

REID THIS!

In all of the Elon freshman chemistry class in the science building that fall day in 1943 there was but one Virginian, a little red haired girl who was away from home for the first time in her life.

It appeared as though the little man, the teacher in the lab, sort of came out of the woodwork. He unceremoniously and unhurriedly shuffled into the room.

"Umm," he mused in his easy going, low voice. "Where are you from, young lady?" He nodded to the timid young co-ed from Virginia. He knew very well her home was in the Old Dominion. He was a thorough man. He checked out things before he said anything.

"Hampton, Va.," the girl answered.

"You're sure you're not from Dix Hill?"

Everybody in the class — except one — laughed.

With that, Ned Brannock broke the tension that confronts freshmen in their first college chemistry class. It was with his frolicsome wit, his devoted preparation and his knowledge that he met his classes. It was with understanding that his classes were run.

The Virginia girl, never having been to Carolina before, missed the significance of Dix Hill, the Raleigh institution. Brannock, of course, was slyly implying the coed might've been crazy to leave home.

Before the first term was out, the girl looked forward to Brannock's frank-punctuated lectures. He was an aging man then, and often retired to a little office to rest up for the next class, but his comprehension of human nature was as young as that freshman girl.

This is the sort of thing many of us Elon alumni remember.

We look back on old timers such as Ned Brannock and the English Department's John Barney and to North Dorm and the unpaved roads. They're all gone.

You won't believe this — not just now, anyway — but we who have a few years on you are certain our memories are as good as what you are living now.

And you know something else? Later on, your professors will die, and the campus you know now may change. Recollections of them will seem infinitely superior to what the kids at Elon will be having after you.

Player Show

(Continued From Page Two)

was very effective. Judy Elliott, of Richmond, Va., received one of the biggest laughs of the evening as Lucinde, Genonte's love-touched daughter, when she proved her stubbornness to her father.

Frank Ciampillo, of New York City, was funny as Robert, an interfering neighbor. This was Frank's first appearance on the stage, and he made it a good one. Richard Milteer, of South Norfolk, Va., as Leandre, the real object of Lucinde's love, made his scene with the doctor one of the funniest in the play. Larry Biddle, of Dover, Del., was extremely articulate and well cast as Valere, the servant of old Geronte.

This was the first major Elon Player production for the year and also the debut for Professor E. R. Day. We surely hope that more productions of this caliber will be coming soon.

Wisps Of Wisdom

The man who rolls up his sleeves seldom loses his shirt.

Race Track — A place where windows clean people.

Rearing Children — The biggest hair-conditioning job ever undertaken.

Sigma Phi Is Undefeated In Cage Play

Sigma Phi, with an undefeated 6-0 mark, is topping the American League in boys' intramural cage play; while the Iota Tau Kappa quint, with a 7-1 record, is leading the race in the National League.

Kappa Psi, with a 6-1 mark, and the Carolina Comets, with a 4-1 record, trail Sigma Phi outfit in the American League race. The Studs and the Carolina Hotshots, each with 5-2 records, trail I.T.K. in the National League.

The Studs, paced by Willie Tart with 21 and Tyrone McDuffie with 17 points, handed the I.T.K. outfit its only defeat in one of the best games of the intramural season by a score of 56 to 46.

The top five individual scorers are George Owen, Carolina Comets, with a 20-point average; Larry Hyman, of the Spiders, averaging 18.4; Lindsey Page, of Carolina Comets, averaging 16.3; Grady Tuck, of Carolina Comets, averaging 15.5; and Jim Leviner, of I.T.K., averaging 14.9 points per game.

Scribendi

(Continued on Page Two)

no charge for the dance. Admission by your Student Government Card.

Some people have been worried about the lack of culture on the campus. The Pan-Hellenic Council has plans to do something about this! They will be promoting the Bolshoi Ballet in Tschaikowsky's SWAN LAKE at the Paramount Theatre in Burlington on Thursday, February 16th. The Bolshoi Ballet is the most acclaimed ballet of all time.

