

Mid-Winters Weekend Will Be Festive Occasion

Elon Bill Is To Get First Consideration

The mock bill of the Elon College delegation to the 1965 Session of the State Student Legislature will be the first order of business when the mock legislature convenes at the Old Capitol in Raleigh next Friday morning.

Mike Herbert, head of the Elon delegation, will present the bill which would require four years of physical education in the public high schools of North Carolina in the Senate, and C. V. May, a student senior in the junior class, will speak for the bill in the House. They will be backed in both chambers by Delegates Linda Johnston, also a candidate for recording secretary; Jesse Weaver, and Gail Campbell, and Alternates Gwen Hancock, John Harris, Chippy Moore and Jim Torrance.

Much work has gone into the planning of the bill and because the delegation had its bill ready so far in advance of the other school delegations, that the SSL officers decided to let Elon present its bill first.

In past years when an Elon delegation had a bill, it was usually so far down on the agenda that time did not permit its presentation on the floor.

During the three day session, the delegation will be staying at the Sir Walter Raleigh Hotel. The coming week will be spent in final preparation for the Elon bill and the study of other bills to be presented by other colleges.

About forty colleges and universities from North Carolina will be represented at the mock legislature.

ELON GROUP TO STATE STUDENT LEGISLATURE

Members of the Elon delegation going to the State Student Legislature in Raleigh next week are: front, left to right, Gail Campbell, Linda Johnston, Gwen Hancock, and Chippy Moore; back row, C. V. May, Jesse Weaver, Jim Torrance, Mike Herbert, head delegate, and John Harris.

Elon Works With Other Institutions In Piedmont University Organization

Elon College is one of seventeen liberal arts institutions located chiefly in the Piedmont area of North Carolina, which make up the membership of the Piedmont University Center, an organization which represents one of the most significant steps in the long history of higher education in the Old North State.

The Piedmont University Center is a central coordinating agency, built upon the concept of inter-institutional cooperation. This concept is not to be confused with institutional uniformity, for the Center's cooperative purpose is to assist the various institutions in maximizing their individual strengths, minimizing their weaknesses and giving stronger support to each college's unique characteristics.

The seventeen institutions now members of the Piedmont University Center include A. and T., Belmont

Abbey, Bennett, Catawba, Davidson, Elon, Greensboro, High Point, Johnson C. Smith, Lenoir Rhyne, Livingstone, Mars Hill, Pfeiffer, Salem, Wake Forest and Winston-Salem State. The group includes men's colleges, women's colleges and coeducational colleges, among them state-related, church-related, Protestant, Catholic, White and Negro institutions.

The University Center program is (Continued on Page Two)

Coronation Of Valentine Rulers Set For Dinner-Dance Feature Tonight

By MELVIN SHREVES

Pat Dean of Burlington and Rex Garrison of Norfolk, Va., will be crowned as Elon's Valentine Queen and King tonight at a dinner-dance in McEwen Memorial Dining Hall between the hours of 7 and 11 o'clock. The first of three events planned by the Elon Student Government Association for the revived Mid-Winters observance on the Elon campus.

The Queen and the King, who will reign over a festive weekend, were elected in a campuswide balloting held on Tuesday as a preliminary for the Mid-Winters Weekend. Other nominees for Queen included Eileen Cobb, Ann Cunningham, Sue Ferguson, Pam Hitchings, Kay Jefferys, Marie Schilling, Connie Theodore and Joe Warner. Nominees for King, in addition to the winner, were Doug Amick, Frank Briley, Alex Burnette, Scott Crabtree, Art Davis, Ron Hodgkinson, Stan Switzer and Bobby West.

Dinner will be served by the Slater Food Service on second floor. McEwen as diners enjoy their meal to the music of the Jack White Combo which will also play for the dance which follows. The event will be open to couples only with girls attendance getting eleven o'clock lates.

After the East Carolina-Elon basketball game Saturday night in Alumni Memorial Gym, a combo dance will be held in McEwen for the entire Student Body. Lates have been granted until one o'clock by the Dean of Women so that the dance will last until that time.

