Concern For All Blacks

By EVERNA GWYNN

They're so in love with each other till they can't see nobody else All these people walking past 'em but they're so involved with self They're blinded by Black love at the expense of being Black

I know this thing is beautiful, but you must face the facts Two Blacks alone got to do more than just love each other They got to think about the 11% more of our sisters and brothers!!!
