

Sahlmann Given Praise After Musical Concert

Prof. Fred Sahlman, pianist, returned home Sunday, October 30th, to appear in concert for music lovers of Elon College and the entire surrounding area, and in a well-chosen series of musical masterpieces proved that he possesses a fine ear for the piano's widest dynamic range and the ability to produce myriad gradations of sound with his nimble fingers and highly developed use of the pedals.

The pianist, who is on leave of absence from his duties as a member of the Elon College music faculty this year, opened with sonatas by Antonio Soler and Scarlatti, divided by an impressive aria by Rafael Angles. Each of these profited by Sahlmann's easy facility in rapid figures and demonstrated a full measure of stylistic understanding.

Moving with skill through three parts of Beethoven's Sonata in E Major, Op. 109, Sahlmann then presented as one of his major offerings Variations Serieuses, Op. 54, by Mendelssohn, giving the latter work great brilliance and power, presenting it with a singing tone of unaffected beauty.

Other numbers which brought great pleasure to the large and highly appreciative audience were Funerailles by Liszt, four parts of Bartok's Suite, Op. 14, and Blue Danube Waltzes by Strauss-Schulz-Evler.

Watchtower

(Continued from Page Two)

this is a situation about which the entire "Elon family" should think seriously.

The political debate held recently in Whitley Auditorium has invoked much comment from both students and faculty. We are among the many who enjoyed the debate and hope to see more formal debates at Elon this year.

Also of great interest was the student preferential vote. We were interested to see the relation between the pre-election and the actual election on November 8. The private voting booths provided at this election are another worthwhile contribution of our S.G.A.

The Dining Hall and Food Service Committee has been active this week. Max Clayton, chairman, and other committee members have met several times, once with Dr. Danieley and again with Miss Urban. Student Body President Ed Boelte has expressed the hope that soon we will have few complaints and more compliments regarding the dining hall food. The Student Council still has one vacancy for a woman student. A Senator is needed from the sophomore and junior class.

Campus Vote

(Continued From Page One)

ment in government, which has been in progress for several weeks under the auspices of the college's Student Government Organization. The project included campus rallies by both major parties, along with an inter-party debate in a student chapel program.

Student leaders for the major party campaigns on the campus were Cliff Hardy, of Franklin Park, N.J., and David Plaster, of Bassett, Va., for the Republicans; with Don Rankin, of Miami Beach, Fla. and Danny Gee, of Burlington, for the Democrats.

Grid Statistics

(Continued From Page Three)

Wooten leads the squad in punt returns with 8 for 203 yards, while Marvin Crowder is the pacesetter in kickoff runbacks with six for 113 yards. Wooten has three interceptions to lead the field, while Dean Yates remains in front on fumbles recoveries with three.

Myers Winner Of Golf Title

Leroy Myers annexed the championship honors in the autumn golf tournament, which was played over the Shamrock Park course under sponsorship of the intramural sports department. Myers turned back Chick Rosemond 7 and 6 in the finals of the championship flight, and Bobby Johnson gained first flight honors with a 3 and 1 decision over Bill Holder.

Myers moved into the finals of the championship flight with a 1-up win over Dick Bryan and 3 and 2 victory over David Plaster, while Rosemond gained the title round after defeating C. G. Hall and Danny Hall. In the first flight Johnson had preliminary wins over Tony Markosky and Tommy Harris, while Holder advanced over Ham Harding and Charlie Maldon.

Catamounts

(Continued From Page Three)

ents having sprints of 34 and 14 in a drive that carried 78 yards. Clements got the TD on a plunge from the three, with a pass failing for the points to leave Elon trailing 13 to 6.

This seemed to infuriate the homesteading Cats, however, for they took the ensuing kickoff and drove for a score. The kickoff return carried past midfield, and the Cat backs chopped out short yardage to the four, and Jamie Wilkes bucked over from there. This was followed immediately by another Cat TD, for Western Carolina recovered a short kick-off on Elon's 48-yard line, and seven plays later Boogy Bass raced nine yards to paydirt for a 25-6 margin.

With the Cat regulars still driving much of the time, Western Carolina added fifth and sixth scores in the final period. Recovering an Elon punt fumble at the twenty-seven, it took just three plays for Ken Morgan to count the first one, and a pass to Bryant added two points. Interception of an Elon pass at the Christian forty-five set up the final counter, which came when Tobe Childers tossed 16 yards to Barry Shirk. Again a pass added two points, and the final score was written at 41 to 6.

