

People Who Make The News

Miss Lenna Means is ill at her home in Asheville. The report comes that she is "doing all right" for herself.

Radio announcer William S. Bowser, recent "State" graduate, has a new business establishment on Hillsboro Street. He is one of the few Negroes in the South in the business of selling records. He is employed by local radio station WFLB.

Two new library assistants are seen these days behind the desks and in the stocks. They are Mesdames Mary R. Hightower and Pearl B. Gerald both of Fayetteville. Mr. Henry M. L. James, librarian, is studying at North Carolina College. He studied at that institution during the past summer quarter.

The sympathy of the entire campus went out for Dean Joseph H. Douglass who lost his mother on September 30. She was the Mrs. Evelyn Douglass of Washington, D. C.

The good news has come that on yesterday, Mrs. Florence B. Brown, a former instructor at "State", was admitted to that exclusive circle of Doctors of Philosophy. Put another way, she is now a University of Illinois Ph. D. All good wishes to "Dr. Brown and to her son, "Bo".

News came on August 29 that Private Edward Johnson had been assigned to the Fifth Infantry Division, Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, Pa., for his basic training. And on October 24 we were informed that Private Huie M. Parish had been assigned to the Hawaiian Infantry Training Center, Schofield Barracks, T. H., for Army basic training.

During the summer months, Dr. Joseph H. Douglass assisted Dr. E. Franklin Frazier of Howard University with his course in Race Relations at New York University. Dean Douglass lectured on "Suggested Amelioration Techniques in Inter-group Relations."

Mr. Orange Williams, owner of the Williams Drug Store on Hillsboro Street, published this year the 1951 Bronco football schedule. Last year, Mr. Jerry Hollingsworth, owner of a Hillsboro Street Cafe, sponsored the Broncos by getting out their football schedule. They are Bronco boosters. Thanks, gentlemen.

Miss Susie Davis of the area of education was reappointed by President Seabrook as director of the campus Community Chest campaign.

One new teacher begins her classes each day with prayer. How refreshing an innovation. The students like it, so they say. It is her feeling that there is a place for prayer on every good college campus, and even in the daily routine of the classroom.

Mr. Orlando F. Hudson is the new principal of the High Point Elementary School which carries a force of 20 teachers. Mr. Hudson is an honor graduate of "State" who received his M. A. degree at Atlanta University, and who has done advanced graduate study at New York University.

Seniors Theophilus Parker and Clifton Arrington were delegates from "State" to the State Baptist Student Union which convened in Charlotte on November 2-4.

Fayetteville's John Graham, a member of the junior class and a one-time football great at A. and T. College, has come to complete his work for the baccalaureate degree at "State." Already he is active in student affairs and is taking his work in strides.

Mr. Yoshikiko Kurimoto, President of the University of Japan, and Mr. Shuichi Koba, Assistant Professor of Education, at Tokyo University, visited our campus on October 30 to study our set-up in Health and Physical Education.

Lampados Club

Recently the Lampados Club was organized on the campus. The president of the group has not been named. Students who are members are: Ernest M. Hunter, senior of Rocky Mount; LeRoy Way, senior of East Orange, N. J.; Lawrence Jackson, Fayetteville; Dennison Gaynor, sophomore, Rockford, Ill.; Artheneus Dew, Wilson; Lowell Cunningham, Jersey City, N. J.; James Killian, Hickory, and Clarence Hill, Warsaw.

'51 Graduates To Teaching Positions

Unfortunately, a good many of last year's graduates sent in incomplete information regarding their present teaching positions. There follows here a listing of those persons for whom complete data have been received.

BEATRICE ARTIS, Marlboro County Training School, Bennettsville, S. C.

MAMIE BAGGETT, Edward Evans School, Fayetteville.

BESSIE BLACK, Ocilla Industrial High School, Ocilla, Ga.

CHARLES BLACK, Ocilla Industrial High School, Ocilla, Ga.

ELOISE BURCH, Deep Creek School, Wadesboro.

WILLIAM D. CAMPBELL, Shepard High School, Zebulon.

LILLIE L. CAPEL, Henderson-Johnson-Eaton School, Henderson

ANTHONY M. FLEMING, Orange Street Junior High School, Fayetteville.

MELVIA HUNTER, Greenville City Schools, Greenville.

EVA E. LaGRANDE, The Lincoln Elementary School, Rocky Mount.

JAMES PELHAM, Atkins High School, Kinston.

BESSIE PRIDGEON, North Street Elementary School, Fayetteville.

WILLIE ROYSTER, Roxboro Elementary School, Roxboro.

ALICE M. WHICHARD, Shawtown High School, Lillington.

ANNIE M. WITHERSPOON, Lancaster Training School, Lancaster, S. C.

EMMA BELL WIMBISH, Edward Evans School, Fayetteville.

ALMA JANE WADDELL, Midville Junior High School, Midville, Ga.

CATHERINE W. SUGGS, Camden County Training School, St. Mary's, Ga.

BERNICE SELLERS, Edward Evans School, Fayetteville.

Have A Little Fun

GI: "Let's get married or something."

Girl Friend: "We'll get married, or nothing."

She: "Kiss me like that once more and I'm yours forever."

He: "Thanks for the warning."

Mom: "Have a good time at the party, daughter, and be a good girl."

Daughter: "Make up your mind, mother."

The manager of a restaurant had too many request for meals 'on time', and decided to put up a sign for customers who might not have the price of a meal. The sign read, "If you ain't got no money, you done et."

People who throw kisses must be among the laziest of human beings. They are also lacking in imagination.

There is just one difference between a statesman and a politician. A statesman wants to do something for his country, while a politician wants his country to do something for him.

Mary: "My boy friend is much like a parlor lamp."

Nel: "How's that?"

Mary: "I turn him down, but he won't go out."

Observing a man who walked right up to a cow and gave her an affectionate kiss, an onlooker remarked, "Every man to his taste."

Just about the time you think you can make ends meet, somebody moves the ends.

Stranger: "Madam, where does this road go?"

Old Woman: "Sir, it don't go nowhere. It's been there ever since I've been here."

Volume VI

November, 1951

Number 10

The Voice

Published By

Fayetteville State Teachers College
Fayetteville, N. C.