

Honors

From Page 3

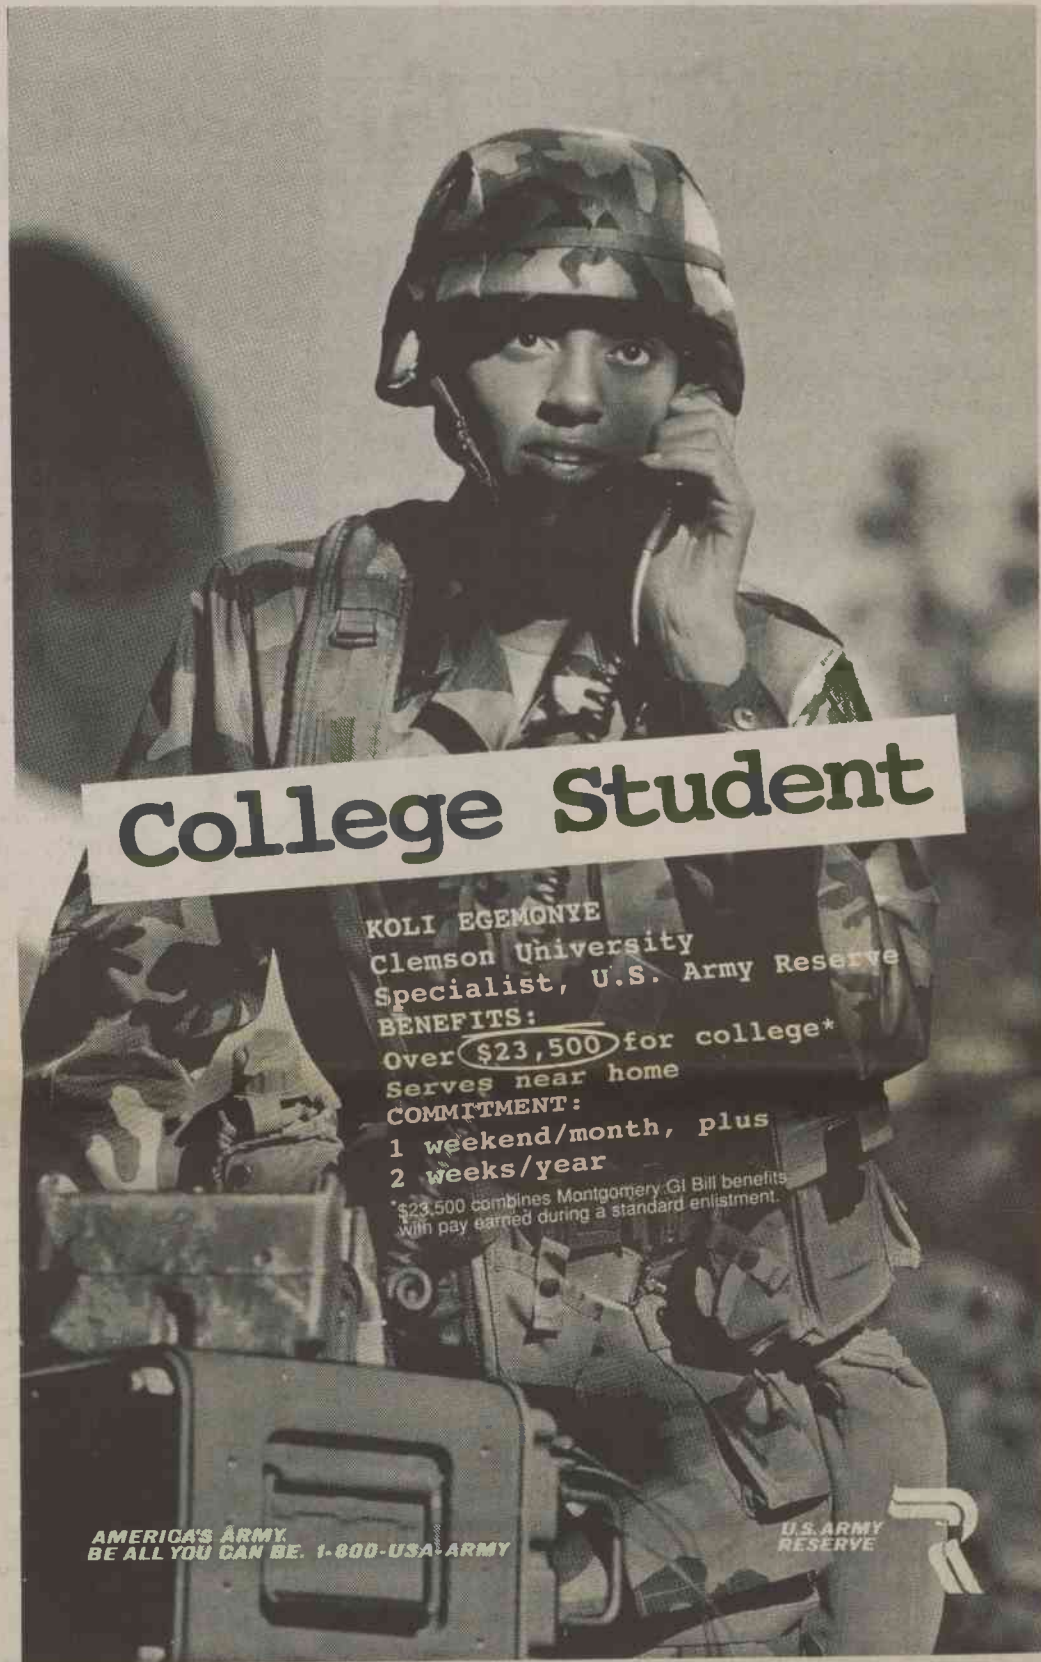

friendly, warm person who loves her sorority," said Joyce Malone, the undergraduate advisor for Delta Iota. "She's a person who believes in getting things done, and she has done a splendid job with Delta Iota. She was chosen by her peers to represent them because of the type of person she is."

In reference to her school experiences, Early said, "I've met a lot of people who have given me a lot of advice in my field of psychology, and the staff and faculty at FSU have been wonderful, very positive and helpful to me," Early said. "It's been a struggle going to school as a full-time student and working full-time, but I've just about made it. That's why every day I talk education to my fellow co-workers. Personally, I feel if you have a goal you need to accomplish it, even if it's one you set years ago. You're never too old."

Political

From Page 4

Several questions have come to my mind. Is this fight really necessary? Does the action to prevent Troy Williams' name from being printed on the November ballot represent an effort to prevent the split of Republican and Democratic votes? Has this action tarnished our image of free and open elections? Was the $800.00 expenditure to return a board member out of state justified, or wisely spent?

We're all going to Die.
Read the Broncos' Voice

Yes, you, too will soon die. Make your mark.

If you think that what your club, fraternity, sorority, fellowship, or group is doing is of general interest- or if you just have an opinion or idea that you would like to share with our reading public- Art, Science, News, or Sports - write it up, send it off.

See Page 2 for more information on guidelines for submitting material.