Talking Sports

(Continued From Page Three)

boys an even 4-4 record for the year in games won and lost and served to give the Christians added spirit this week as they prepped for the invasion by the Lenoir Rhyne Bears on Saturday night of this coming weekend.

After sitting through the Catawba game at Elon's Homecoming, many things entered my mind concerning school spirit at Elon. There were times when it was almost as quiet in the stands as it is in the Elon Library during study hours.

Continuous begging by the cheerleaders, with the help of a few boys, finally brought the crowd to life enough to produce a few cheers, but there was not enough continuous noise to give the football team much help.

Not only was the cheering sadly lacking, the crowd was too small. Elon is a small college and cannot expect to fill the stands like one of the larger schools, but the Christians certainly deserve better support than they have been getting.

In an earlier column I hit the students for not attending the games in larger numbers, and now I want to take a crack at the Elon faculty and alumni. One could almost count the faculty members at some games on one's finger. The team deserves better support, so I would urge both faculty and students to get out there for this final home game with Lenoir Rhyne and for future sports events this year.

FACULTY MEMBERS ON ARTS FORUM PANEL

DR. ARNOLD STRAUCH

PROF. ROY EPPERSON

PROF. TULLY REED

Three members of the Elon faculty, representing as many academic departments, will appear on a discussion panel in Mooney Chapel Theatre at 7:30 o'clock on Wednesday night, November 16th, discussing the question, "Is Our Present System of Education Leading Us To Ultimate Defeat?" The panel appears as the first of a series of programs staged under the auspices of the Liberal Arts Forum and with the sponsorship of the Student Government handled the ball. Fred Biangardi scored eight times for 48 points and gained 502 yards rushing to rank among the top five backs in the state.

Elon Entered Upon Modern Grid Era

(Continued on Page Two)

Carroll Reid topped even the best in the state's "Big Four" in runback of pass interceptions, carrying 222 yards on five interceptions, scoring touchdowns on two of the returns. The Elon team also topped the best of the "Big Four" that season in total offense, passing offense, total defense and rushing defense. The records showed that the Christians averaged 311 yards per game in total offense and 131.3 yards per game in defense.

The Fighting Christians of 1952 did not have an over-all good season, but they defeated Appalachian 13 to 7, Little Creek 28 to 25 and Newberry 26 to 14 in compiling a 3-6-1 mark and registering a 1-5-1 mark in Conference play. Elon met defeat at the hands of Wofford 20 to 0, East Carolina 25 to 9, Catawba 12 to 0, Western Carolina 12 to 0, Lenoir Rhyne 39 to 7 and Guilford 17 to 14. There was also a scoreless tie against Norfolk Navy in the opener, a game which broke a string of 26 games in which Elon had never failed to score. Lou Rochelli and Al Ludwig were co-captains, and Rochelli and Mike Moffo, center, were named to the All-Conference team.

Coach Sid Varney took over the coaching reins of the Maroon and Gold eleven during the 1953 season, but football was still at a low ebb at Elon, with the Christians posting a 1-6-1 season record and 1-4-1 Conference record, their only loop win being a 13 to 7 victory over Western Carolina. John Platt, star halfback, was given a berth on the All-Conference team and was later drafted by the San Francisco Forty-Niners. Elon tied Catawba 21-21, but she lost to Wofford 33 to 0, Appalachian 21 to 19, East Carolina 45 to 25, Newberry 33 to 6, Lenoir Rhyne 27 to 13 and Guilford 9 to 0. Platt and Dwight Dillon were co-captains for the year, with Revell Morrison and Platt leading the scorers with 24 and 20 points.

Strong Team In 1954

The Christians of 1954 posted a better-than-average season record, with a 5-3-1 season mark and a 4-1-1 Conference mark to place second in the North State Conference. Kerry Richards led the loop with 37 points in loop games and scored 44 points during the entire year. Fullback Bob Stauffenberg crossed the double stripes five times for 30 points, and both Stauffenberg and Richard were given berths on the All-Conference team, along with Homer Hobgood, center, and Glenn Varney, guard. Hobgood was also named to the All-State team.

Led by Captain J. C. Disher, the Fighting Christians lost their opener of the 1954 season to The Citadel by a 21 to 13 score, the loss coming in the final two minutes of play. They were also defeated by Appalachian 20 to 6, but they were victorious over East Carolina 20 to 6, lost to Newberry 26 to 0, and then settled down to win four but it resulted in the decision of the president to appoint a committee to review and revise the handbook, with separate revisions to be made by each committee or council whose regulations are listed. Thus any changes wished to be made should be written up and turned over to the Handbook Committee, which will work on the proposed plan and then turn it over to the Student Government Faculty Committee for review.

