

REID THIS!

Bill Terrell was out on the football practice field surveying the activities of Messrs. Wooten, Fireplug et als.

Occasionally, the alumni secretary voiced an erudite opinion, high in audio, when the scrimmage didn't go to suit him. For a fellow who spends his time living in moth-eaten old record files, I began to see Bill Terrell as more than a churchmousey agent to collect money from past grads.

What really impressed me about Bill is his automobile.

Man, he sits in that thing as if he were Most High Mayor of Alamance County, surveying all his causeways. He rars back, grabs hold of the wheel and moves on out. He drives and talks all glorious Elo. Nothing, absolutely nothing, can stop him on either count.

I rode with him over to Burlington. There was all this smoke in the car and for the life of me, I couldn't see Terrell's cigar, or cigarette. Or pipe. Or cookstove.

Well, I tried my best to act polite. After all, he was good enough to drive me into town and there wasn't a meter or anything.

Almost into Glen Raven on the way back, though I couldn't help it.

"Ahem," I said. "What is that smoke, Bill?"

"Now when Jack Rabbit Abbitt was here," Terrell answered. "We had a real good football team. Smoke? Oh, that's nothing. One time, Jack Rabbit Abbitt was playing against the Apprentice School up where you are in Newport News.

"But, Bill, that smoke's getting worse." It was jumping out of his steering wheel likened unto that from stacks of the sternwheeler Natchez in its running bout with the Robert E. Lee.

"Smoke," said Bill with a ho-ho-ho. "Mere trifle. Been like that ever since I had the car. Always comes out through the horn like this. Think nothing of it."

So I tried my best not to.

Bill came through with several more intriguing chapters about vintage Elon football before stopping the car. The smoke kept going.

Opening the car door, there was the least little squeak.

Good heavens," Bill said, sounding upset. "I'll have to run down to the shop right away. Don't like things going wrong with my car."

College Seal

(Continued from Page Two)

embodies much the same meaning as did the original.

Numen Lumen, the Latin motto of the college, is freely translated New Light. The two columns represent strength, and the eye pictured above the lighted urn and the open book is the All-Seeing Eye, which shines down upon the Urn of Truth and the Book of Knowledge, representing the guiding principles upon which this institution was founded.

The circle enclosing these figures symbolizes the eternal circle, unbroken from eternity to eternity. Eighteen hundred eighty-nine, the date included in the seal, is the date of the founding of the institution.

Wherever the use of color is possible, the symbols are maroon inscribed upon a gold background, these colors being the traditional colors of the College.

THE MUSIC GOES ROUND AND COMES OUT HERE

An interesting and seldom seen view of Elon's mighty new and enlarged pipe organ is seen in the above shot, which shows only a few of the forty-one ranks of pipe which are hidden high in the organ loft of Whitley Memorial Auditorium. The organist at the console touches the keys to start the music on its way, and then the music goes 'round and 'round comes out here in a swelling volume of sound that reaches the audience through the gridded vents in the wall of the auditorium. These pipes, in rows of shining metal, might remind one of a series of towering buildings along the streets of some great city.

Hall Powers Two Homers As Elon Topples Williams

Power hitting by Danny Hall paced the Elon Christians to a double victory over the Williams College outfit from Massachusetts when the Christians turned back the New England nine by scores of 8 to 3 and 7 to 1 in a double-header on Tuesday afternoon.

Hall smacked a homer in each of the two games and added two singles in each encounter, showing a total of six hits in eight trips to the plate and driving in a total of seven runs in the two battles. The round-trippers gave Hall a total of four homers in Elon's last three games.

Mike Cleveland and Wayne Allen split pitching chores for Elon in the first game of the day and allowed the Williams outfit only five hits in winning an 8-3 decision. Cleveland allowed three hits in the first four frames, one of them a two-run homer. Allen who was the winning pitcher came on in the fifth and let Williams down with a double and single in the final three rounds.

The Christians plated a single run in the first without a hit, and then sent two runners home in the second on singles by Eddie Clark, Jimmie Holmes, Mike Cleveland and Danny Hall. Two more Christian markers came in the fifth, and the three final counters in the sixth on a Holmes' double. Wayne Allen's single and Hall's first round-tripper.

Jerry Tillman and Jerry Drake were the Elon pitchers in the second tilt, with Tillman getting credit for the 7-1 victory in working the first four frames. Tillman and Drake also limited Williams to five safeties in this game, matching the first-game mark.

The big inning for the Christians was the third, when three runners came home on a walk, singles by Hall and Eddie Clark and a double by John VanBens choten. Elon also counted single runs in the first and fourth and added two in the sixth as frosting on the cake.

