Where's Our School Spirit Basketball Clinic

LINDA VINCENT

My criticism of FSTC lies in the limited amount of school spirit which at times is quite noticeable at our home games. The good selection of cheers and yells is very stimulating to the crowd, but I think we are forgetting our team.

On Saturday afternoon preceding the Hampton game, the quadrangle echoed with the tremendous shouts and cheers from the students—but at the game the cheerleaders literally begged the spectators to cheer along with them. What happened to us? Our boys were out there on the field trying with all their might to bring our team on to victory, but where was their support? After Hampton's first T.D. a lot of people took the attitude "Oh well, we're going to lose anyway, so why should I make myself hoarse." This attitude will give the team the impression that you, the students, don't care so why should they go out and "break their necks" for you.

As mentioned previously, I think the cheers are entertaining to the spectators but that is not the main purpose of a cheer. A cheer is supposed to be directed to the players on the field to let them know that we are with them all the way. We should have more yells such as "Block that kick," "Hit'em again, harder-harder," "Push 'em Back," "Hold that line," just to let the team know that we know what's going on. (Ed.'s note: Incidentally, these cheers were used at our Homecoming Game.) Let's show more school spirit at all our games.

Thanksgiving Game

The Fayetteville State Teachers College Broncos will play Morris College of Sumter, South Carolina, a Homecoming Football Game on Thanksgiving Day, November 23. This is to be played in the Morris College Stadium. Good luck, team!

The Sixth Annual Basketball Clinic for high school and college coaches is to be held in the Lilly Gymnasium of Fayetteville State Teachers College on October 29. The morning session, from 9:50 to 12:00, will be for the women; and the afternoon session, starting at 1:00 p.m., will be for the men.

Mr. R. O. Kornegay of Durham, North Carolina, is in charge of the Clinic. There will also be guest consultants from Duke University and other institutions.

Young women from our college, under direction of Miss L. J. Taylor, and our own Bronco Basketball Team, with Coach Page Saunders in charge, will participate. Athletic Director H. L. Scott has the job of helping with coordination of the work.

Anger is only one letter short of danger.

Season Forecast

Football Coach Hubert Doub says that the 1961 squad is in excellent physical condition and the boys are very eager to continue the season now underway. The Broncos are small but mighty, and their hustle and enthusiasm means that the Broncos will be trouble for every team that they play.

Coach Doub expects all opponents to outweigh the Broncos in the line and also the backfield, but he hopes that the speedy Bronco backs and the hard, fast-charging Bronco linemen will make up by their speed what they lack in weight.

The Broncos lost a few veterans that were expected to return this season, but the freshman group looks very promising. Thus the coaching staff hopes to give the fans a good brand of college football and fairly successful season.

Hampton's first touchdown. Then with about 10 minutes remaining in the game Holland raced 15 yards for the final score.

The stellar performers on the stubborn defense of the Broncos were John Rooks, Johnny Largent, Richard Williams and Robert Drake.

Broncos Defeat Falcons

The Broncos of Fayetteville State, inspired by the savage line play of the defensive unit went on to defeat the Falcons of St. Augustine's by a score of 12 to 8. The Falcons scored their first and only touchdown in the opening quarter when their left linebacker, Raymond Martin, picked off a Bronco pass on his 5 yard line and maneuvered his way 95 yards through the Bronco defense for a score.

With about 4 minutes remaining in the first half, quarterback Jesse Williams got the Broncos rolling on a drive that started on their own 35 yard line. The biggest part of the yardage in the drive was picked up by the left-halfback Edward Spencer. The drive was climaxed when quarterback George Wilson hit end Percy Arrington on a 7 yard scoring pass play.

The Broncos scored their final tally in the third quarter when defensive end Robert Drake intercepted a Falcon pass on St. Augustine's 35 yard line and raced untouched for the score.

Outstanding performers for the Victorious Broncos were ends Robert Drake and Percy Arrington, tackles Robert Washington and William Baker, guards James Anderson and William Solomon along with the center Richard Williams. Stellar performers in the backfield were Edward Spencer, George Wilson, Jesse Williams, Thomas Rawley and Thomas Stewart.

Livingstone

The Livingstone Bears of Salisbury, N. C., defeated the Broncos of Fayetteville State 14-6 in a hard fought game. The Bears scored once in the first half and once in the second half on pass plays.

The Broncos scored their only tally in the fourth period after they had blocked a punt. George Wilson carried the ball over from the three-yard line on a quarterback sneak. The Broncos had excellent line play but the penalties that they suffered were too much to take and a loss resulted.

Broncos Top Tigers

The FSTC Broncos defeated the Tigers of St. Paul's College 20-6. In the first half the Broncos and Tigers played to a 6-6 tie, but a blocked kick by Thomas Rawley and a pass from George Wilson to Percy Arrington sent the Broncos ahead to stay.

St. Paul's scored its only touchdown in the final minutes of the first half, while our Broncos scored their first touchdown in the first period on a pass from Wilson to Arrington.

Outstanding linemen for the Broncos were Robert Washington, James Anderson, Willie Smith, Johnny Largent and William Solomon.

Hampton Pirates Defeat Broncos

The Hampton Institute Pirates, paced by their ace halfback Willie Holland, scored a 13-0 victory over the hard fighting Broncos. Holland, who picked up 190 yards rushing, scored both of Hampton's touchdowns.

Just before the first period ended Holland raced 50 yards for

Alumni Defeat All Stars

In a highly exciting, well-fought pre-Homecoming Basketball Game, members of the New Jersey and New York chapters of the FSTC Alumni Association defeated the student All-Stars by a score of 72 to 70. The big man of the game was Ronald Evans of the Alumni who poured in 37 points for the game high. Captain Ted Bonner and Donald West had 11 points each for the victorious alumni.

The leading scorers for the All-Stars were Captain Charles James with 23 points, John Morgan with 16 points, and William Patterson with 14 points. The hard fought game went into a sudden-death overtime but the star of the game, Ronald Evans, hit on a field goal from about 20 feet out to end the game and give the Alumni a well-deserved victory.