Problems

(Continued From Page One)

and tie one in the final five games. They defeated Catawba 36 to 12, tied Western Carolina 20 to 20, defeated Guilford 20 to 13, downed Lenoir Rhyne 14 to 6 and topped Davidson 14 to 6.

The grid season of 1955 was definitely a disappointing one for Elon fans, for Elon opened with high hopes of winning the North State Conference title, since the squad was almost intact from the fine season of 1954. However, Elon got off to a bad start with a 39 to 0 thumping at the hands of Mississippi Southern in a game that saw Elon's All-Conference fullback Bob Stauffenberg, suffer a broken arm that benched him until the final season game with Guilford, a game in which he scored twice.

The Christians of 1955 were also defeated by The Citadel 26 to 18, Appalachian 19 to 0, East Carolina 13 to 0, Newberry 19 to 0, Catawba 19 to 0 and Lenoir Rhyne 28 to 0. Their wins were over Naval Apprentice 51 to 0, Western Carolina 19 to 6 and Guilford 19 to 6. As the season ended, the Christians wrote into Elon grid annals a season record of three wins and seven losses and a 2-4 Conference mark. Homer Hobgood was captain of the team, and Whitney Bradham and Glenn Varney, halfback and guard, won All-Conference berths.

The 1956 campaign saw Elon post an even-split record, with five wins and five losses, with a 4-2 mark in North State Conference play. The five victories came over Apprentice School 53 to 7, Appalachian 19 to 6, Catawba 14 to 13, Western Carolina 26 to 6 and Guilford 20 to 0. Defeats were by Alabama State at Jacksonville 13-12, East Carolina 19 to 7, Presbyterian 20 to 14, Newberry 40 to 14 and Lenoir Rhyne 28 to 13. Whitney Bradham and Edwin Davidson, halfback and tackle, were co-captains that season.

It was in that 1956 campaign that Bob Stauffenberg, great fullback from Orea, Pa., set an Elon rushing record of 937 yards on 201 carries to gain both All-State and All-Conference honors. Stauffenberg also led in scoring with 54 points. Others who won All-Conference berths were Glenn Varney, guard; Tony Carcaterra, end; J. B. Vaughn, tackle; and Whitney Bradham, halfback.

Elon's Only Undefeated Season
The autumn of 1957 brought Elon her only undefeated season, but unfortunate cancellation of two games by Catawba and Western Carolina due to influenza epidemics on the rival campuses cut the Christian season to six games and also cut the Elon Conference play to four games, which was less than the five loop battles required by North State rules for a title. Therefore, due to the technicality, the Christians were "Undefeated, Untied and also Uncrowned".

Tri-captains of that great 1957 team were Bob Stauffenberg, Lynn Newcomb and Bob Kopko, fullback, center and tackle respectively. Stauffenberg, named All-State for the second straight year, was also chosen "Player of the Year" in both the North State Conference and the NAIA's District 26. He led in scoring again with 54 points. Tony Carcaterra, towering end, also received All-State honors. Stauffenberg and Carcaterra were joined on the All-Conference squad by J. B. Vaughn, tackle; Tony DeMatteo, guard; Lynn Newcomb, center; Charlie Maidon, quarterback; and Harry Faust, halfback, who won berths on one or the other of the principal All-Conference selections.

The undefeated record for 1957 showed victories over Guilford 25 to 14, Appalachian 21 to 6, East Carolina 21 to 17, Presbyterian 37 to 14, Newberry 34 to 7 and Lenoir Rhyne 20 to 7. The record was good enough to earn for Coach Sid Varney the honor as "Coach of the Year" in both the Conference and the NAIA's 26th District. Coming right after the undefeated 1957 campaign, the 1958 season was another disappointing one, with the Christians showing a 3-6 mark for the year and a 2-4 Conference record. After defeating Guilford 14 to 7 in the opener, the Christians lost five successive games to Wofford 22 to 16, Appalachian 32 to 20, East Carolina 14 to 6, Presbyterian 34 to 6 and to Catawba 14 to 8. The team braced at that point and defeated Western Carolina 15 to 6 and Newberry 21 to 6 but dropped the final battle of the year to Lenoir Rhyne by a 36 to 6 score.

Tony Carcaterra earned All-State honors for a second straight year after tying the all-time Elon record for pass receptions with 28 catches. All-Conference berths went to Carcaterra and to Charlie Maidon, quarterback, J. B. Vaughn, tackle, and Joe DeGais, halfback. DeGais topped the scoring with 36 points, and he and Carcaterra were co-captains of the 1958 squad. Despite a disastrous season in 1959 in which the Fighting Christians won only one of ten games, quarterback Charlie Maidon set four new Elon records. He completed 76 of 160 passes, new marks for both passes thrown and completions. This gave Maidon a total of 170 completions in 361 attempts for new four-year career records in both number of passes and completions.

