Post-Season Mortem

Broncos vs. Hampton

Tearing Hampton's vaunted powerhouse line to shreds, the '54 edition of the Fayetteville Broncos staged a great CIAA opening game effort. The Broncos played a tremendous game the first three quarters behind the brilliant quarterbacking of Earl Garrett. With the running of James Paige, and the all-around play of Don Brawner, Lloyd Wallace, Johnny Noble, and Johnny Jiggetts, the Broncos led at the mid-point, 8-0. However, Hampton came back in the last quarter to pass herself to a 12-8 victory.

Broncos vs. Bluefield State

The second test of the season was Bluefield State, pre-season dark-horse favorite to win the CIAA. This game was to turn the tide for the remainder of the football season for the Broncos. Senior quarterback, Earl "Pat" Garrett, sustained an ankle injury that kept him on the sidelines for the most part of the season. The game was 7-7 at halftime, but with the absence of Garrett, Bluefield won 27-7.

Broncos vs. Winston-Salem

The Broncos lost a close one to Winston-Salem 20-13. Paced by Jim "Red" Paige and Sammy Alton, freshman back, the Broncos looked good in this game even though they did not grab the victory.

Broncos vs. Morris College

Because of the powerful running of Doug "Stonewall" Jackson, returnee from the EIAAC Championship team, the Broncos pulverized Morris College of Sumter, S. C., 19-0. Noble and Alston played a great all-around game for the team in this victory. The victory proved costly, however, for Denry Lawrence was injured and so was lost to the squad for the remainder of the year.

Homecoming Game

Our Homecoming game was lost to the great Maryland State team, with a final score of 45-0 prevailing. Maryland has a number of candidates for "All-CIAA" on the team. The Broncos, however, did not fail to give out with what they had, as always.

St. Aug.

The Broncos lost 19-7 to St. Augustine in Raleigh in a game that was highlighted with three pass interceptions that led to touchdowns for the St. Aug. squad. The Broncos journey to Tennessee and Morristown Industrial College where they were victorious by a score of 14-0. Jack Johnson, flashy halfback, ran up more yardage than there is space to write about. Noble, Jiggetts and Wallace, as usual, showed wonderful playmanship. Aaron Melvin and Joseph Biggs, two freshmen, also played a wonderful game, as did Curtis Battle, also a freshman.

Elizabeth City

After trailing at halftime to a good Elizabeth City team, the Broncos bounced back to outplay the Elizabeth City "Pirates" in the second half. The final score was 27-7, but the Gainesmen proved to themselves that they could play good ball when they wanted to.

St. Paul's

The Broncos closed out their season with a 20-19 victory over a heavy St. Paul team. The return of "Pat" Garrett to the squad was a mainstay of this victory. He passed brilliantly to lanky end, Croxton Williams, and to Charles Knight. Jack Johnson continued his sensational running and his jaunt of 67 yards was the best made by a Bronco this season. Lloyd Wallace blocked two punts and on the second one scampered 25 yards to pay dirt. Big Harold Ford blocked an important extra-point try that kept the St. Paul "Tigers" from gaining a 20-20 tie with the Broncos. Jiggetts, Addison, and Stanley gave commendable performances.

Captain Johnny Jiggetts has played his last game for the Bron-

Joyner Cheers Players

The Joyner Hall Dormitory Association held its first meeting in the Little Theatre on Sunday, September 26. The main purpose of the meeting was to elect officers for the year. The following ladies were chosen to serve as officers:

- President ..... Doris Lackey
- Vice-President . . . Lonnie McKoy
- Secretary ..... Nina Baten
- Asst. Sec. .... Louise Campbell
- Treasurer ..... Ella Smith
- Asst. Treas. . . . Lelia Thompson

On October 16, which was Homecoming Day, Joyner Hall had open house for all the alumni, students, and friends. A delightful repast was given to each visitor.

On October 22, before the football team left for Raleigh to play Saint Augustine College, the girls entertained them in the Student Union Room. This must have been an inspiration to the boys for they gave St. Aug. plenty of opposition. We also had a little pep meeting before they left. Joyner Hall is appealing to all students to encourage our athletic teams by showing such enthusiasm at all times.

Joyner Hall gives orchids to all the young ladies who recently became members of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority. Congratulations, girls!

The girls in our dorm are not at a stand still. We are preparing for the future. We have organized a Charm Club and we hope that someday this will become a school project and perhaps will produce more efforts toward grace and charm on our campus and in all our surroundings.

A caroling group has also been formed in our dorm. We hope to bring more cheerfulness, gladness, and encouragement to everyone's hearts.

On December 11, we sponsored a dance to benefit the scholarship fund.

cos, as has our "Pat" Garrett. These two stalwarts will be missed by all of us in the '55 contests. With the return of Johnson, Noble, Paige, Brawner, Wallace, Melvin, Knight, Hartfield, Stallings, and Williams, the Broncos look forward to a successful year. With a coaching staff like Gaines, Scott, and Nichols, how can we miss?

Basketball Preview

Now for a quick look at the basketball situation. The nucleus of the team will be centered around "Duke" Lewis, "Dick" Woods, Larry Waddell, "Ezee" Mack, and Lawrence Thompson—five returning lettermen. "Snake" Williams, Bonner and Boyd will truly be missed, but there is some fine material in Ronald Evans and Al Colclander of New York, Donald West and Sylvester Dobson of Newark, N. J., and Norman Evans of Burlington, N. C.

In spite of the poor showing of the Broncos in their first football season in the CIAA, these high-spirited girls cheered tirelessly throughout our struggles at home. They are, left to right, top row: Geraldine Jacobs, Jacqueline Simmons, and Sadie Baten; bottom row: Robia Brown, and Ann Johnson.

de PAUR CHORUS . . .

us is but the lengthened shadow of its noted conductor, Leonard de Paur who entered the Army as a private and rose to the rank of captain. Before he entered the service he had been assistant director of the Hall Johnson Choir and musical director of the Negro Theatre in New York, and after graduation from the officer's candidate school, he served as choral director of the Army show, "Winged Victory." His 372nd Infantry Glee Club became so famous that it sang for audiences of all the services.

The de Paur Infantry Chorus has the fine facility for sending home satisfied customers. The program at Fayetteville was certainly no exception to the rule.
