SERIOUS SUMMER SCHOOL STUDY is displayed by lovely Rita James, a sophomore from Wallace, N.C. One of many summer school students enrolled at FSU, the camera does not seem to interfere with Rita's intense study as she prepares for her next class.

THEY ALL HAVE JOBS -- Milton Yarboro, FSU Director of Placement, congratulates five 1973 graduates upon landing jobs with the federal government in Indiana as youth counselors. The graduates, who began work immediately after commencement, are (L-R) LaVern Sutton, Patricia Lewis, Al Ragland, Edwin Butler, and Frank Bohannon.

OUTSTANDING FSU ALUMNI RECIPIENTS -- Lawrence Jackson, Jr., presents Fayetteville State University alumni awards for outstanding service to four recipients during recent Alumni Convocation ceremonies held on the campus. The recipients are (L-R) J. P. Smith, Alexander Barnes, Mrs. Roxie Fowler, and Miss Rosie L. Kemp.

NEW HONOR SOCIETY FOR FSU -- Dr. Grace C. Black, (center) head of Fayetteville State University's Business Department, discusses the school's new chapter of the National Business Education Honor Society, Pi Omega Pi, with FSU's Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs Dr. William Brown and installing officer, Dr. Frances Daniels of East Carolina University.

WHAT'S THIS -- A HUMAN BOOK REST? These two Fayetteville State University coeds seem to be getting their heads together for study as the first session of Summer School begins at FSU. The lovely coeds are (left) Janice Woodard and Nancy Smith, both seniors.