The 1959 season which marked the end of Sid Varney's seven-year coaching rein saw Elon defeat Apprentice 22 to 0, and then lose nine consecutive games to Guilford 27 to 0, Wofford 14 to 0, Appalachian 19 to 8, East Carolina 31 to 8, Presbyterian 27 to 6, Catawba 14 to 8, Western Carolina 14 to 6, Newberry 56 to 21 and Lenoir Rhyne 50 to 15.

WAA Planning Square Dance

The Women's Athletic Association, continuing its active program for the year, will sponsor a square dance for all Elon women students at Gant's Pack Barn next Tuesday, November 15th from 7:30 until 10:30 o'clock, and any and all girls wishing to attend should call at the office of Mrs. Jeanne Griffin at the gymnasium and sign up for the event by Saturday night of this week.

The Elon WAA, not only active on the local campus, had twenty students and Mrs. Griffin in attendance at the state meeting of the North Carolina Athletic and Recreation Federation for College Women, which was held at Wake Forest on Friday, November 4th.

Students attending from Elon were Lacala Patterson, Frances Clark, Nancy Ellington, Judy Maress, Sandra James, Lee McCann, Mary Briggs, Charlesanna Briggs, Denyse Theodore, Jane Keck, Sara Summers, Nancy Rountree, Kathryn Thomas, Nancy Hobart, Diane Woodring, Chris High, Mandy Gauer, Dava Newsome and Jane Messick.

Students Speak

Two of the foreign students attending Elon College this year were speakers at a recent meeting of the Classroom Teachers Association of the Burlington City Schools, which was held at the Hillcrest School in Burlington.

The Elon students who spoke on customs of their native countries were Barbaros Celikkal, of Adana, Turkey, and Nabil-Aitah of Beit Rahar, Jordan. Celikkal is studying math and physics on a church scholarship, while Abu-Aitah is studying chemistry on a Rotary scholarship.

Newberry

(Continued from Page Three)

berry pass on the Indian twenty-two and raced back to the three, from where Burl Clements dived over for the touchdown. Don Miller booted true for the 7 to 0 lead that held up the rest of the way.

The entire Elon line played fine for losses, and they gave the Newberry passer only scant time to is due to Tom King, Gene Stokes, throw.

On Our Shelves

By WILLIAM CORDES

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the first of a new series, which from time to time will inform Maroon and Gold readers of interesting books to be found on the shelves of the Elon College Library.

There are many new books on the shelves of the Elon College Library this fall, among them THE AFFAIR, by C. P. Snow, who takes us to the dimly lit halls of Cambridge, where a young physicist is accused of faking scientific evidence on which his dissertation is based in violation of the active honor system there. There character is Donald Howard, a left-winger, whose case is being reopened by the school. The author introduces the theme that the more intelligent man becomes, the more disposed he is to honesty and justice. It is good timely reading.

Also highly interesting is Elizabeth Nowell's THOMAS WOLFE, a biography in which the author shows splendid insight into the life of America's great natural genius. Nowell develops for the reader the true temperamental compulsions of Wolfe, who was one of America's great natural geniuses. She brings Wolfe back to life for those who have read his books, taking the reader through the land in which he travelled and wrote, from the slopes of Asheville to the banks of the Charles River in Boston.

In his TRUSTEE IN THE TOOLROOM, Nevil Shute does it again, moving from the sincerity of proposal of his ON THE BEACH to the warmth and intimacy of this new work, which is a book of light reading that couples itself with thought and humor. The characters are small-minded suburbanites of present society, the Do-It-Yourselfers, with a desire for adventure that takes the reader aboard a sixty-foot ketch which sinks in a storm and brings in a search for underwater treasure. The conclusion is typical of Shute's love for the individual man and sorrow for the masses.

Garrie Warren and Charlie Rayburn for their vicious play up front. Several times they broke through to throw the Indian backs for losses, and they gave the Newberry passer only scant time to throw.

Lambda Omega Rho

Some fraternities get athletes. Some get brains. This fraternity gets virtually everybody, including women. It has fanatically loyal members in more than 100 countries around the world. It has no pin and its only ritual is the simple act of enjoying Coca-Cola every single day of the year.

Its name? L O R—Lovers of Refreshment. Join up today.

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by BURLINGTON COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY