The Steel Bandits

The story behind The Steel Bandits is almost as unique as the instruments they play. The band is composed of six adopted brothers and sisters of the George family, ranging from ages 9-17. Having organized in July '81, The Steel Bandits have spread their unique blend of calypso-popular-classical music from national conventions at major hotels to famed amusement parks like Six Flags.

An aspect that sets the Steel Bandits apart from most bands which perform on Steel Drum instruments, is their incorporation of other instruments like the flute and clarinet and the use of vocals.

The band was first organized as a way of giving the George kids a productive way of releasing "adolescent energy". However, since that time the professional attitude among the band members has grown. It has become important for them to be able to share the beauty of music so close to their cultural heritage.

The Bandits play authentic Steel Drum instruments, finely crafted and made especially for them by the world famous Ellie Mannette. A trinidad native, Mar Mannette is widely known and respected for contributions to the evolution of the Steel Drums.

The Steel Bandits: Travis (16) Band Leader, Michelle (16) Vocalist, Rodney (17) Brass drum, vocalist, Valarie (14) Cellos, Terry (10) percussionist, Lamarra (9) Spider web steel drum.

Hot Spots In Fayetteville

Fayetteville is not one of Americas most talked about cities. However, it is an All-American City. We took a survey on our campus to see where our students like to go and party and this was our response:

The Smoke Bomb is the place to go. Reason being is because of the GI's from Fort Bragg. They have a variety of clubs and men to choose from. To me that's where I like to party! Cynthia "Smurf" Gillians

I consider Fort Bragg a hot spot because there are so many men there and you never have to worry about finding a man because they are always at your service! F.J.

The hot spots in Fayetteville is Fort Bragg. Because it has a great impact on almost everything in Fayetteville. Richard McCuller

Smoke Bomb

By Shari Johnson

If you are in Fayetteville, the place to be is the "Smoke Bomb" according to the majority of students at Fayetteville State University. Since the "Smoke Bomb" has such a great impact on our students this reporter decided to visit the "hot spot".

"What, a line?" The night was already horrible. Standing in sub-zero temperatures to get into Fayetteville/Fort Bragg's most sought night club, I noticed there was really no dress code. I saw blue jeans, silk dresses, leather mini-skirts and three-pieced suits, just to name a few. Ah, finally I reached the ticket table. I generously gave the man two dollars which in turn, he stamped my hand with red ink and gave me a ticket. Now, I could proceed to the ticket checker. Here, he takes my two dollar ticket and tears it in half. Hurray, I'm inside. "Hey baby," "Yo ma-ma," and "What's up? Are some of the greetings I received when I entered. You slowly move along, like a herd of cattle, to find a table. The crowd was overwhelming. Every square inch of the place was occupied. Finally someone got up to dance so I kindly "borrowed" there seat. It worked nicely because as soon as they got off the dance floor, I was asked to dance. People jumping, running, and dancing all over the floor made the atmosphere exciting, yet somewhat dangerous. Dance after dance, new greetings, and reunions with old friends made the night most enjoyable. But like in the story of Cinderella, the night had to end. This reporter concludes that the "Smoke Bomb" is an alright place to be. However, it's somewhat of a mad-house but we all need a little excitement every now and then.
