occasion seemed better than the vocal yet she possesses a voice of excellent timber and with continued study should do well. Miss Kathleen Brothers "In the Land Where Dreams Come True" seemed at ease and gave her number with a strength of voice that was noteworthy. Miss Hanchins appeared well with "The Soul's Garden."

Lack—Caprice Tarantelle, Piano Duet, Misses Mary D. Atkinson and Pitt.

Dennee—Sonatina, Piano, Miss Essie Mae Tidwell.

Lynes—Hark! The Robin's Early Song, Mezzo Soprano, Miss Gertrude Mason.

Sartorio—The Swallow's Message, Piano Duet, Misses McNally and Pitt.

Wolff—Festival Polonaise, Piano Trio, Misses M. D. Atkinson, Wicker and Huffman.

Bischoff—The Summer Wind, Soprano, Miss Vera Gay.

Meyer—Nothing Ventured, Nothing Gained, Piano Duet, Misses Beale and Metcalf.

Metcalf—In the Land where the Dreams Come True, Soprano, Miss Kathleen Brothers.

Morley—Napolitana, Piano Trio, Miss Tidwell, Haskins and Pitt.

Strickland—The Soul's Garden, Soprano, Miss Essie Mae Hanchins.

Parker—Polonaise Brillante, Piano, Miss Gertrude Mason.

On May thirteenth those studying with Miss Wilson who receive certificates will give their recital. The piano course will be represented by Misses Hattie Belle Smith, Beatrice Mason, Ethel Barrett, and Minnie Reidel. Biss Bagwell and Miss Fogleman who received like recognition in voice will be heard at this time also.

One week following this Mr. Orlando Barnes, Baritone and Miss Maibelle Pritchett who are candidates for diplomas in their respective classes will give an evening of song.

This will probably be the last time local enthusiasts will hear Mr. Barnes at least for a while as he expects to migrate to some other point to continue his studies under conservatory surroundings. Miss Pritchett will be remembered as the steady, consistent worker of several years' effort and will be heard on this occasion with pleasure.

PROF. BRANNOCK BUILDING.

Another addition to the east side of the village is to be a beautiful two story dwelling of Prof. Brannock. Mr. D. J. Fitch who superintended the construction of the gymnasium has the work in charge and if his achievements with other jobs here are a criterion we may expect something nice when the residence of the scientist is completed.

The building will be of wood and is to contain nine rooms filled with modern conveniences.

Once the wave of prosperity hits a town it is hard to stop it.

MR. CARL HERNDON HOME—SON OF DR. W. T. HERNDON SUFFERS FROM PARALYSIS.

The eleven twenty-eight train on Saturday, last brought to our town that which made the hearts of the many friends of Carl Herndon heavy when they saw him removed from the train in a cot and carefully taken to the home of his father, Dr. W. T. Herndon, on Front St. Mr. Herndon was formerly a student here but at present engaged in the practice of law at Zebulon, N. C., where he will be missed by all, and severely.

His was a busy life. Being lawyer, editor of the local paper and prominent community. Dr. Harper chose for his subject, "Present Tendencies in Modern Life," and our only regret is that we were not there to hear it. After greeting acquaintances and making the usual salutations the speaker returned to the college with only a few hours absence.

The entire college community joins Dr. and Mrs. Herndon with the young wife in sincerest sympathy during this period of depression which all trust is but temporary and are sending forth their warmest petitions and wishes for the brevity of same.

PHYSICAL AND CHEMICAL LABORATORIES.

The north end of the ground floor in the new gym building is rapidly being rounded into shape for laboratory service and bids fair to make a modern room of that type. The space is really divided into two rooms, one for physical and one for chemical purposes. Lockers, shelves, tables, drawers, apparatus stands and the like are being placed. While this will hardly be open for work any more this season it will insure the young and aspiring scientists of future years that they will have a place to work, modern in its arrangement and an equipment with which to work that is worth while.

The unprecedented growth of the scientific course as well as heavy increase of patronage have made these changes imperative.

MINOR IMPROVEMENTS.

Following out the modern system of municipal lighting, the college has decided to change its system of campus illumination. In the place of the old arc lights will appear incandescent bulbs of five hundred volts power and then at frequent intervals between these small ones of the two hundred caliber will appear.

This while lacking no more current will give much better satisfaction as the ones being suspended from the necessary bright had their light cut off and restricted to such a small surface by spring time foliage. The smaller lights can be swung lower and beneath the thickest of the trees.

The roofs of the two dormitories are receiving their biennial bath of paint and all gnats of the community are attending the convention given in honor of the occasion.

PRESIDENT HARPER AT LIBERTY DELIVERING ADDRESSES AT THE CLOSING OF SCHOOLS IN THAT TOWN.

President Harper after "duty hours" at the college boarded a machine and after a delightful spin across the country to Liberty, N. C., delivered an inspiring address to the graduating class, students, patrons and friends of the school of that

BIG SURPRISE.

The announcement, on last Sunday morning that rules would be cast aside for the brief period of one hour on the same afternoon, caused no little excitement among those fair ones who are fortunate or unfortunate enough to take such things to heart. Nevertheless many there were who did so nor have we heard any adverse or destructive criticism of the President's attitude in this respect. "Veria et autabilia semper femina." "Oui, monsieur."

BASEBALL.

TEAM ON THE ROAD DOING ONLY FAIR. On Friday evening our outfit of ball tossers and willow wielders left for their annual trip through Western North and South Carolina.

About the worst drubbing we have got yet was at Furman where the fellows were just too sleepy to play, having been up practically all the night before on account of bad train connections out of Belmont.

Poythress, the plucky little second sacker, did the flinging against Woffard and sent them under the yoke with the little end of a six-to-three score.

St. Mary's froze out at the end of the twelfth by a bare margin of one point. Malone was there in the latter contest so far as pitching was concerned, though he lost after so long a time. Looks as if the luck is against the youngster, as his games all seem to go the wrong way, but we will have to see things different from the present if we believe it to be his fault altogether.—Report from the field.

'Tis easy enough to be pleasant

To one who is in his prime:

It's profitable to be chummy

With one who's got coin all the time:

But the kind of a friend we all look for

And the one that's worth talking about

Is the one who stays close up beside you

When you're all in, down and out.

The merely great are, all in all,

No more than what the merely small

Esteem them.

Man's opinion neither created

Nor can remove

This man's dominion.

Wealth, social position and intellect are all comparative, but this thing we call manhood is founded on facts.

O for a protective tariff on gnats!