More than eighty years after Tschaikowsky's "Swan Lake" was first performed at the Bolshoi Theatre, Moscow, a full-length color film of an actual performance was made, which will be shown at the Paramount Theatre in Eastman Color. When it was first shown in 1877, "Swan Lake" was coolly received. Since then it has become probably the world's most popular ballet. The film is distributed by Columbia Pictures.

Tickets for this magnificent performance may be obtained from any member of either of the social fraternities or sororities.

The United States State Department made a statement like this: "So that the people of the Soviet Union might better understand us, and so that Americans might better understand the Soviet people, the governments of the USA and the USSR concluded an agreement on January 27, 1958, which included provisions which envisioned reciprocal exhibition of motion pictures. This film is presented for your entertainment in cooperation with the United States State Department by Columbia Pictures."

Now to subjects on the lighter side of life!!

N. C. State College hits the Elon news. They come all the way from State to get "Tassel" to arrange dates. Go Bill!

The Elon College Boys are not at Fort Lauderdale. They are at Fort Maye. The grapevine says Nick Ciotola made a better distance record than George Wooten. Welcome to the track team Nick.

Mike York's "frat" brotner from Portsmouth brings back big news after being away several months. What's up Mike.

Gail Hettel is the campus representative for Classrooms Abroad! This might be worth looking into!!

Probation? Surprise friend! First you are placed on probation — then you get your grades! It is not only a switch but it is a guessing game and loads of fun. Try it! Not directed — just thrown in.

THEY LEAD CHEERS AT ELON SPORTS EVENTS

The varsity cheerleader group, which has led the cheering at Elon College football and basketball games this year, is pictured above. Those pictured left to right are as follows: KNEELING—Joanne Keith, of Reidsville; Della Marie Vickers, of Elon College; Eleanor Smith, of Winston-Salem; Diane Clary, of Lawrenceville, Va.; Phyllis Hopkins, of Reidsville; and Helen Wright, of Greenville, S. C. STANDING — Judy Samuels, of Burlington; Linda Combs, of Reidsville; Harriet Hammond, of Balfour; and Janet Inge, of Elon College. Judy Burke, of Greensboro, who recently joined the cheerleader squad, was not present for the picture.

Cadet Teaching

(Continued From Page One)

cost, of Burlington, who taught eighth and ninth grade history.

Four students worked in the Bessemer High School in Guilford County, including Patricia Crawford, of Greensboro, who taught tenth grade biology; Rodger Knapp, of Verona, Pa., who taught tenth and eleventh grade history; Edward Green, of Middletown, Delaware, who taught ninth grade mathematics; and William West, of Henderson, he taught eighth and ninth grade physical education.

Three students were assigned to Southern High School, including Barbara Day, of South Boston, a, who taught high school mathematics; Loretta Hilliard, of Durham, who taught high school home economics; and Janette Inge, of Elon College, who taught twelfth grade English.

Cage Scoring

(Continued from Page Three)

no other team in the league could show a pair of shooters even close to the Irvin-Smith combined average of 37.5 points per game for the current season.

The individual and team statistics for the first 23 games of the year are shown below:

Player	G	FG	FT	TP
Irvin	23	174	120	468
Smith	22	140	99	379
Andrew	23	62	59	183
Burke	22	64	22	150
Teague	22	57	29	143
Morningstar	22	39	58	136
Miller	20	52	21	125
Conatser	10	32	13	77
Hawks	20	13	23	49
Myers	9	7	3	17
Hodges	18	1	0	2
Maidon	4	1	0	2
Cheek	3	1	0	2
Guthrie	2	0	2	2
Bowman	5	0	1	1
ELON TOTAL	23	643	445	1,732
OPPONENTS	23	638	427	1,703

V. P. I. Prof

(Continued From Page One)

Wisconsin and the University of South Dakota, prior to joining the VPI faculty thirty years ago.

In addition to his teaching duties during the past three decades and more, he has also had practical experience with construction companies and has been associated with a number of military projects. He was director of a special study for the Ford Foundation in 1960 of possible acceleration of engineering studies. He has written numerous articles in the engineering field and is a member of national engineering societies.

