MY BIG NIGHT

One of the more memorable nights at Elon was the one I spent in West.

I was on a trip to Graham County and needed a place to stay.

West looked as good as any.

Some of my bosom pals used to live there, as I recall.

So, this buddy of mine and I lit into West about 10:30 one night. No sense in being formal, we thought, so we got comfortable. That meant shedding shirt and trousers, or course. It was a hot night.

That being the case, I needed a shower.

Mind you, I'm not a showoff. I did drape myself with a towel.

I had some difficulty finding the girls' shower. Location of things surely have changed since I was at Elon. I bumbled about on those first floor corridors, feeling like an idiot in a loin cloth.

Still, there were no objections.

Well, it was a pretty good shower. I sang a few off-key stanzas of "Here's To Dear Old Elon," while soaking up some warm water. I see the coeds have hot water, now.

Then -- let's see. Oh, yes. I went for a easy paced shave. I forget what else I did while I was in the ladies room.

I remember, though, that no one interrupted.

Then, I sacked out. It was not natal day, but I celebrated, anyway, in my birthday suit.

Meantime, my pal, a chicken inspector (no kidding -- he works for the Virginia Agriculture Department's poultry division), forsook modesty and headed for the shower minus towel.

Again, no protests.

Oh, yes. There is one teeny-weeny detail in these bare facts I suppose I should have told you. We booked into West between semesters when there were no tenants -- not even the first girl--there.

But if I had mentioned that, you wouldn't have read this far.

Westafer Is Judge For Piano Event

Prof. Walter Westafer, member of the Elon College music faculty, was at Atlantic Christian College in Wilson the last weekend in October to serve as judge for the piano events in the statewide auditions held under the auspices of the North Carolina Music Teachers Association.

These auditions, which were for both high school and college students, are part of the nationwide program of auditions held by the Music Teachers National Association. One entry from the North Carolina auditions will represent the state in the southern division events in Birmingham, Ala, in January.

Prof. Westafer is at present a member of the National Executive Board of the Music Teachers National Association.

NEWBERRY

ed then to drop the next four consecutive battles.

The Newberry squad, playing its first season under the tutelage of Coach Fred Herren, who stepped in this fall as successor to the veteran Harvey Kirkland, lost heavily from its veteran team of a year ago and proceeded to drop three games in succession to Appalachian, Catawba and Lenoir Rhyne before salvaging its first win against Concord by a 27 to 6 count. The Indians then lost to Wofford and Jacksonville State in the next two games.

Comparative scores on some games would indicate a very close battle between the Christians and Indians tomorrow night, for Appalachian toppled Elon 70 to 26 and rolled over Newberry 55 to 14. Elon ground out a 66 to 12 win over Concord, and Newberry toppled the same team 27 to 6.

However, the history of the Elon-Newberry rivalry has shown that it matters little what the previous record of the two teams may have been, the fans can always expect a rugged and head-knocking contest when the two teams get together.

UNUSUAL VIEW OF STAIRWAY IN MOFFETT DORMITORY

A worm's-eye view of one of the staircases in the beautiful and modern new Moffett Dormitory for men, which is part of the new $1,250,00 living-dining complex on Elon's new North Campus, is pictured above. The new men's dormitory is only one of three parts of the new living dining complex, which also includes the Staley Dormitory for women and the Harper Center that provides dining and recreational facilities for the residents of the two dorms.

ELON PLAYERS

With the scene laid in an alley, "Constantinople Smith" is a morality type dramatic comedy, with Dale Kaufman, of Charlotte, playing the title role of Constantinople Smith. Others in the cast for this play include Janet Sylvester, of Virginia Beach, Va., as Christina; and Rosemary Chiartas, of Huntingdon Valley, Pa., as Reality.

This play also features a number of dancers, including Barbara White, of McLean, Va.; Kathy Bamford, of Pennington, N.J.; Jim Gillespie, of Taftville, Conn.; Dyce Wyllie, of Mount Holly, N.J.; and Sherri Wyllie, of Mount Holly, N.J.

The other short play, "The Monkey's Paw," with its action laid in England about the turn of the century, will feature Brenda Pritchard, of Greensboro, as Mrs. White; Roger Oliver, of Virginia Beach, Va., as Mr. White; David Scudder, of Eclipse, Va., as Herbert; and Jim Gillespie, of Taftville, Conn., in a double role as Sergeant-Major Morris and Mr. Sampson.

Beale And Moore Top Offense

ing yards gained by Elon in the first six games of the year.

Combining the total yards gained by Burgin Beale and Emery Moore, the figures show that the two big Christian stars have gained a total of 1,740 yards, and the Elon squad as a whole had gained only 2,059 yards in combined passing and rushing. This meant that Beale and Moore as a twosome had gained more than 85 per cent of all the yards credited to Elon in six games.

Richard McGeorge, despite the rugged defense thrown at him in the Catawba engagement, still pulled in seven of Beale's throws against Catawba for a total of 119 yards, and this moved him to 585 yards on pass receptions in six games this fall and a three-year total of exactly 2100 yards on passes caught. He had caught 14 TD passes in his three seasons, not counting the Catamount tilt.

Along with these new records by Beale and McGeorge, both Grover Helsley and Ronnie O'Brien have also come up with the new individual marks in the first six games this season. Helsley's nine extra point kicks against Concord broke the old mark of six in a single game, and

O'Brien has run back punts for a total of 388 yards and has run back combined punts and kick-offs for a total of 525 yards, each of which represents a new seasonal mark in Elon's all-time statistics.

Maturity

To be able to stick with a job until it is finished. To be able to bear an injustice without wanting to get even.

To be able to carry money without spending it. And to do one's duty without being supervised.

"Change is exciting... especially when someone says to 'keep it!'"

Son - "Dad, Can I have the car tonight?"

Dad- "Johnny, what are your two feet for?"

Son - "The right's for the accelerator and the left's for the brake."

"You can tell a company by the men it keeps."