On Sunday, as a final event to the week-end, a bus will be available to take students to the circus at the Greensboro Coliseum for the price of admission to the circus.

Elon Girl Will Be Candidate For Post At Raleigh Meet

Linda Johnston, a coed junior from Fairfax, Virginia, is Elon's candidate for recording secretary of the State Student Legislature which convenes in the Old Capitol Building on Thursday in Raleigh.

A sister of Tau Zeta Phi Sorority, Miss Johnston has been active in student government work since her Freshman year. At the present time she is a senator from the Junior Class and is serving as a delegate to the SSL.

In the Senate, Linda has served on the Finance Committee, the Homecoming Float Committee, and served as chairman of the Campus Affairs Committee. Last year she served the dual role of Senator and Secretary of the Senate.

During this year she has served as Business Manager of the Phi Psi Cli, the Elon yearbook, historian of her sorority, and a member of the Orientation Committee. She was the Sweetheart of Alpha Phi Delta last year.

As a member of the Young Democrats Club, Linda served on the publicity committee and was the club's sponsor in the Homecoming parade. Academically she holds a B minus average majoring in Spanish. She won the Spanish award two years ago.

SEEKS OFFICE

LINDA JOHNSTON

Heart Fund Drive Is Honor For Former Faculty Member

During the month of February, a drive is being made on campus among the students and faculty for the Heart Fund in memory of the late Professor Dudley Watson, who died after open heart surgery in Chapel Hill last summer.

Watson, who was 27 at the time of his death, taught in the business administration department at Elon College from 1960 to 1963. He received his Bachelor's Degree from Wake Forest and the Master's Degree at the University of North Carolina. He was engaged in doctoral study at the time of his death.

The drive among the faculty will be conducted by the college chaplain, the Rev. John S. Graves, and Sigma Mu Sigma Fraternity will conduct the drive among the students under the direction of Roy Sonovick.

Heart Fund collectors are being displayed in the Snack Bar, the Book Store, at the Cashier's Office, and in the Rotunda of Alamanca Building.

Students Suffer Two Fatal Hurts In Automobile Accident

Two Elon College students suffered fatal injuries early on the morning of Monday, February 1st, in an automobile accident which occurred on Highway 70-A about four miles east of Greensboro.

William Aaron Cole, Jr., 22, of Portsmouth, Va., an Elon sophomore, was apparently killed instantly in the accident that occurred about 12:30 o'clock on Monday morning, February 1st, according to information released by investigating members of the North Carolina Highway Patrol.

The second victim, Joseph Robert Sawyer, 21, of Zebulon, a member of the junior class at Elon, was taken to the Cone Memorial Hospital in Greensboro shortly after the accident, and he died in surgery at 8:30 o'clock the following morning.

Highway Patrolman Roy Holman, who investigated the accident, stated that the car occupied by the two students apparently skidded on the icy pavement on a curve and crashed into a tree on Highway 70-A as the two students were returning to the Elon campus from Greensboro.

The patrolman stated that the car slid on a patch of ice, turned around several times on the highway and then skidded off the right shoulder of the road and struck a tree.

Young Cole, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Cole, Jr., of Portsmouth, Va., had been out of college during the fall semester and had worked at Goldman's Shoe Store in Burlington while out of college. In addition to his parents, he was survived by a younger brother, a paternal grandfather and a maternal grandmother.

Funeral services for Cole were held from the St. Christopher's

TWO ARE ACCIDENT VICTIMS

WILLIAM COLE

ROBERT SAWYER

Cunningham Visiting Speaker For Civil War Round Table

Dr. H. H. Cunningham, chairman of the department of history at Elon College, was a featured guest speaker for the Civil War Round Table at Fort Wayne, Ind., on Monday night, February 1, speaking on the subject of "Civil War Medicine."

In addressing the Civil War group in Fort Wayne, Dr. Cunningham was addressing the oldest Round Table group in the Middle West and one of the oldest and most active groups of the type in America. The Fort Wayne organization includes among its members some of the best-known collectors of Civil War materials in the country and several recognized historians of the war.

