

Day Student Personalities Sketch-Book

Al just reminded me that it's time to let everyone in on what's happening to the Day Students, but why doesn't someone tell me more about it? I'll promise you that it will be known if you do.

This really was a "big" week-end, wasn't it? Did you see Elon's game with E.C.T.C.? You should have, 'cause it was wonderful! We were mighty proud of our team, and who wouldn't be? Just keep up the good work, team; and we'll continue to give you our support (even if we do have to go around "squeaking" instead of talking for the next week).

As far as Helen Cobb is concerned, it's just the same old "Storey," isn't it, Max? She isn't complaining though, I think she kind of likes it.

Bill Scott doesn't have many pets—only one, "Kitten," whom he left in Franklin this summer when he moved to Elon.

Is it true that Tommy Hearne and Wally Mac are trying to enroll in Meredith? More power to ya!

If you're interested in knowing what your number is, consult "Hogan," the famous psychologist. Maybe you don't get what I mean, but I'm sure that he does.

To see how much natural beauty some girls who are being initiated into the sororities have, just take a lingering look at Marie Bryan, Jeanne Rader, and Mabel Somers. Girls, there probably will be some boys who won't be dressed in their best "bib and tux" either, and who also won't feel in tip-top condition. What are they carrying the boards around for? Ask them; if they don't know by now it shouldn't take much longer. Congratulations! Jack and "Tessie" Coffin Elliot; they are the proud "Mom" and "Pop" of the most precious bundle that comes from Heaven, a lil' girl. (Of course I'm NOT prejudiced).

The girls intramural program begins this week. Girls, please come out and participate in these events. Min Riddick, a very cute girl from Alabama, was elected as our representative last week. Freeman also needs more Day Student boys to show up for the touch football games.

Do any of you ever wonder why Leon Hinton is never seen with girls up here? If you had seen him Saturday night, you would never wonder again. Maxine is really ALL RIGHT, Leon!

Have you heard that Elon High won a football game? The thing I'm trying to get at is that Dick Staten is coaching them, and from all I've heard, he's accomplishing much. Dick hails from Ohio, but he had to come all the way to Danville, Va., to get his wife Carol. If you know Carol, you certainly couldn't blame him for that; and if you don't know these two,

HILLIARD

Just call him "Doc," and you won't be far wrong where Charles A. Hilliard is concerned. From his infirmary in West Dormitory, which boasts a comfortable and cheerful atmosphere seldom found in most doctors' offices, he dispenses first aid, medicine, and consolation for the real and imaginary aches and pains of students, faculty, and cats located on the campus of Elon.

His official title of "Nurse" does not stop Doc Hilliard from applying his most effective medicine—a sympathetic and understanding ear, and an honest desire to help others whenever possible. This last characteristic is one that causes him to be continually on the move and contributes so much to his bedside manner, which could hardly be improved.

Doc Hilliard was born in Oxford, N. C., and grew up in the normal manner of most American boys—until he joined the Navy at eighteen. Here he grew again, in a practical knowledge of medicine which demanded continued study. Now at Elon, that study continues, and there is little doubt that some day the shingle over his office will read: Dr. Charles A. Hilliard, M.D.

CLAYTON

It's friendly, feminine, tall (because there is 5 feet 7 1-2 inches of it) blonde, and blue eyed. It hibernates beneath a Chatham (plug) blanket on second floor West under a big, blue and white banner reading, TAKE IT EASY. Right here you have what Prospect Hill boasts, Louise Clayton. This Elon coed is a senior majoring in biology.

Louise is president of the Student Council, a member of the Beta Omicron Beta sorority, Pi Gamma Mu, and an assistant in the Biology Department. Louise is secretary and treasurer of the Pre-Med Association. Last year she was secretary and treasurer of the Spanish Club, vice-president of the Junior Class, and a member of the Pan-Hellenic Council.

She is all out for: steak and fried chicken; football; Tommy Dorsey's band; Dennis Morgan; sleeping; movies; such songs as "I Don't Know Why," and "My Buddy's Chick"; the huge cartwheel hats; the aroma Tabu gives out with; her roommate, and her little brother. Louise likes traveling if it's in a blue convertible, going toward Roxboro in a blue fog, with the radio playing "Rhapsody In Blue," and with a fraternity brother whose initials spell "certified accountant."

Conceited, two-faced people, olives, dill pickles, and crowded buses just don't click with her.

Ah! she forgot to tell us, "back yonder," her favorite color is blue. "We'd a never think it."

you're missing a lot! (That goes for their two children, Stewart Ann and Dickie, too.)

To get this in on time, I've gotta leave you now; but don't be so happy—I'll be back.

Love, DALE.

Rhodes Scholarships Again Open To American Students

Elections to Rhodes Scholarships in all states of the union will be resumed in December of this year, it was announced today by Dr. Frank Aydelette director of the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, and American secretary of the Rhodes trustees. Applications are due on November 2, and candidates elected will enter the University of Oxford in October 1947.

Rhodes scholarship elections have been suspended since 1939. Normally candidates for the Rhodes Scholarships must be between the ages of nineteen and twenty-five, but this year candidates who have been eligible in any year since 1939 will be allowed to compete, provided they have had at least one year of military or civilian war service. Sixteen extra scholarships have been allotted to the United States for the years 1946 and 1947. This number is in addition to the usual annual award of 32 scholarships, making a total of 48 scholarships to be awarded in each of those two years. All appointments will be open to regular and war service candidates, according to the merits of the competition.

For war service candidates, certain conditions of eligibility have been altered. Whereas regular candidates must be between the ages of nineteen and twenty-five on October 1, 1947, war service candidates may be between the ages of nineteen and thirty-two on that date. The usual bar against marriage is removed in the case of service candidates. The customary requirement of two complete years of college or university training at the time of application has been dropped to one year for service men. Veterans attending Oxford will have the added aid of receiving benefits under the GI Bill of Rights equivalent to those which they would receive in an American University.