Ken Smith Paces Elon To Win Over Bulldogs

Captain Ken Smith ripped the cords with deadly accuracy as he paced the Elon Christians to a decisive 92 to 78 victory over the Atlantic Christian Bulldogs here on Monday night, a victory which moved the Maroon and Gold cagers into a tie with Appalachian for third spot in the North State standings.

The Christians broke away to a 5-0 lead in the first minute and held the front all the way as they chalked their second win of the year over the Bulldogs. The Elon edge was eight points at half-time, and Atlantic Christian could never get closer than seven points after that.

Smith hit eight field goals and dropped in twelve free throws in pacing the Elon attack. Joining him in the double digit scoring column were Jug Irvin with 17, Dewey Andrew with 14 and Gary Teague with 13 points. Dick Knox with 19 and Jerry Fritz with 15 points lead the Bulldogs, with Elon holding Jack Boyd, Bulldog ace, to a scant two points.

The line-ups:
Pos. Elon (92) ACC (78)
F—Smith (28) Fritz (15)
F—Irvin (17) Atkinson (7)
C—Andrew (14) Oden (12)
G—Teague (13) Boyd (2)
G—Morningstar (8) Knox (19)

Half-time: Elon 43, Atlantic Christian 35.

Elon subs — Miller 8, Burke 2, Hawks 2, Atlantic Christian subs— Fillingame 11, Eskew 1, Parham 9, Harris 2.

Elon Splits Catamount Tilts

(Continued from Page Three)

Cullowhee, Western Carolina's Mel Gibson broke loose with a sharpshooting exhibition which netted 31 points for the home team.

Riding on the fine shooting of Gibson, the Western Carolina cagers were unable to clinch their win in the first of the two-game series early in the contest. Ahead by only four points at half-time, the Cat quintet widened the margin to 15 points at 65-50 midway the final half.

Jug Irvin topped the attack for the Christians with 20 points, but there were three other Elon players in double figures. Dewey Andrew hit 13, Ken Smith 11 and Bill Morningstar 10 counters.

The line-ups:
Pos. Elon (72) W. Carolina (85)
F—Smith (11) Seal (15)
F—Irvin (20) Murray (5)
C—Andrew (13) Lavelle (14)
G—Miller (8) Gibson (31)
G—Morningstar (10) Tarpe (16)

Half-time: Western Carolina 39, Elon 35.

Elon subs — Hawks 2, Burke 2, Western Carolina subs — Peterson 4, Benson, Gustafson.

Elon 85, West Carolina 84

Proving their fighting spirit and mettle under the most difficult conditions, the Elon Christians rebounded from a 20-point half-time deficit to post a heart-chilling 85 to 84 victory over the Western Carolina Catamounts at Cullowhee last Saturday night.

the home team's margin to a single point.

The Catamounts were off in flying style in the first half as they literally snowed the Elon outfit and moved to a commanding 52 to 32 margin. The 20-point deficit seemed too great to be overcome, but Coach Bill Miller's boys did not know the meaning of defeat as they came back for a flaming final half.

The Elon shooters were hitting hot as they counted 53 to 32 in that final half. Captain Ken Smith was good on his two free throws to cut the margin to 84-83 in the final minute, and Irvin's jump shot did the rest.

The Catamounts hit 32 field goals, compared with 25 for the Christians, but Elon was deadly from the charity stripe and dropped 35 of 44 free throws, which came on a total of 22 Catamount fouls.

Irvin topped the Elon scoring and was leader for the game with 23 points, and four other Elon players were in double figures, with Bill Morningstar getting 17, Dewey Andrew 16, Ken Smith 16 and Gary Teague 14 points. Mel Gibson led the Cats with 22 points and was joined by three of his mates in the double digit column.

The line-ups:
Pos. Elon (85) W. Carolina (84)
F—Smith (15) Seal (13)
F—Irvin (23) Lavelle (13)
C—Andrew (16) Murray (17)
G—Teague (14) Gibson (22)
G—Morningstar (17) Tarpe (3)

Half-time: Western Carolina 52, Elon 32.

