NO STADIUM, SAYS UNIVERSITY CHICAGO STUDENT PUBLICATION

An interesting attitude taken by the students and faculty of the University of Chicago, regarding athletic contests, has come to light in a recent editorial in the Daily Maroon, official student publication.

The editorial declared that the students and faculty of that institution do not want a stadium and that the University need not cater to the public's football taste.

"The University has plenty of money," the editorial asserted, and went on to say:

"The University would be collegiate, the public would be amused; and may the two never meet. We do not want a stadium."

Men students at the University are said to have evidenced some difference of opinion regarding the editorial. Several University of Chicago alumni said that they had been among the chief agitators for a bowl which could accommodate the huge crowds now denied tickets to the big games. The present seating capacity is 35,000, and it was reported that there were 200,000 requests for tickets to the Princeton game.

A locomotive engine recently completed twelve years of service, covering 662,000 miles without extensive repairs.

The manufacture of antiques is carried forward on such an extensive scale in Egypt that many collectors are unwilling to risk buying them, and market for the genuine article has become practically ruined.

PHI PROGRAM FULL OF GINGER AND PEP

Rudd and J. V. Simpson, with W. G. Stoner and Sion M. Lynam representing the negative, added thrills and helps to the program.

The decision went to the negative by a two to one vote, with P. D. Rudd best on affirmative and W. G. Stoner best on the negative. Wm. T. Scott was chosen best speaker oratorically of the evening.

Prof. and Mrs. Greenwood were received as honorary members of the society.

LISTEN, BILLY

calling you pets names will you. I hope not for I'm fond of you as the old man told the woodshed when he licked his son. I was out to the post-office in the mist and fog and a cold caught me and now I'm drinking hot lemon juice and sweating like it was harvest time in Ethiopia.

Yours truly,
Dumbell.

Ante-Xmas.

Dear Billy:

Today I had a long distant call and thought it was you but it was some guy what said I had bought a setting of books from him and if I didnt pay he was going to take me into court which didnt tickle me more than enough to make me call him an unletted squigee cause I aint bought no books except here and if dad dont pay for them I'll be in court a long time.

Whenever central says "It's long distant" then tell her to tell whosver calling you Billy that you aint bought no books and dont go near the phone cause you is states evidences if you does.

If the boys want to have a banquet for me dont hesitate 'em cause eatin is always in order and they ought to be glad to see me home again.

Boost the banquet.
