

CATAWBA INVADES ELON STADIUM

It seems that every game Elon has played this year has been a "big game". Well, the Catawba-Elon match this Saturday at 2 P.M. is no exception. The Homecoming contest featuring two Conference foes, each posting victories last week. Catawba beat Gardner-Webb, 30-7 and we all know what Elon did to Carson-Newman. The Carson-Newman upset could very well have been the turning point of the season for Elon's Fighting Christians. The pieces that would not fit earlier seem to have fallen into their places and it wouldn't surprise me if Elon came up with a very convincing victory.

SOCCER TEAM

On Friday October, 13, the Elon College soccer team made its successful debut with a 2-1 victory over Greensboro College. The victory marked a month long battle by coach Harris to field a competitive team.

Defense was the key factor to the Elon victory. The Greensboro offensive attack was constantly thwarted by the aggressive play of the Christian backs. Most notable was halfback Steve Rutledge, who constantly cleared the ball out of the Elon end. The inability of the Greensboro backfield to do just that in their own end was a key factor in Elon's control of the ball offensively.

Goalie John Finch was also important in keeping the defense together. Finch kept his backs throughout the game, directing them how to set up and switch off. His talking undoubtedly kept the backs at ease and kept him on top of the action. Even though he was not tested severely by the Greensboro offense, his years of soccer experience were clearly evident.

The Elon offense, often confused by their inexperience, was sparked by Senior Ray McClure. McClure, also an experienced soccer player, set up the offensive attack with his speed and footwork, and constantly made the Greensboro defense look poor.

Tempers flared in the final minutes of play when the game was apparently out of reach for the Greensboro team. Both benches emptied and a few punches were thrown, but that was the extent of the hostilities.

The remainder of the Elon schedule is as follows: October 20, at Guilford; October 28, at High Point; and November 18, at Hargrave Academy. However, coach Harris has indicated that he would like to schedule a few more home games, possibly against Guilford and High Point.

Elon Upsets Carson-Newman Lawton and Thomas Star

An 18 play, 69 yard touchdown drive, which was climaxed by a 3 yard plunge by Make Lawton, proved to be the margin of victory Saturday night for Elon College. Lawton, who carried the ball 12 of those 18 plays, picked up a game total of 156 yards against the nationally second ranked Carson-Newman Eagles in the 16-9 win.

Carson-Newman, which came to Elon with an undefeated record took an early lead with a 22 yard field goal by David Ward. But the offense came back as it sprung loose its wrath, Mike Lawton. Mike, who is not known for being a patient person on a football field, broke away for the game's first TD as he rambled 65 yards. Elon's point after failed.

CN put points on the board again with 10:14 remaining in the first half when quarter-back Jim Sullivan connected with Tim George. The play, which covered 23 yards, put CN back in the lead, 9-6. The point after failed.

Elon's Maroon and Gold set out in the second half looking more confident and organized. Dave Davis' field goal tied the score at 9-9 in the third quarter.

CN, who has come up with victories in its last seven meetings with Elon, had a rough night in the "breaks" department. Elon's alert defense came up with six fumbles giving the offense possession and the opportunity to consume some of the clock. Joe West, who had an average night in his passing game, maneuvered the offense well by keeping an even pace and consuming time.

One of the most familiar sights in CN's backfield was Elon's middle guard, junior Buddy Thomas. Buddy, who dumped Sullivan six times, spent the evening pressuring the quarterback and causing him to throw inaccurate passes and putting the Eagles in difficult long yardage situations.

The Elon defense had its best game of the season. The line's aggressiveness, lead by Bob May, Nick Angelone and Glen Ellis, accounted for CN having its worst game of the season on the ground. The defensive backfield had a good game, allowing only 6 completions in 19 attempts. The defense put it all together with a team effort. The gang tackles and the alert recoveries were the keys to the win. Best of luck Saturday afternoon.

ences with the Subcommittee.

Before going to Washington, Mr. Rusher—a graduate of Princeton's School of Public and International Affairs and the Harvard Law School, and since 1949 a member of the New York Bar—practiced law for seven years with Shearman & Sterling & Wright, Wall Street's largest law firm.

Mr. Rusher's political activities have been well documented in the national press. He was one of the handful of GOP pros, who, back in 1961, launched the draft of Barry Goldwater for the Republican Presidential nomination. He is the Vice Chairman of the American Conservative Union. Pursuing his lively interest in international affairs, he serves as Co-Chairman of the American-African Affairs Association, an educational institution dedicated to promoting better American understanding of Africa's special problems.

As a speaker and debater, and on survey trips for the Association and other groups, Mr. Rusher has traveled on six continents to almost every country in the non-Communist world. He brings to his lectures the depth of experience and the wealth of information with which these trips have supplied him.

Dear Interested Juniors . . .

Oh! I forgot. We don't have any!! We didn't realize that so many of the Junior Class were so apathetically illiterate. At the meeting of the Junior Class Tuesday night at 7:00 (which was publicized in the Communicator), the seven class members in attendance were extremely disheartened because nobody showed up. Therefore, we feel it unnecessary to elect a Junior Class Sponsor because as it appears, if past attendance records are any indication, she probably wouldn't show up for the Homecoming anyway. As a result, THANK YOU JUNIORS!!! . . . FOR NOTHING!!!
