VARSITY CHEERLEADERS CONTRIBUTE GREATLY TO ELON ATHLETICS

Proxmire Will Speak Tonight

Senator William Prox-mire, of Wisconsin, will speak in Whitley Auditorium on the Elon College campus at 8 o'clock tocampus at 8 o clock to-night, appearing under the auspices of the col-lege's Contemporary Af-fairs Symposium, a group which is sponsored by the Student Government As-sociation sociation.

His topic for tonight will be "Electoral Col-lege Reform," a subject which has been much in the public mind during recent months when the third party candidacy of George Wallace exerted a strong influence on the outcome of the 1968 presidential election.

FOUNDERS DAY

That first building on the Elon campus was the old administration building, which also contained classrooms for the young college. That first structure, which was destroy-ed by fire in 1923, was located about where the present Alamance Building is situated. The Elon College doors were opened to the first 76 students on Septem-ber 2, 1890, that group being the forerunners of the thousands of young men and women who attended Elon in the succeeding four score years.

Governor Scott will be another in the series of outstanding speakers who have been guests for the Elon Founders Day program in recent years, one of them having been Lyndon B. Johnson in the spring of 1962. Johnson came here while he was still vice-president and before he succeeded to the presidency following the death of Kennedy in November of that year.

The Elon College varsity cheerleaders, who are pictured above in full regalia and in the midst of their pep accessories, have meant much to the Fighting Christian sports squads through this 1968-69 year, both in football during the fall season and in basketball during the winter months. They will strong support to the Christian cagers in the annual Carolinas Conference tournament in Winoffer stong support to the onristian cagers in the annual carolina's conference configuration of Wilmington, Del. Others, left to right, are Nina Martin, of Jacksonville, Fla.; Katie Patrick, of Hampton, Va.; Elaine Beach, of Charleston, S.C.; Joan King, of Hendersonville, Jean Barrett, of Charlotte; Margie Antal, of Carversville, Pa.; and Ursula Anulis, of Port Chester, N.Y.

Carolina "B" And Bar-C-L Paces Dorm Leagues; TKE "A" Leads Frat Cagers

The Carolina "B" and TKE "A" cage squads finished the campus cage season with undefeated records, the only two teams in the intramural ranks to round out perfect campaigns. Regular season play finished last week.

Led by Gary Brown, Carolina "B" romped over TKE "B" to the tune of 56-30 win to close out the season. Brown had 19 points in leading Carolina "B" and Tom Baldwin was high man for TKE "B" with eight points.

In other Dormitory "B" League games the Smith "B" clinched sec-ond place and a tourna-win over the Veterans Club. Andy Crew had 20 points for Smith "B" and Sam Moon had 19 and Larry Smith 16 for the Veterans Club.

In the Fraternity Lea-gue the TKE "A" and Sigma Phi Beta "A" e-stablished themselves as head and shoulders above the rest of the league. TKE finished with a perfect 5-0 record, while Sigma Phihada 3-2 mark, with one game yet to be decided because of a pro-test by Kappa Psi Nu. The Bar-C-L club fin-ished in the win projection ished in the win position in the Dormitory "A" League with a 6-1 record for the season. With two close wins last week, Bar-C-L defeated Moffitt "A" 43 to 41 in a game that was not decided un-til the last two seconds. Ron Bolton and Rick Kite each had 12 points for the winners, and Dave Davis had 10 points for Moffitt.

In another closely fought game later in the week the Bar-C-L club won by the same two-point margin as they topped the Independents 60 to 58. Jerry Midkiff took game scoring honors as he led the Independents with 22 points. Kite had 21 points to lead the winners.

The place and show positions were not clearcut in the "A" League, how-ever. Moffitt "A" came from behind to score a 54-48 win over Smith "A" as Pete Kouchinski had 20 points. Dennis Everett led the Smiths with 16 counters. This win gave the Moffitt quint undisputed possession of second place in the league and a berth in the tournament. The Independents tied with the Punch Bunch for third place in the league standings as they romped over Carolina "A" to the tune of 96-46 win. Midkiff had 24 points for the winners, while Dean Mc-Brayer had 20 for the losers.

In a special draw to determine tournament pairings TKE was given the top seed, and the frater-nity boys will face Moffitt in the first round. Other first - round pairings showed the Independents playing Smith "B" and playing Smith "B" and Carolina "B' meeting Bar-C-L, with Sigma Phi Beta facing the TKE "B" squad. The campus tournament began on Monday of this week in Alumni Memorial Gymnasium. The regular - season

Warner and Tyrone Rowell; and "The Zoo Story," featuring Wayne Seymour and Ben Bayol.

Topping off that year's Elon Player activities was the presentation of the Broadway musical of "South Pacific," great masterpiece of Rogers and Hammerstein, with Laura Rice, Ann Cunning-ham and Dale Ward in the featured roles.

The college year of 965-66 opened with the presentation of "A presentation of De-presentation Named De-starred Streetcar Named De-sire," which starred Laura Rice, Jo Warner, Dale Ward and Nancy Boone. Two musical shows were mid-winter features, one of them being "The Fantasticks, which starred Connie Theodore and Wayne Sey-mour, followed by "Li'l Abner," with Jo Warner, Dale Ward, Duly Winkler and Ben Bayol starring. Duly Winkler and Holly

Raad starred in the final show of the year, "The Importance of Being Earnest," from the pen of Oscar Wilde. The 1966-67 stage sea-son found Prof. Ed. Pil son found Prof. Ed Pilkington taking over direction of theatrical activities, and the Players opened the year by pre-senting "J.B." in Novemsenting "J.B." in Novem-ber, starring Wayne Sey-mour, Ben Bayol, Dale Ward and Sharon Hep-burn. In the late winter the Players gave two one-act plays, "Miss Julie" and "The Man Who Would Not Go To Heaven"

Not Go To Heaven." The 1967-68 stage season opened with the presentation of George Ber-nard Shaw's "Arms And The Man," starring Lloyd Young and Jim Gillespie. This was followed by four short plays in December, including "Not Enough Rope," "The Golden Axe," "No Why" and "Rough Draft."

Finale for the year was the production of "Waiting For Godot," which won statewide honors at Chapel Hill.

The present 1968-69 stage season opened in October with the rendi-tion of "Antigone," with featured actors including Glenda Condon, Jim Gillespie and Dale Kauf-Gillespie and Dale Kauf-ner, A pair of student directed short plays, "The Monkey's Paw" and "Constantinople Smith," was given in November, followed by "Odd Cou-ple" in December.

Most recent Player production has been the fine rendition of Mo-liere's "Tartuffe," which was produced during the winter mini-term and carried on tour of five high schools in the Burlington and Alamance County schools system. This extension of the Elon dramatic program into area high schools portends greater things in the future for Elon dramatics.
