certain games, to say nothing of the fun enjoyed by all who take part.

At one of the general meetings two members of the cabinet who became brides were honored with gifts. The green and white color scheme served double duty in honoring both the brides and also St. Patrick. The brides: Mrs. Lucille Young Parker and Mrs. Carolyn Peacock King.

Considerations are being given with respect to officers and other members of the cabinet for next year. Betty Canady has already been selected as chairman of the Membership Committee for next year. She attended the Workshop on Membership at the State Conference. Other members will be chosen and trained with the old cabinet so that next year's program may get off to an even better start.

The present officers of the campus YWCA are Velma Lavender, president; Shirley Langston, vice president; DeLois Stroud, recording secretary; Martha Trice, corresponding secretary; Evelyn Boone, treasurer.

J. Simpson, Wilmington; Ella L. Smith, Graysburg; Vera J. Smith, Fayetteville.

Elizabeth L. Sykes, Margarettsville; Yvonne A. Thorpe, Lynchburg, Va.; Edith M. Walker, Fayetteville; Ethelyn H. Wallace, Fayetteville; Novella T. Whitted, Lumberton; Shirley O. Wynn, Ahoskie; Beulah A. Smith, Fayetteville.

TAKING A CHANCE

Freshman: "What'll we do tonight?"

Sophomore: "We'll toss a coin. If it's heads we'll get dates; if it's tails, we'll go to the movies alone; if it stands on edge, we'll study."

They're telling this one about a salesman passing through a small town who had several hours to while away. Seeing one of the townspeople, he asked:

"Any picture show in town, my friend?"

"Nope, not a one, stranger."

"Well, is there a pool room or bowling alley?"

"Nope."

"What form of amusement do you have here?"

"Well, come on down to the drug store," the man said. "There's a freshman home from college."

STEPPING STONES . . .

STONE VIII: Save your money, but don't become a miser! Since man is a social animal, he cannot afford to be considered a "beat" or mean. If you are considered mean because you refuse to spend your money unwisely, let it go, and hope that some day you will be understood better.

STONE IX: Mind your own affairs and let other people mind theirs! It requires too much work to attend to your business and somebody else's at the same time. To do that a man must sit on two stools at the same time which is quite difficult to do well.

STONE X: Shy away from bragging about what you can do! Do your job well and there will certainly be no need to brag. Somebody will see what sort of person you are and give you credit for having common sense, and for knowing more than you probably do.

Remember! Everyone has burdens to bear; never forget that yours are not the only ones that are hard to carry. Set your goals and when you have accomplished all you can according to your ability, let a feeling of peace steal over you, and trust in God for the remainder—The Editor.

Harris Hall News

On February 15, 1957, Harris Hall Dormitory Association gave special recognition to students who made the Dean's List. In honor of some 24 students of Harris Hall, Mrs. Hubert, our directress, with a committee of girls planned a Valentine party.

Young Cupid, symbolic of the day, played a vivid part in both the decoration of the invitation and that of scenery.

Guests were young men from Hood and Williams Hall, Mrs. Jones, Miss Murphy, Miss Windley, Mrs. Chick, and Mrs. Carter.

The refreshments were in keeping with St. Valentine's Day. They consisted of raspberry frappe, cake with Valentine Centers, peanuts and assorted Valentine candy.

Harris Hall Dormitory Association is proud of the activities in which it has engaged thus far and hopes the remaining activities will be as successful. We are certain that they will since our association is under the leadership of the following officers:

Virginia Newkirk, president; Lucille Gilchrist, vice president; Mollie McRae, secretary; Hazel Foushee, treasurer; Ida Steward and Lucille Leake, Student Council representatives; Grace Fowler, Social Committee chairman.
