

JOHNNY BUTLER SAYS

Come on, students, let's get together and give those boys who are fighting so hard for us on the gridiron our full support. Let them know that we are behind them 100 per cent. How about it?

Hats off to Pete Simmons, Murray, Wallace, Wesby, Wiley, McLaughlin, Harris, Gaines, Fain, Nelson, "Cheese" Pelham, McDonald and the other Broncos for the fine performances they have turned in.

It was good to see "Reco" Lawrence return to the line up and to see him rip off 22 yards the first time he carried the ball. Reco has been on the side line with injuries since the beginning of the season.

Orchids to fighting little Emmett Parker who batted down a "sure" touchdown pass in the end zone against Morristown.

November 6 — (Homecoming) Norfolk Unit, here.

November 13 — Livingston College, there.

November 20 — Elizabeth City Teachers College, there.

November 25 — Maryland State College, here.

I'll be seeing you again next month. So long.

Dr. Thurman's Ten Best Hymns

Here are the 10 favorite hymns of Dr. Howard Thurman, co-minister of the Church of the Fellowship of All People in San Francisco, California. Dr. Thurman made the selection in response to the following question: "Let us assume you had before you a person who never heard of Christianity and out of all the hymn books you could teach him only 10 hymns. Which 10 would you select? Here is Dr. Thurman's answer:

"Dear Lord and Father of Mankind." — John G. Whittier.

"Still, Still With Thee" — Harriet B. Stowe.

"O Master, Let Me Walk With Thee". — Washington Gladden.

"Breathe On Me, Breath of God." — Edwin Hatch.

"Spirit of God" — George Croly.

"Be Still, My Soul" — Katharina Von Schilegal.

"Faith of Our Fathers" — Frederick W. Faber.

"O God Our Help in Ages Past" — Isaac Watts.

"We Are Climbing Jacob's Ladder"—(Spiritual).

"God of My Life" — Phillip Doddridge.

The "Y" Circle Of Faith

We welcome most sincerely freshmen and other new students into our "Y" circle of faith. Membership in the Young Women's Christian Association makes you a part of an amazing fellowship which, beginning in 1944, now reaches around the world.

The "Y" pushes what ever is good and meaningful on the campus. Just now we lend our help to the freshmen and to "our boys" on the gridiron. Don't forget that membership in the "Y" is open to all students and instructors who are one in purpose with the principles upon which our organization is built.

STUDENTS EXTEND WELCOME

(Continued From Page 1) schools of thought. Feel free, therefore, to take part in our various discussions and activities, for we sincerely need your assistance in building here a greater Fayetteville State Teachers College. We know that you will become an enthusiastic citizen in our college community.

Here at the college, we like the idea of "mutual helpfulness" and "mutual responsibility." We, therefore, invite you to study with us, cry with us, and laugh with us. We like to think that now and hence forth each of us shall become a part of a single whole.

How the incoming freshmen feel about us and about the College may be deduced from the following statements made by a few of them:

"I like Fayetteville State Teachers College because of the courses and activities it offers, and because of the friendly students who make the freshmen feel welcome."

Prince Samuel Drake
Lexington, Kentucky

"I am impressed with this institution because it guarantees freedom of speech to everyone."

Lillie Butler

Fayetteville, North Carolina
"I like Fayetteville State Teachers College because of the sportsmanship and friendliness shown by the students toward individuals from different sections of the country."

Norris Andrews

Newark, New Jersey

"I like this college because it makes every freshman feel that he is a member of one large family."

Myrtle Quick

Gibson, North Carolina

The Ill-Disposed

There was a siege of "inward rejoicing" throughout our College community when recently three members of our college family returned to the campus.

Miss Margaret Hickman, clerk in the Office of Records, has just returned to the campus from her home in Norfolk, Virginia where for several months she was confined to the hospital.

Miss Lorena Coppage, daughter of Professor and Mrs. James E. Coppage and a member of the instructional staff at Shaw University, recently returned from the Medical Center in New York City where she underwent an operation. Miss Coppage, a member of the local honor scholarship society, was graduated from State in the class of 1941.

In her room in Joyner Hall where she is attended by Nurse Annie Burney, Miss Mattie Chavis greets the many friends who call to see her. A short while ago she returned from the local Pittman Hospital where she was confined for more than a month. Having become a member of the staff in 1912, Miss Chavis, dietitian, has the distinction of being the oldest member of the faculty in point of service.

Evening Classes At Fort Bragg

Fayetteville State Teachers College in co-operation with the Information, Education and Training Division at Fort Bragg is offering evening courses for personnel of the armed forces. Major William Hague, assisted by Lieutenant Moore, is in charge of the Division of Education, Information and Training at the post. In the early summer Lieutenant Raymond Fleming and Lieutenant Alfred Watson requested courses by the College faculty.

The instructors are Mr. Marion Fleming, Mr. Andrew L. Scott, Mr. John W. Parker and Dr. Joseph H. Douglass, director of the unit.

The personnel of the several classes include Private Nathan Andrews, Private Nesbit Bethea, Private Luther Boyd, Sergeant Alfred Briggs, Sergeant William H. Carter, Cpl. Ulysses Cosby, Pvt. Miss Hunter In Chapel Lecture

Initiating on October 28 the faculty chapel lecture series for the school year was Miss L. M. Hunter of the Department of English who spoke from the topic "Our World Today: A Challenge To Youth."

She was introduced by Dr. Joseph H. Douglass.

In the lobby of Boston's Hotel Slatter one woman guest remarked to another: "Heaven knows, I'm thin, Mazley, and you're pretty thin, too. But that one — why she's thinner than both of us put together."