The line scores follow:

FIRST GAME
Williams	002 100 0-3 5 0
Elon	120 023 x-8 11 3

SECOND GAME
Williams	000 001 0-1 5 1
Elon	103 102 x-7 7 1

Business Group Hears Speaker

The Elon College Business Club heard George T. Mallon, of Philadelphia, Pa., as guest speaker on "Careers in Food Service" at a club meeting held in Mooney Chapel Theatre on Monday night of this week.

The guest speaker is employment and training coordinator with Slater Food Service Company, which operates the food service here at Elon and at hundreds of other colleges and institutions all over the United States.

Talking Sports

(Continued From Page Three)

with others in the early battles who will see plenty of action.

On the mound we have some excellent pitching in the early games even in some of the games that were lost. A quick rundown on the four games with Susquehanna shows that Elon pitchers let the Pennsylvania outfit down with barely two hits in each of three games. In the fourth game the Susquehanna hitters got 12 hits off three Elon pitchers, but a total of eighteen hits in four games is good pitching.

Wayne Allen and George Oakley combined to limit Susquehanna to a pair of bingles in one game, which Elon won by a 3-0 count, and Jerry Tillman and Roy Erlandsen also let the invaders down with two hits in another game only to see five Elon errors and several walks cost the Christians a 7 to 2 decision.

Perhaps the top performance of the entire Susquehanna series was by Mike Cleveland a freshman right-hander from Arlington, Va., who went the entire seven innings and let the enemy down with only two hits in winning a 4 to 0 victory.

May Day Theme

(Continued From Page One)

time for relaxation in the traditional western square dance, and variety will be furnished by a chorus line of "Can-Can" girls from one of the earliest western show places. There will be the usual comedy dances, with the pageant climaxed by the traditional winding of the May Pole.

Art Exhibit Is Held On Campus

Art enthusiasts of the area saw an outstanding exhibit of the art work of Mrs. W. D. Rippy and John Fox both of them students of Miss Lila Newman, in a showing sponsored by the college in Society Hall last Sunday and Monday.

The exhibit consisted of works in oils, water colors, charcoal, pencil, ink and tapestry. Also shown were architectural sketches by Fox and some ceramics by Mrs. Rippy.

Susquehanna

(Continued from Page Three)

and walking three. Cleveland fanned two of the visitors in three different innings and whiffed at least one batter in every frame.

Giving young Cleveland a working margin early in the game, Danny Hall rocketed a singleton homer in the first inning. After the Christians had added another run in the third on two errors and a single, Hall iced the game when he smacked his second homer of the day, this one coming with Cleveland on the sacks by way of a double.

The line score follows:
Susquehanna 000 000 0-0 2 2
Elon 101 020 x-4 5 2
Williams, Gibney (3), Billig (6) and Eberly; Cleveland and Cheek. Losing Pitcher—Williams. Home Run—Hall (Elon) 2, with none on in first, with one on in fifth.

Larson Speaks

(Continued From Page One)

points of historical interest. He was named executive secretary of the state's Confederate Centennial Commission when it was established by the legislature in 1959.

Donald Rankin, of Miami Beach, Fla., is president of the Elon chapter of Pi Gamma Mu this year. Other officers are Clifford Hardy, of Franklin Park, N. J., vice-president; Mary Ann Hepner, of Philadelphia, Pa., secretary, and Dr. H. H. Cunningham, treasurer.

Quill At Will

(Continued From Page Two)

vilages are taken away from the majority. He not only cheats himself of honor and self respect, but he also cheats his fellow students in more ways than one.

She was only a photographer's daughter but she was well developed.

West Girls Win In Cage Event

The West Dorm girls, paced by the sharpshooting of Kay Jeffries and Carol Copeland, grabbed the girls cage championship by posting three straight victories in the tournament that concluded the girls' intramural season.

The West outfit grabbed the tourney title by defeating the Independents 27-13, turning back Third Virginia 31-8 and downing Second Virginia 26-7. Other teams in the tourney were Tau Zeta and First Virginia.

The individual scoring leaders and points made were Marian McVey, Independents, 40; Carol Copeland, West, 33; Kay Jeffries, West, 29; Peggy Saunders, Third Virginia, 26; and Martin, Second Virginia, 15 points.

Sloan Speaker At Bible Meet

Dr. W. W. Sloan, professor of Bible at Elon College, attended the annual meeting of the southern section of the National Association of Biblical Instructors and the Society of Biblical Literature and Exegesis, which was held at Guilford College. The program featured a seminar dealing with "Special Features of Today's World."

Dr. Sloan was one of six Biblical scholars invited to address the group, presenting a paper entitled "What Is The 'Mystery on the Mountain?'" The paper was a criticism of the recent book, "Mystery on the Mountain," written by Theodore Reid, a volume in which the author attempts to psychoanalyze the Hebrew people who were at Mount Sinai.

