

Kenneth Tillman, 6-2, 265 lb. Senior from Lake Placid, Florida is the Bronco "Hit Man". An All-CIAA pre-season pick for 1980 and potential pro prospect, Tillman is majoring in physical education.

Ike Hall, native of Auburn, Alabama is already a legend at Fayetteville State Univ., and the city of Fayetteville. He attained All-CIAA in 1979, All-NAIA, and currently is and All American Candidate. This season, Hall has already attained Pre-season All-CIAA.

All-CIAA punter Bertie Wadford for FSU will be seeking the CIAA punting title again this year. The South Carolina native is a junior physical education major and is currently averaging over 40 yards per punt.

Joe Valentine, freshman quarterback from Fayetteville, NC, is a superb quarterback with a lot of stamina and guts. (FSU photo-John Henderson)

Golden Weekend

by Derrick Eddie, Sports Editor

This year's Golden Weekend promises to be just as beautiful as ever. Just as the value of gold soars to record highs, the brilliance of the golden charm of the twenty-one Gold Bowl Queens will soar ever higher as they grace the city of Richmond and this year's Gold Bowl. Sports fans and pageant lovers from all over will have the opportunity to watch and participate in events designed to identify the institutions which have contributed much to this nation. Pride from representatives of the participating schools and their desire to be a part of the golden weekend cannot but help demonstrate our concerns about perserving our colleges and universities.

Golden Weekend Schedule of Events

Thursday, December 4

Special welcoming events to CIAA and MEAC teams, queens, conference officials, opening of hospitality suites, and the Annual Players Kickoff Banquet.

Friday, December 5

Queens and teams tour the city, visit schools, et cetera, VIP reception for CIAA and MEAC college and University heads, Gold Bowl Queens Pre-Gold Bowl Party (a public function) and pregame interviews and conferences.

Saturday, December 6

Special A.M. alumni program, Sports Fan Review, Competition and Parade, high school band show, pre-game show, Gold Bowl IV game, Post-game hospitality suites, a musical treat in the evening providing three dances with one admission price, "An Evening of Musical Reflections."

Sunday, December 7

Pre-Monday morning Quarterbacking, Sunday Champagne Brunches.

"Great football played by teams who are members of the CIAA and the MEAC is scheduled for Gold Bowl IV", was announced at a Richmond area community group press conference on August 19, in Richmond, Virginia, by Dr. Allix B. James, Chairman of Richmond gold Bowl Sponsors and Bob Moorman from the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association and Ken Free of the Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference.