The qualities which Rhodes specified in his will as forming the basis of selection are: (1) literary and scholastic ability and attainments; (2) qualities of manhood and truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy, kindness, unselfishness, and fellowship; (3) exhibition of moral force of character and instincts to lead and to take an interest in his schoolmates; (4) physical vigor as shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways.

Some definite quality of distinction, whether in intellect, character or personality, or in any combination of them, is the most important requirement for a Rhodes Scholarship. Financial need does not constitute a special claim for consideration.

There is no restriction on a Rhodes Scholars course of study. The University of Oxford offers about the same variety of instruction as any large American university. Rhodes Scholars are appointed for two years in the first instance, with a possibility of a third year for a man who has made a good record, and who presents a plan of study for that period satisfactory to his college and to the Rhodes trustees.

The stipend of the Rhodes Scholars will remain for the present at 400 pounds as it was before the war. Many Rhodes scholars will receive an addition to this stipend through measures analogous to the GI Bill of Rights. The trustees have voted that any Rhodes Scholar not in receipt of such an augmentation to his stipend will be granted during the year 1946 to 1947 a special allowance, bringing his total up to 500 pounds. In addition, Rhodes Scholars going to Oxford for the first time will receive from the Rhodes Trust a refund of one-half their steamship fare.

Information and application blanks may be obtained from Dean Bowden, who is the representative of Rhodes Scholarships in Elon College, or from Dr. Frank Aydelette, Institute for Advanced Study, Princeton, N. J.

McCAULEY WRITES

The following letter was received this week and will be of interest to the many friends that Larry McCauley has on the Elon campus:

Dear Al,
Today I received my second copy of the Maroon and Gold. I wish to express my appreciation to you and the other members of the staff for making it possible for me and the other boys to get a copy of the M. and G.

It makes a fellow feel mighty fine to look at the headlines and read "Elon Beats A.C.C." Although I was not able to be there, I don't think it made any student who did see the game feel better than I did when I read that headline.

I wish to thank you again for the opportunity of receiving the paper—being away from Elon, I feel mighty close to her when I read the Maroon and Gold.

Best wishes,
LARRY McCAULEY, S 2-c,

The Veterans' Viewpoint

By LOUIS AGRESTA

No column deserves to be read if it does not fulfill its purpose. The purpose of this column is to give the Veterans' viewpoint, to air their opinions, their gripes and feelings. In order that this purpose be realized, we appeal to each and every Veteran at Elon: Let us know what you think; let us know your ideas and problems, and we'll try to see that the rest of the folks discover what the Veterans' viewpoint actually is.

A new step towards improving and consolidating the activities of the college Veterans' clubs in North Carolina was taken last Sunday afternoon, when ten colleges, including Elon, sent representatives to Chapel Hill to establish a central headquarters and information point for their organizations. After a short discussion, it was unanimously agreed to have Chapel Hill as the central clearing house, where a full-time secretary will be employed to mimeograph and distribute a weekly newsletter. Activities and problems of the various clubs thus will be made known to all members of the association, and greater unity and cooperation will be the effect. Elon was represented at the meeting by C. A. Johnson, faculty adviser of our Vets Club, and Raymond Hayes and Al Burlingame of the club's publicity committee.

It has been brought to our attention that some of the Veterans here at Elon are not only interested in art, but are artistic as well. How about having an all-Vet art exhibit? Well, it's a suggestion—someone else carry on from here.

While we're in the suggestive mood, what about a chapel program sponsored by the Veterans Club? Might be a good way to increase membership.

VERBAL VISTAS: Senior Oak bending to watch a new cast put on an old act under its protecting arms... Vets who went for three years without seeing a woman—stuffing their eyes to the brim with feminine beauty... The Columnades, dripping with ivy; and the honeyed words dripping from the lips of romantic strollers beneath the romantic arches.

All of us, whether we admit it or not, use a great deal of our time and effort trying to please the opposite sex. It would be much easier if we only knew exactly what they liked and disliked. Here is the question:

"What one characteristic do you like or dislike most in a (girl) (boy)?" Perhaps the answers will give you a few pointers!

Beryl Force: "Manners are essential and a 'Butch' haircut helps!"

John Taylor: "I go for those 'come hither' walks!"

Claude Manzi: "She's gotta have personality-plus to rate with me." Curt Brown: "She must be between the ages of 16 and 65."

Betsy Smith: "The charm that makes all the other girls go for him too."

Louis Agresta: "I hate to see a girl who doesn't know how to put her lipstick on!"

Lewis Brownie: "A cute smile and a pair of cute legs is all she needs."

Millie Johnson: "My weakness is green eyes and blonde hair."

Bobby Barrett: "I like a girl you can call 'Honey' without making her blow up!"

Jane Warren: "All I ask in a guy is plenty of black hair and plenty of personality." (Not much!)

Jack Andrews: "Well, the shape counts with me."

Eileen Lynch: "Give me a boy that wears a windsor knot and French cuff links."

George Shumar: "My dish is the athletic type with plenty of hhm-" hmm!" ("On the ball" in other words.) Maxine Robbins: "I wonder if there is just one boy with a bit of sincerity along with his abundance of blarney?" Jean West: "PERSONALITY—and a boy doesn't have to be an exhibitionist to have this characteristic!" Kay Hill: "I could write a book on what I like about men, but don't ask me to sum it up in three words." Katie Lee Hawkins: "No characteristic in particular. I just like boys." Sarah Maness: "He's gotta be a MAN!"