Elon subs — Miller, Hawks, Burke, Western Carolina subs — Peterson 4, Benson, Gustafson 4, Green 2, Horn 3.

Delta Upsilon Leads Girls Cage League

The Delta Upsilon Kappa lassies held the lead in the battle for the girls' basketball championship on the Elon campus in most recent standings, boasting a perfect record of three wins and no losses in the round robin schedule now in progress under the auspices of the Women's Athletic Association.

The Delta Upsilon sextet was trailed by the Beta Omicron Beta cagers, who showed three wins and a single loss, that lone defeat by Delta Upsilon by a 17 to 14 count. Other teams in order in the standings were Tau Zeta Phi, Second West, Third Virginia, Independents and Day Students.

Nancy Ellington and Judy Burke have topped scoring for Delta Upsilon, while Lulu Roberts and Sara Summers have led the B.O.B. outfit. Other leaders include Sue Humphrey, of Day Students; Marsha Jordan, of Independents; Doris Faircloth and Jane Keck, of Tau Zeta; Nancy Wyrick, of Third Virginia; and Donna Welborn, of Second West.

Northcutt

(Continued From Page One)

New York and at Garrett Biblical Institute in Evanston, Illinois in 1954. He also was Select Preacher at Cambridge University in 1958.

In addition to his editorial duties in England, the Reverend Northcutt is editor-at-large of the Christian Century and is its London correspondent. He is also a writer on religious affairs for the Manchester Guardian and the London Observer, and is religious affairs adviser to the latter publication. He is an occasional member of the British Broadcasting Corporation's "Brain Trust" and a broadcaster in the BBC's services from London.

The tour planned for Dr. Northcutt as a Danforth Visiting Lecturer will take him to sixteen outstanding colleges and universities in several sections of the nation along with his visit to the Elon campus.

Life—The everlasting struggle to keep the money coming in, and the teeth, hair and vital organs from coming out.

WAA Will Hold Foul Shot Meet

The sixth annual free throw tournament for Elon's women's students will get underway at the Alumni Memorial Gymnasium next Monday, February 13th, and will continue through next Saturday, February 18th.

This was announced by Mrs. Jeanne Griffin, director of women's sports on the campus, who stated that the event will be held under sponsorship of the Women's Athletic Association. The winner of the tournament will receive an individual award.

Catawba Game

(Continued From Page Three)

The second half was a repeat of the first, with Elon taking a quick lead before the rivals began swapping scores. The final fifteen minutes again saw the lead change hands ten times, and Catawba came from behind to tie the count in the final minute on a field goal by John Garrison and free throw by Jimmy Wade.

In the overtime the Christians' erratic shooting really hurt, for they were unable to score on eight floor tries, and Catawba took the lead on two field goals by Garrison and Roger Snow. This forced Elon to press for possession, which resulted in Elon fouls, and the Indians made good on four free throws in as many tries for the final margin.

Al Johnson topped the Indians and gained high score for the night with 19 points, one more than Captain Ken Smith, who paced Elon with 18 counters. Other Elon scorers were Jug Irvin with 14 and Eddie Burke with 12 points. Joining Johnson in leading Catawba were Larrell Forbis with 14, Garrison with 12 and Snow with 11 points.

The line-ups:
Pos. Elon (60) Catawba (68)
F—Irvin (14) Johnson (19)
F—Smith (18) Wade (8)
C—Burke (12) Medford (3)
G—Teague (3) Snow (11)
G—Morningstar (6) Forbis (14)

Half-time: Catawba 30, Elon 28.
Elon subs — Andrew 3, Myers 2, Miller 2, Hawks. Catawba subs — Garrison 12, Dew 1, Moss, Roberts.

Lambda Omega Rho

Some fraternities get athletes. Some get brains. This fraternity gets virtually everybody, including women. It has fanatically loyal members in more than 100 countries around the world. It has no pin and its only ritual is the simple act of enjoying Coca-Cola every single day of the year.

Its name? L O R—Lovers of Refreshment. Join up today.

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company by BURLINGTON COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY