Dress-up Beans & Franks

- 2 T. butter or margerine
- 1/4 cup onions (chopped)
- 1/3 cup green peppers
- 1 package wieners
- 2 T. vinegar
- 1/3 cup brown sugar, packed firmly
- 1 can of Chow Mein Noodles (opt)

Directions: Saute' green pepper, onions and wieners. Make sure that wieners are cut into chunks. Simmer 5 minutes; add vinegar, catsup and brown sugar. Heat until bubbly. Pour pork and beans into baking dish; add onion and pepper mixture. Stir gently to blend. Bake in moderate (350 degree) oven for 30 minutes. Serve with or without chow mein noodles. Serves 6 generously.

Indian Fry Bread

- 2 cups flour (self-rising)
- 3 tsp. baking powder
- 1/4 tsp. salt
- 1/4 to 1/2 cup milk or water

Stir first three ingredients. Add milk and knead dough until it has a rubbery texture. Roll out on lightly floured surface to 1/2-inch thickness. Cut in squares, or roll like pancakes. Fry in deep fat until brown. Serve plain, or with honey or powdered sugar.

Chicken & Mushroom Casserole

- 1 whole chicken (3lb) or 3 lbs of Turkey parts
- 1 can of Campbells cream of mushroom soup
- 3 1/2 cups of noodles
- 4 cups of water
- Add salt and pepper to taste

I using chicken, cut up as if to fry; if using turkey parts, they should already be cut into small portions. Wash both and place in large pot; add 6 cups of water and let boil medium high or bake (450°) until flesh leaves the bones. Add noodles and cook until noodles reach desired tenderness. Add can of mushroom soup. Blend well. Place back in stove for 15 minutes if baking; and if boiling, simmer on top of stove for 15 minutes with lid on pot. Serve. Better after reheating. Serves 6 generously.

No Time

By Golden Girl

I have no time for self pity. Especially knowing that there are alot of things that can be done to place me back on my feet

I have no time for love. Especially knowing all the trouble it can cause.

I have no time for tears. Especially since I know that no one really cares.

So why should I ruin myself Just to get attention? I'd rather sit back and ignore the things that may keep me under.

I'd rather laugh; Yes, indeed I'd be better off this way.

Just Like You

By Anonymous

I've loved and I have lost. I've won many a game after losing the toss, And I find that waiting is a game that no one likes to play. As people we like to see and experience things now, But life is a gamble, swift and slow. Some say play it by ear; others say do it as you go. This is my way; The day will come when I will live and give my love to one. She'll be beautiful "Just Like You." She'll be for me preset to my ways. Just like magic with every thing in place. I'll live to love and love to love her. To each other, we'll be true. She'll be beautiful "Just Like You." When I'm lonely, upset and displeased, She'll comfort me and place my heart at ease. She'll be beautiful "Just Like You."

Barney

By The Mystro

In this day and time, when man is beginning to understand more of the Bible and Theosophy, and considering our minds have enlarged themselves, I have a simple question. If at the end of time at the great judgement, we all shall see, films of our entire life; who's film are we watching now? (That's a nice thought) I never thought, These books could be so happy. Let me check my class schedule and see what's up next.

It seems as if someone is calling me. "Barney awakes from his sleep and responds to his master's call, as any good dog would..."

Who knows what thoughts lurk on the minds of man's best friends. I do....

You Said

By Angela Johnson

You said you cared and would always be there. I believed you, and I too dared to care. Life changed for me; it became relevant. And I wanted to live, learn and enjoy the flowers sent. BUt you took back what you gave me and left me alone again I went back to believing that no matter how hard I try, I just can't win.

I don't understand why you took your love away. But if it was so easy for you to do, then it wasn't meant to be, anyway. Those few moments that we shared were like diamonds in a cave. If they aren't mined and refined, then they're not valuable to have. So if what we began to build could not withstand a few misunderstandings, then a future of any sort with you was not worth planning.

Who Am I Now

By Nero B. Coleman

Who am I now, Who sits in ponderous thought, Who questions my right of manhood, Who wonders is he for real, Who am I now, but myself.

Who am I now, Who has been incarcerated, Who regrets his wrong, Who is daily treated less humane, Who am I now, but myself.

Who am I now, Who must return to society, Who has been scarred by justice, Who must survive regardless, Who am I now, but myself.

Who am I now, Who longs for the touch of a loved one, Who misses his children, Who wishes for another chance, Who am I now, but myself.

Who am I now, Who wonders if things will change, Who knows life is harder, Who cares more than he shows, Who am I now, but myself.

Who am I now, Who has decided to make it work, Who is capable of adjusting to it, Who knows it is life itself, Who am I now, but myself.

Who am I now, Who knows his direction, Who cares about his future, Who knows it won't happen again, Who am I now, but myself.

Who am I now, Who thanks you for your lessons, Who appreciates your care, Who just wants freedom, WHO AM I BUT ME.

Moffitt's Action On A Roar!!

By "Golden Girl"

After directing "Short Eyes" and "Mighty Gents," just to name a few, Elliott C. Moffitt strikes again with his upcoming production, "When You Comin' Back, Red Ryder?", which will be held on March 22 through March 27, at 8:00 p.m., Butler Little Theatre.

If drama and action are what you want, then missing this production will be a great loss.
