Coach Corboy Is Not Pleased

Football Squad Is Being Whipped Into Shape.

The past week has been one of intensive work for the football aspirants. The team has been put through some hard scrimmages every day, the line getting special attention. The game at Furman showed the weakness in some places and in order to strengthen the weak spots Coach Corboy has shifted Brown, White and Garvey to the line. These changes seem to have put more punch into the line, and they have shown more ability in opening holes for the backfield.

In the backfield he is trying Underwood, Fix and Newman, and as a whole the changes have strengthened the morale of the team. The line has improved its defense while the backfield is showing up well in line plunging.

With the present outlook Coach Corboy is not well pleased, and it will take some hard work to bring the team up to the standard he desires. With all cripples well and no players on the sick list, he states that he sees no reason why the team should not come up to all expectations.

BE GLAD OF THE HARD VICTORIES

Do not be satisfied with easy victories. That which you can win without trying is not worth winning, as a rule. No one gets far whose daily work does not cost him sweat of body or spirit. No character becomes strong which does not grow by resistance to temptations which are overcome fiercely. Even the friend who is worth having is not won by wishing. We have proved your worth. See how the easy ones for those who are contented with the second at the girls Selected.

Elon's Rose

From out the depths of Heaven's blue
Her dear eyes caught their color rare;
The sunshine lent its radiant hue
To glorify her golden hair.

Her lips, where smiles play hide and seek,
Were kissed and stained by June's red rose.
The dainty pink of her lovely cheek
She stole from sunset's softened glows.

Her firm, white throat like marble gleams,
Her angel grace which thrills the heart
Are found but in some artist's dreams
Of which she seems to be a part.

Each mystic curve, each slender line
That lends to her the grace she knows,
A matchless heritage divine
Which makes her Elon's peerless rose.

A SUGGESTION TO THE ALUMNI FROM ONE OF THEM

Princeton, N. J., Oct. 4, 1920.

Dear Editor:

A copy of "Maroon and Gold" has just found its way to Room 13, in Brown Hall, Princeton Theological Seminary. I was real glad to get it. It reminded me of the dear old days at Elon. I regret I have just a little space original of. Allow me to say so much as the prospective that offender does not a college we led.

STUDENT VOLUNTEERS MEAN REAL BUSINESS

The Student Volunteer Band met in regular session on the evening of October 5. Rev. D. P. Barrett was present and answered a number of questions for the members.

The volunteers are planning a great year's work, and wish to have as many as possibly can attend the meetings. Everyone who is interested in missions will find the meetings helpful. They will be full of real information and inspiration.

perhaps others, at Vanderbilt; R. E. Massey, and perhaps others, at Columbia; and there are many others, but this is enough to show you what I mean.

Would it not be interesting, instructive and perhaps inspiring for every alumni who is now doing graduate work to give us through your columns a few words concerning their particular school.

Let's Back 'Em Up

A Student Hands Out the Right Dope.

The one way to get something out of something is to put something into something. So let's all put something in college pep and our athletic teams.

The one thing that makes a person love his college more and rejoice at the achievements of his college is for that person to do something toward forming the spirit of the college life.

Now, let's all pull together and make this the most successful year old Elon has ever experienced.

We believe, with the number of prospective athletes in school and the ability of our coach to put these in form, we can make this a most successful year, if we will each and all only do our bit.

We want the student body and faculty as a whole to know more about athletics and show more interest in the teams. Every person connected with the school should know every fellow who goes out for a team and if he makes the team, why he made it, and if he does not make the team, why he did not make it.
