

ROTC NEWS

ROTC Detachment 607 at Fayetteville State University has been awarded the Air Force Outstanding Unit Award (AFOUA). This award is presented for exceptionally meritorious service or exceptionally outstanding achievement that clearly set the unit above and apart from similar units. The award was presented in a ceremony on March 25 at 3:30 p.m. in the J.W. Seabrook Auditorium.

Brigadier General Chris O. Divich, Commandant, Air Force Reserve Officer's Training Corps, Air Training

Command, will present the award.

Detachment 607 is receiving the AFOUA for outstanding achievement during the period January 1, 1979 through December 31, 1980. During this period enrollment increased from 115 in 1979 to 217 in 1980. This academic year the enrollment trend continues as Detachment 607 is experiencing the highest enrollment since its inception.

FSU's Detachment 607 was selected from all of the ROTC schools in the north eastern region.

WHAT TO DO AFTER COLLEGE . . .

Is a question a lot of young people in high school and college are asking. Then, even if you get the finest college degree, where can you use it meaningfully? Perhaps the answer lies in becoming an Air Force officer through Air Force ROTC. We have many different career areas in which specialists of all kinds are needed. And as an Air Force commissioned officer you can have unequalled opportunity for leadership and management experience, plus an excellent starting salary and benefits package.

Consider Air Force ROTC as a gateway to a great way of life for you. Find out about the benefits of a four, three or two-year scholarship that pays $100 a month, tuition, book costs and lab fees. Couple that with what will be waiting after graduation, and you have the answer to what you've been looking for.