Sigma Phi

(Continued From Page Three)

In addition to the win over the Bandits, the Sigma Mu five topped Sigma Phi Two behind Dick Purdy's 17 counters and toppled the Sleepers as Riddle also hit 17 points.

Sigma Phi One, after losing to Kappa Psi at mid-season, had followed the leaders doggedly down the stretch. Then when Kappa Psi dropped two in the final week, Sigma Phi belted the Sleepers 44 to 36 with a team effort that netted first place in the standings. In the playoffs, the Rat Pack topped Sigma Phi 54-49, and ITK edged past Kappa Psi 48-43. These wins sent the Rat Pack and ITK into the finals, which were still unplayed at this writing.

The team managers, at a meeting last week, named an All-Campus squad of ten players, including three from Kappa Psi and two each from the Rat Pack and ITK. The All-Campus includes Allen Foster, Tommie Oliver and Mike Grafco, all of Kappa Psi; Eddie Clark and Tom Piccininni, of ITK; Bill Graham and Jerry Tillman, of the Rat Pack; Dick Bevvitt, of the Bandits; Bill Abbott, of the Sleepers; and Jim Moore, of Sigma Phi.

The final regular-season standings follow:

	W	L	Pct.
Sigma Phi One	12	1	.923
ITK One	11	2	.846
Kappa Psi One	11	2	.846
Rat Pack	10	3	.769
Sigma Mu	9	4	.692
Bandits	9	4	.692
Sleepers	8	5	.615
Alpha Pi One	5	8	.386
Sigma Phi Two	4	9	.308
Gunners	4	9	.308
Satellites	3	10	.231
Kappa Psi Two	3	10	.231
ITK Two	2	11	.154
Alpha Pi Two	0	13	.000

ADDED NAME

The name of Eleanor Smith, of Winston-Salem, should have been included in the recent list of honor students for the fall semester, which were published in the semi-annual Dean's List.

A man can usually tell what kind of a time he is having at a party by the look on his wife's

TERRELL FEATURED IN COLUMN

William B. Terrell, Elon's alumni secretary, who is pictured above watching one of the winter football workouts, comes in for special attention in the "Reid This" column in this issue. H. Reid, the Alumni journalist who writes the column for the Maroon and Gold, was a visitor on the campus recently and snapped the picture of the alumni leader while both were watching the grid drills.

Virgil Fox Concert Is Scheduled

(Continued From Page One)

GOLF MEETS

ELON 14 1-2, PFEIFFER 3 1-2

Bobby West fired a 73 and Buddy Briggs a 74 to pace the Elon golfers to a 14 1-2 to 3 1-2 victory over the Pfeiffer linksmen at Pfeiffer on Thursday, March 22nd, starting Elon off with a win in the opening meet.

MATCH SCORES: West, Elon, over Williams, 2 1-2 to 1-2; Briggs, Elon, over Richards, 2 to 1; Best Ball—Elon won 2 to 1. Kyle, Elon, over Rogers, 3 to 0; Lawrence, Elon, over Robey, 2 to 1; Best Ball—Elon won 3 to 0.

EAST CAROLINA 14, ELON 13

Elon's Bobby West was medalist with a 74 and Elon's top pair of West and Buddy Briggs gained a 6-3 decision, but East Carolina won the second and third four-somes to edge Elon 14-13 in a six-man match at Greenville on Tuesday, March 27th.

MATCH SCORES: West, Elon, over Romineau, 3 to 0; Brogden, ECC, over Briggs, 2 to 1; Best Ball—Elon won 2 to 1. Brown, ECC over Kyle, 2 to 1; Rose, ECC, over Ciannello, 3 to 0; Best Ball—Elon won 3 to 0. Lawrence, Elon, over Taylor, 2 1-2 to 1-2; Sauve, ECC, over Harding, 3 to 0; Best Ball—ECC won 2 1-2 to 1-2.

KITTENGER IS ILL

Prof. John Kittenger, of Elon English faculty, is in Alamance County Hospital, following a heart attack which he suffered two weeks ago. He was reported able to sit up yesterday, but he will be in the hospital for some time yet.

Lambda Omega Rho

Some fraternities get athletes. Some get brains. This fraternity gets virtually everybody, including women. It has fanatically loyal members in more than 100 countries around the world. It has no pin and its only ritual is the simple act of enjoying Coca-Cola every single day of the year.

Its name? L O R—Lovers of Refreshment. Join up today.

SIGN OF GOOD TASTE

Bottled under authority of The Coca-Cola Company

BURLINGTON COCA-COLA BOTTLING COMPANY