

FSU PROF SEEKS HOUSE SEAT

THE VOICE

FAYETTEVILLE STATE UNIVERSITY

VOL. 23 NO. 8

Fayetteville, N. C.

APRIL 18, 1970

Uzzell Briefs Frosh

Academic Dean, Dr. Odell Uzzell explained the student handbook and the University Catalogue to the Freshman Orientation class on March 17.

Dean Uzzell said that each student should confer with his advisor so that he may get his schedule properly approved for pre-registration and registration.

He stressed the grading system and the point of taking examinations late. He explained that an individual's average is computed by dividing the number of hours. Only valid excuses are accepted or taking make-up tests.

Explaining the topic of withdrawal, the Dean stated that any student who wishes to withdraw from the institution should check with the Dean of Students because all records are kept in his office. "Withdrawal can be done by mail but one's presence is preferable," he added.

He said on occasions when majors will be changed; however, he said the student must reach a decision prior to registration and that careful attention should be paid between the differences in decision prior to registration and that careful attention should be paid between the differences in the former major and the new one.

The academic retention and suspension policy was Dean Uzzell's final topic. He said that at the end of the first year in order to return for the third semester, a student must have earned 21 credit hours and have at least 1.30 average minimum. He said that anything below this average would render the student a probationary.

INAUGURATION SET FSU Foundation Seeks Aid

FSU under the theme "The Road That Leads Right.." has chartered the Fayetteville University Foundation as a media to enlist from varied sources aid in behalf of the school. The Foundation's director is Dr. Hanon.

The Foundation's Charter was issued March 31, 1969; its resources will be under the capable management of a Board of Directors; it is independent of the State, a non-profit, tax deductible organization. The many purposes of the Foundation are: to provide funds to assist in those areas of the University not available by the state; to solicit, receive, hold, manage and disburse contributions, gifts, grants, bequests and transfers of funds or property of any nature beneficial to FSU; to sponsor, encourage, conduct and render financial assistance in student aid programs, alumni events, public relations activities, faculty supplements, curriculum enrichment programs, research projects and studies as approved by the proper authorities of the University; and, in certain particulars to act as Trustee.

Ann Bushrod

Little In New Post

Dr. Odell Uzzell Academic Dean, said that the University was fortunate to be able to utilize the services of Mrs. Little. She has been serving as Director of the University Reading Program and will continue in that capacity along with her new duties.

A native of Raleigh, Mrs. Little holds a B. S. degree from Shaw University and earned the M. A. degree from New York University.

She has taught in the public schools of North Carolina and prior to assuming her FSU faculty post was a Reading Specialist in the District of Columbia.

Her affiliations include the Greater Washington Reading Council, National Education Association, Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, and Chums, Incorporated.

Mrs. M. R. Little has been appointed Director of the University Study Center at Fayetteville State University.

The University Study Center includes the Reading Program, Tutorial Center and the Advanced Learning Laboratory. Mrs. Little will be responsible for coordinating the day-to-day activities and developing additional compensatory programs to assist students.

Dr. Odell Uzzell Academic Dean, said that the University was fortunate to be able to utilize the serving as Director of the University Reading Program and will continue in that capacity along with her new

A native of Raleigh, Mrs. Little holds a B. S. degree from Shaw University and earned the M. A. degree from New York University.

DANIEL A. WILLIAMSON

Runs for CC District Spot

Daniel A. Williams, Professor of Health Education and Audio-Visual is a candidate for Representative in the North Carolina House of Congress. The personable teacher announced this candidacy on March 7, 1970.

Mr. Williams has been employed at Fayetteville State University for the past twenty years. He has also worked at North Carolina Central University, Durham, N. C., E. E. Smith High School North Carolina Employment Commission and as Area Supervisor for the National youth Administration.

He received his A. B. Degree from Shaw University, Raleigh, N. C.; his M.S.P.H. (Master of Science in Public Health Education) at North Carolina Central University, Durham, N. C. and he has done further study at A&T State University, Greensboro, N. C.; Virginia State College, Petersburg, Va.; and Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut.

Mr. Williams holds membership in the National Education Association, The North Carolina Teachers Association, The North Carolina Public Health Education Society, and other well known organizations.

Mr. Williams takes great pride in the growth and development of the community. He is former chairman of precinct 16, a member of Cumberland County Jury Commission, a member of Fayetteville Cumberland Black Unity Council and third Vice-Chairman of the Democratic Party Executive Committee.

Mr. Williams is a native of North Carolina. He was born in Greensboro and has been a citizen of Cumberland County since 1937.

He is a native of the First Baptist Church on Moore St. He is married to Mae Rudd Williams, Elementary School Supervisor with Cumberland County Board of Education. He has two children and seven grandchildren.

IN KING TRIBUTE

MAYOR HOWARD LEE SPEAKS HERE

By Delores Norfleet

On April 4 Chapel Hill's Mayor Howard Lee urged blacks to get together in order to develop a better image of themselves.

The occasion was memorial service on the second anniversary of the death of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. The program was held in the Seabrook Auditorium.

North Carolina's first Negro mayor of a major city challenged the audience to make a greater effort to develop black unity... "this is the key to the struggle", he said.

Although he was elected by a white majority Lee attributed part of his success to Dr. King.

Commenting on the proposed appointment of G. Harold Carswell to the Supreme Court, Lee said that it would be a grave injustice to the court to appoint a man of Carswell's character.

The mayor said that people who preach black separatism are only following the ways of the white man. He urged all Americans to pledge themselves to build a new system.

In conclusion Mr. Lee said that although King is gone he has left us a dream to build on.

Fayetteville State University has set the inauguration of President Charles "A" Lyons for May 3, Dr. M. S. Frierson, Chairman of the University Inauguration Committee, told THE VOICE.

Dr. Lyons assumed the FSU presidency August 1, thus becoming the eighth executive officer of the institution.

Dr. Lyons came to the Fayetteville State post from Howard University, where he served as director of admissions. He is a native of Conetoe, and did his undergraduate work at Shaw University and earned the doctorate degree from Ohio State University.

Dr. Frierson said that a detailed program will be announced later.

FAYETTEVILLE - Annually, Fayetteville State University places more than 20 students in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.