

BRONCOS WIN HOMECOMING

Broncos Win Homecoming Over Winston-Salem State, 14-12

The Fayetteville State University Broncos won the Homecoming Game over the Rams of Winston-Salem State, 14-12. However, they fell to the hands of the Livingstone College Blue Bears at Salisbury, 34-20.

The loss for the Ray McDougal-coached squad dropped their record to 2-3 in the CIAA and 3-4 overall.

The Broncos face tough Elizabeth City State University at their Homecoming on October 27.

The leading scorer for the Broncos is James Godwin with eight touchdowns to his credit. Godwin and running mate Glen McKoy are the one-two punch for the Bronco-men compiling over 600 yards between them so far this year.

The Broncos have been playing lack-lustre football. However, the McDougal-men have an outside chance of winning the crown in the CIAA.

They will have to do it by winning their last three games, beginning with Elizabeth City. After that, the Broncos play the last two games at home against Virginia Union University and Johnson C. Smith University.

Bronco Cagers Begin Practice Sessions

by: Ronnie Allen

With the Bronco's 73-74 cage season almost upon us, head Coach Otis Hawkins has begun to prepare this team for the new season.

In talking with Coach Hawkins, I asked him what would he be looking for out of the team. "Well," he began, "I will be evaluating the team to see how well they play with each other. And I will be looking for attitudes toward the game and good disposition."

Hawkins' feelings toward the upcoming season are confident as he stated that the team still needs a few things to work out. The probable starting five for the Broncos have not been picked yet, but we can rest assured that the sparkplugs will be James Tyus and ALL-CIAA Alton Cogdell.

ALL-CIAA coaches have different methods of coaching. I asked Coach Hawkins to explain his viewpoint on coaching.

"Basketball is a very versatile game and it should not cause that much of a handicap. Some coaches change teams every so often, but just because of different coaching methods, this does not mean that the game itself changes."

Before the season begins, Hawkins said that he places in an envelope his prediction of the season and pulls it out at the end of the season to see if he's right.

Inspired by William Bryant, who is an alumnus of FSU, and Dr. William Bell, athletic director here at FSU, Coach Hawkins patterns his philosophy of coaching by having his team in a progressive atmosphere.

1973 - 1974 Basketball Schedule

DATE	OPPONENT	SITE	TIME
Nov. 30	A&T State Univ.	Cumberland Arena	8:00
Dec. 3	Federal City Col.	Cumberland Arena	8:00
Dec. 5	Hampton Inst.	Hampton, Va.	8:00
Dec. 7	Livingstone Col.	Salisbury, N.C.	8:00
Dec. 8	J.C. Smith Univ.	Cumberland Arena	8:00
Dec. 15	UNC, Wilmington	Wilmington, N.C.	8:00
Jan. 2	Winston-Salem State	Cumberland Arena	8:00
Jan. 4	N. C. Tournament	Raleigh, N.C.	8:00
Jan. 5	N. C. Tournament	Raleigh, N.C.	8:00
Jan. 7	Livingstone Col.	Cumberland Arena	8:00
Jan. 9	Shaw Univ.	Raleigh, N.C.	8:00
Jan. 14	A&T State Univ.	Greensboro, N.C.	8:00
Jan. 16	Shaw Univ.	Cumberland Arena	8:00
Jan. 19	St. Augustines	Raleigh, N.C.	8:00
Jan. 21	Federal City Col.	Washington, D.C.	8:00
Jan. 23	Virginia Union	Cumberland Arena	8:00
Jan. 28	St. Augustines	Cumberland Arena	8:00
Feb. 2	Eliz. City State	Elizabeth City	8:00
Feb. 5	Pembroke State	Cumberland Arena	8:00
Feb. 9	J.C. Smith Univ.	Charlotte, N.C.	8:00
Feb. 16	Winston Salem State	Winston-Salem, N.C.	8:00
Feb. 18	Pembroke State	Pembroke, N.C.	8:00
Feb. 20	St. Pauls Col.	Lawrenceville	8:00
Feb. 21	Virginia State	Petersburg	8:00
Feb. 23	Norfolk State	Cumberland Arena	8:00
Feb. 28	CIAA Tournament	Greensboro, N. C.
March 1	CIAA Tournament	Greensboro, N. C.
March 2	CIAA Tournament	Greensboro, N. C.

LEADING SCORER GETS TD FOR FSU -- Big Jim Godwin, Bronco fullback, gallops for big yards against Winston-Salem State University in the homecoming game recently. Godwin has scored eight touchdowns and has rushed for over 500 yards this season.

(FSU Photo by John B. Henderson)

Golf Team is Preparing for "74" Season

by:
Ronnie
Allen

Although it may be early to talk about golf, Coach Moses Walker is getting his team together now. In talking with Coach Walker, he made this comment about the season coming up: "I am optimistic about the season this year. Even though Terrence Murchison and Jody Ervin are not with us anymore, hopefully the team will prosper more this year."

Vincent Reid, who is FSU's blue chip golf player and a real credit to the team, is back again this year along with Robert Doherty. New members to the team are Eddie Fields, a transfer student from Sanford Tech., and Edward Hazley.

Coach Walker says that he will be getting his team ready by holding a few pre-season matches before the regular season is to begin.

BIG GAINER -- Bronco halfback Glenn McKoy flashes past Winston-Salem State University defenders in the annual Homecoming affair for some big yards. McKoy has scored three touchdowns this year and has gained over 330 yards. FSU won over the Rams, 14-12 in the homecoming thriller.

(FSU Photo by John B. Henderson)