In speaking on the topic of "Civil War Medicine," Dr. Cunningham was speaking of a subject upon which he is recognized as an outstanding authority. He is the author of "Doctors In Gray," a volume which is acclaimed as a definitive study of the Confederates army medical service during the Civil War years. He has also written numerous articles on Civil War medicine services for various historical publications.

Orchestra To Give Concert February 22nd

The College-Community Orchestra, which combines the best musical talent of Elon College and the Burlington and Alamance County area, will present its annual mid-winter concert in Whitley Auditorium on Monday night, February 22nd, with music lovers from both the campus and the surrounding section cordially invited to hear the program.

The College-Community Orchestra which has been hailed as one of the finest examples of campus and community cooperation, was first formed in October of last year under a project which originated jointly with Prof. Fletcher Moore, dean of Elon College and chairman of the Elon College music department, and with Dr. Malvin N. Artley, now of Greensboro, but was at that time a member of the musical staff of the Burlington City Schools.

At that time musicians from Burlington and those in the Elon College faculty and student body were invited to join the group, and rehearsals were started in October of last year and continued in weekly sessions on Monday night of each week during the remainder of the 1963-64 college year, with Dr. Artley serving as director of the orchestra.

The orchestra was received with high praise in both mid-winter and spring concert programs last year, and the weekly rehearsal gatherings have been continued this year. The concert in Whitley Auditorium on Monday night, February 22nd, is the first public appearance of the musical group this year. There is no admission charge for the program, which will be presented under the direction of Dr. Artley.

Elon Directory Is Yet Available

A few copies of the 1965 issue of the Student-Faculty Address Book are available to students in the office of Student Personnel Services. The cost is still twenty-five cents.

Elon Senior Wins $19,000 Scholarship For Medical Study At Bowman Gray

Leslie Donald Johnson, an Elon College senior from Burlington, has just been awarded one of eight Reynolds Scholarships for study at the Bowman Gray School of Medicine in Winston-Salem, with the grant totalling $19,000 for four years of medical school study and one year of internship after graduation.

Johnson, who has been an honor student throughout his four years at Elon College, is a member of the Order of the Oak, academic honor society on the Elon campus. He formerly held the Western Electric Scholarship at Elon and currently holds the scholarship provided by the Alamance-Caswell Medical Auxiliary.

The Reynolds Scholarship which he has just been awarded, along with seven other North Carolina college students, is part of a program sponsored by the Z. Smith Reynolds Foundation. It provides a total of $14,000 for expenses during the four years of medical study and then supplements his scholar's internship salary during his fifth year of medical education to provide him with an income of $5,000 for that year.

The recipients of the scholarships, who will enter the Bowman Gray School of Medicine in September, were selected by the medical school's committee on admissions on the basis of character, scholarship,

SCHOLARSHIP

DONALD JOHNSON

College; R. McPhail Herring, Jr., of Clinton, a senior at the University of North Carolina; John S. Kitchin of Wake Forest, a senior at Duke University; John McL. Nordan of Concord, a senior at N. C. State; John A. Phillips of Cameron, a junior at the University of North Carolina; and Julian R. Taylor of Raleigh, a senior at N. C. State.

Formal presentation of the scholarships will be made on May 14th at the annual awards banquet held in Winston-Salem. Dr. William B. Castle, Nobel laureate and Peabody Professor of Medicine at Harvard Medical School, will be the principal speaker.

In order to be eligible for a Reynolds Scholarship, a student must be a native and/or a legal resident of North Carolina. The recipient is expected to follow his profession in North Carolina after the completion of his formal medical education.

This is not the first scholarship award won by Johnson, for he was one of two Elon College students who earned $1,000 scholarships for the current college year for outstanding records as salesmen for the Colliers Encyclopedia during the past summer. He and Larry Crim, an Elon sophomore from Winston-Salem, were presented the Colliers scholarships in ceremonies held on the Elon campus earlier this year.

Other recipients, in addition to the Elon senior, are Robert A. Buchanan, Jr., of Greensboro, a senior at the University of North Carolina; L. Thompson Heffner, Jr., of Newton, a senior at Davidson