

Summer Quarter

According to an announcement by Dean Joseph H. Douglass, the summer quarter will operate as usual this year. The first session extends from June 7 to July 14, and the second, from July 15 to August 21. As in former years, the courses offered will be those required or recommended by the State Department, together with offerings from our own curricula. All courses will count toward college graduation for those who have matriculated for the bachelor's degree.

sincerity and understanding in the original German. Representative of this group was "Wie Melodien Zieht Es Mir," by Johannes Brahms. Favorites among the French group were Chaminade's "Si J'etais Jardinier," and "Le Papillon" by Felix Fourdrain. Then followed five charming little numbers of which "The Last Hour" by A. Walter Kramer and "Rapunzel" by John Sacco turned out to be happy selections.

Employed to end the program were a group of Negro spirituals without which song recitals appear incomplete. Here were "Here's One," arranged by William Grant Still, "O Lord, I Done Done" arranged by Edward Boatner, and Boatner's "On My Journey." Demonstrating throughout the performance a combination of feeling, sincerity and confidence. Miss Terry's rendition was easily one of the major cultural events of the school year.

"DEAR RUTH"

Culminating a busy year of dramatic activity under the direction of Miss Lois P. Turner, the Drama Guild of Fayetteville State Teachers College concluded on April 7 a two-evening performance of "Dear Ruth," Norman Kronso's fast-moving two-act comedy. Although a new comer to the floodlights, Ella Jane Chandler in the title role, about whose twisted love affair the whole production centered, played quite acceptably opposite Edward Taylor whose stage experience was evident in his portrayal of the daring and flashy Lieutenant William Seawright. Likewise, did Bertha Barnes as Mrs. Edith Wilkins, Thelma Garris as Marian Wilkins, James E. Purcell as Judge Harry Wilkins, and James Pelham as a rival suitor for Ruth's hand, give good account of themselves.

The Fayetteville Drama Guild has been active throughout the school year. During the fall quarter, "The Slave with Two Faces," "Rider of Dreams", and "Cajun" were given, and during the winter quarter Vane Sutton's "Outward Bound" was presented on the campus and taken to a number of near-by towns. On February 7 a one-day speech clinic was held for the high schools of eastern North Carolina with Mrs. E. A. Thomas of Shaw University as critic teacher. The Fayetteville players were represented at the annual meeting of the Southern Association of Dramatic Arts held on April 14-18 at the Florida A. and M. College, Tallahassee, Florida. They presented the play "Highness" by Ruth Giorloff.

Fayetteville State College was admitted to membership in the Inter-collegiate Drama Association at a recent meeting of that unit held at Shaw University, Raleigh, North Carolina.

speaker of note brought to the campus this year by the Young Women's Christian Association. Several months ago, Dr. Charles Jones, a great liberal and the pioneering pastor of the Presbyterian Church in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, was the Vesper speaker.

The Y. W. C. A. ended its year of activity on April 12, 1948, with an installation service for the new officers. Miss Alma Young, retiring president, gave a summary of the work for the year 1947-48, and Dr. Douglass installed the incoming officers. Miss Young said in part that the "Y" had.

1. Sent delegates to several conferences.
2. Sponsored vespers and Lenten services.

3. Made several visits to the sanatorium.

4. Directed a girl scout troop and sponsored a girl scout course. The new officers for the year 1948-49 are as follows

President, Mollie Boone; Vice President, Addie Williams; Recording Secretary, Annie Witherspoon; Corresponding Secretary, Queen Lewis; Treasurer, Dorothy Crawley. The Committee Chairmen are: World Affairs Committee, Jane Chandler and Thelma Garris; Social Service Committee, Thelma Harris and Lula Williams; Worship Committee, June McCown; Publicity Committee, Virginia MacMillan, Community Committee, Alena Stokes; Program Committee, Addie Williams; Freshman Committee, Josephine Mann; and Membership Committee, Artelya Whitley.

Newbold Sponsors Varied Program

The Teen-age Club of the Newbold Training School is completing another successful year of work. The club, organized three years ago, is composed of girls in the early teens. Its purpose is to help the girls to solve problems peculiar to adolescence and to make the necessary adjustments for future womanhood. In order to meet these needs, bi-monthly meetings are held in which the girls discuss routine business, hold informal browsing periods, and listen to guest lecturers.

At recent meetings of the club, Miss Grace Melchor and Mrs. Ruth Milberrie, both of State Teachers College, were guest speakers. Miss Melchor, who was introduced by Johnsie Parker,

DR. DU BOIS HONORED

Fisk University and the New York Fisk Club sponsored a dinner honoring Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois on the occasion of his 80th birthday, February 23, 1948. Regarding the militant career of Dr. Du Bois, one speaker said: "Through the double-edged weapon of profound scholarship and the articulation of an aggressive program for achieving basic respect for human personality, Dr. Du Bois has cut through the thick wall of prejudice and hate and has thrown a shaft of light on the fundamental ills of the world. With effective persuasion he has beckoned the world to lift itself above its sordid pursuits and to devote itself to the high purposes of human decency and world brotherhood."
