FSTC Nips Hampton

Fayetteville State Teachers College pushed across a touchdown in the final quarter and then won their gamble for a two point conversion to defeat homestanding Hampton Institute 8-7.

The game was a tight defensive battle which saw neither team able to mount any serious threat to the other's goal other than the single scoring drives of each.

Hampton drew first blood when Al Walden ran 25 yards with a blocked Bronco aerial. Roy Holt's attempted pass was deflected by John Green with 30 seconds in the second quarter.

Al Walker booted the extra point for the home forces, giving them a 7-0 advantage at the half point.

Fayetteville's Broncos struck for their tally after a scoreless third period in which each team was completely bottled up by the opposing defenses.

Taking over on their own 20-yard stripe as a result of a Hampton punt, the Broncos marched 80 yards for the score. The drive was highlighted by the brilliant strategy of quarter back Jesse Williams and some fancy running by half backs Sam Maxwell and Alexander Cole. Maxwell ran 40 yards on a reverse play for the Broncos' lone touchdown.

The Broncos went for the winning 2 points and Lonnie Sharpe knifed through the Hampton line with a brilliant second effort.

The Broncos now have a 3-0 conference record and are 3-1 overall.

Homecoming Classic

FSTC Ties ECTC

The Fayetteville State Teachers College Broncos battled the Elizabeth City Teachers College Pirates to a 0-0 deadlock before a capacity Homecoming crowd on Saturday afternoon, November 3. Playing on a rain-drenched gridiron undoubtedly contributed chiefly to the inability of each team to score. However, the amazing Broncos did pose two very serious threats. The first deep penetration of the Broncos was set up as the result of a brilliant punt return by James Norman, whose carry placed the pigskin on the Pirate two yard line. But at this point misfortune beset the Broncos as the rain-slicken pigskin was fumbled over to Elizabeth City. Fayetteville's final serious threat culminated on the six yard line when he Broncos were unable to pick up a first down in four attempts.

Broncos Undefeated In CIAA

The Fayetteville State Teachers College Broncos, bouncing back from a fair 1961-62 season, are undefeated in the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association in five decisions.

The Broncos began their winning ways with a 28-12 decision over Livingstone College. They then went on a three-game winning streak. The Broncos downed St. Paul's College 30-0, Hampton Institute 8-7, and St. Augustine's College 14-6. The entire Bronco team contributed to these victories. But names like linemen Johnny Largent, Hayes Streeter, Robert Drake, William Baker, Jimmy Hill, John Rooks, Willis McLeod, and James Anderson kept popping up as outstanding players. In the backfield, Roy Holt, James Norman, Sam Maxwell, Willie Sessions, Jesse Williams, Alexander Cole, and Lonnie Sharpe have done their share in keeping the Broncos undefeated.

The team now stands 4-0-1 in conference play and 4-2-1 overall. Their only losses have come from the hands of South Carolina Area Trade School and Claflin College. The Broncos have two remaining Conference games. On November 10, they travel to Winston-Salem Teachers College and on November 17, they close the 1962-63 season against Johnson C. Smith University in Charlotte.

Although you won't be able to travel with the team, show them that you have confidence in them by saying an encouraging word now and then. — Walker

Do You Care Enough

We cannot have an "I don't care" attitude and accomplish much in life.

You may say, "I have no special gift." You have the greatest of gifts — the gift of life, the gift of intelligence. You have the gift of love. Some persons skim over the surface of life never caring about anything. We are only half-alive, and we are missing the meaning of things.

Everyday, every hour each one of us is using gifts of God, expressing spiritual qualities. The very fact that we live is our unspoken acknowledgement of the first great gift, the gift of life.

The next great gift that each of us has is the power to think. We neglect this gift when we think aimlessly, when we let our thinking go in negative directions, when we scatter our thought forces in gossip, in resentment and in ill will. Care about what you think and how you think.

The Quest

Mary Anne McLean

Mr. Otto L. M. Pharr, of the Social Science Department of our College, addressed the student body on October 30. His subject was "The Quest for the Summum Bonum" or The Quest for the Highest Good." Mr. Pharr stated that the sages have searched and are still searching for the highest good; the Greeks searched for a philosophy of the summum bonum; the Epicurians' philosophy was that pain and sorrow were the summum bonum; the Hebrews' idea was to "eat, drink, and be merry, for tomorrow you may die"; Socrates felt that when a man knows himself, he is found-he has reached the summum bonum of life.

Jesus said, "Lose thyself;" who-soever loses his life for a good cause will find it. There is no time for boredom when one is lost in his occupation. The Christian philosophy is that anyone who loses himself in something that he feels is his devotion, loses his life to find it.

Mr. Pharr challenged the student body to follow the teachings of Jesus and "lose thyself," or putting it into the vernacular of the average man - "Get lost" in your work to enhance yourself and mankind.

Broncos A Contemporary Music Corps

The boost in the Sunday School attendance and enrollment is definite indication of accelerated interest. There are projects designed to maintain and stimulate greater motivation. There are presentations of banners to the class having the highest attendance per Sunday and highest amount of contribution monetary-wise.

The administration, advisor and members enjoy the discussion of the lesson, a question-answer period directed by Dr. C. C. Thomas, and all ill members and members having had a birthday are given consolation and well wishes. Each Sunday a different class member is chosen to lead the discussion for the next time. This measure assures 100% participation. With each member acting as a committee of one, bringing a friend, group discussions (on the learner-centered basis), banners being given, new hymns taught and a conducive atmosphere for Bible study set, the Sunday School is fast emerging as a leader in the campus organization goal. Won't you join us in the facet of school life called worship? It is held every Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

Yours in Christian Fellowship,
Jack Sharpe, Reporter

Finders Keepers

A coach of a service football team found that, since all of his players were grown men, a number had acquired the habit of smoking. However, he and his staff decided that, for public relations purposes, the players should not smoke in public. This point was stressed to all team members.

Things went along fine until one day the coach observed one of the players leaving a building, smoking a cigarette. The player looked up and, seeing the coach, dropped the cigarette. Both were embarrassed and the coach finally decided there was nothing to do but to confront the player with what he had seen.

"Tom, is that your cigarette back there on the sidewalk?" asked the coach.

Tom, with a surprised look, turned around, looked at the cigarette and said, "Oh, no, coach, you can have it, you saw it first!"
