

Arts & Entertainment

Music News From UZI-D

What's up fellow Broncos? Once again, this is UZI-D with a quick music update for all you music heads out there.

First things first, I want to nominate the Fu Gees for album of the year. The name of their album is The Score, and that's what they did, indeed. From beginning to end Lauren, Wyclef, and Praz catch wreck musically and lyrically. For those who slept on the Fu Gees first time around, don't get caught catching Z's again. If you get a chance to see them in concert, you will be straight open like a n*@$ on the Murk during payday weekend.

Next is 2Pac with Eyes on Me. If you are a 2Pac fan then this is one to pick up. This is a double CD so look for spending damn near $30 if you want it. The phatest cut is "I've Got my Mind Made up" featuring the infamous Redman and Methodman who made the cut. Over all, the second book is better than the first book and the production is tight.

Total's album dropped as well and their name pretty much describes their singing, Total garbage. Of course the production is in there, but if you saw the Apollo performance all respect (if any) is Totally gone. If it was not for recycled beats, they would be Totally forgotten.

Another CD to check out

For those who slept on the Fu Gees first time around, don't get caught catching Z's again.

is the debut from Mad Skillz entitled From Where?. The compilation from Erick Serron has been pushed back until further notice. The highly anticipated new sounds from Busta Rhyme come out around the 23rd of March--be sure to look for this one.

Speaking of highly anticipated, gospel lovers can look for a new Hezekiah Walker album coming out soon, along with the contemporary gospel sounds of Commissioned and Babbie Mason.

For those who broke their necks to see the so-called battle between MC Shan and KRS ONE, it was just a freakin' commercial, but they did represent for 60 seconds.

I would like to send big, big ups to my partner in crime, Affion Crocket for his performance on Def Comedy Jam and his other accomplishments. You ain't heard the last of him yet! Also props go out to Southern Comfort, formerly Skin Deep, (and well-known to FSU) for landing their deal with Mecca Don records. Peep the next issue for further details about their debut.

That's all for now but I'll catch you on the flipside if I missed something this time. Keep it real by keeping God in your life. Peace UZI-D.

gram created by B.U.R.N., airs on WFSS 91.9 FM at 10:30pm Mon.-Fri.

Ganesa Robinson, one of only nine students chosen from across the country as an intern for the B.U.R.N. network, represents FSU. I got a chance to speak with "Ganesa Girl" (as she is known on her Thursday night radio show on WFSS) about the B.U.R.N. network and its new program, Entertainment 360.

Q: How did you hear of the B.U.R.N. internship?

A: Pete, a staff member/DJ at WFSS, told me that I should apply for the position. So I did. Actually, there were flyers posted wanting interns.

Q: What are your duties and responsibilities?

A: I am responsible for promoting and marketing the B.U.R.N.'s new radio program, Entertainment 360. I also report weekly events that happen at FSU, along with any other student activities and concerns.

Q: What is Entertainment 360?

A: E-360 is a daily five minute entertainment news program that provides you with the latest scoop on you favorite celebrities. The people who bring you Radioscope, Lee Bailey Broadcasting, are the same people who invented E-360.

Q: How does FSU benefit from being linked with B.U.R.N.?

A: Because Coca-Cola is the sponsor, they are able to bring events, nation-wide events, to the campus of FSU, such as the "Pro Black College Tour" which will hit 10 HBCU's across the country. They also would like to get involved with any on-campus activities that we have planned in the future. Also, they provide paid internships to students interested in the program.

Q: How can others who are interested apply?

A: They can contact me concerning any questions they may have about the Network or E-360 at the campus radio station. I think it's a great opportunity to gain experience in public relations, pro-

STOPS ON THE NET

For those travelers of the information super highway, and those of us who are just plain lost, we hope that these sites will be the map or a new pit stop in your travels. Please feel free to travel and let us know of any sites that no traveler should be without. Contact The Bronco's Voice at our e-mail address: staff@fsu.fsufay.edu

AMAZON.COM BOOKS

<http://www.amazon.com/>

"If it's in print, it's in stock" the Amazon company is an internet book store for your convenience with books from A to Z. In a price range which would make your pockets happy. For all those travelers that enjoy a good read this stop is a must.

Student Center

<http://www.studentcenter.com>

A wonderful resource for the post graduate. This is just the source of information you have been looking for. This site has interactive, easy-to-search database with extensive industry profiles on more than 35,000 companies. It also has the "Virtual Interview" which is an informative and entertaining quiz to help develop strong answers to key questions. Not only that but they offer you tips on resumes and other important aspects when it comes down to getting a job. This is a stop that is a must on the information highway

THE BLACK COLLEGIAN

<http://www.black-collegian.com>

They have established a home page, on the Internet. The following information can be gained by making this 'pit stop'.

You will find job opportunities, internships/co-ops, graduate and professional school fellowships, study abroad programs, Black history, and various other college and African-American related subjects.

compiled by Yolanda A. Barnes z723733@mis1.uncfsu.edu

B.U.R.N.: An interview with Ganesa Robinson

by Vadrin Colvin

Ganesa Robinson, B.U.R.N. intern

Fayetteville State University is now affiliated with the Black University Radio Network (B.U.R.N.). B.U.R.N. has been created to provide news, entertainment, celebrity interviews, activities on black college campuses, and job opportunities to students of over 40 HBCU's, including FSU. Entertainment 360, a new promotion and marketing, and advertising.

Bed

from pg. 7

Q: Do you have any help in promoting this program?

A: Yes, I was asked to form a "Street Team", a VIP list of interested and reliable students to help market Entertainment 360.

If you'd like to know more about the B.U.R.N. network and Entertainment 360, look for Ganesa Robinson's new column "E-360" appearing in the next edition of the Bronco's Voice.

or any other denominations: we need to be thankful for the one who has brought us through. There is only God's love that keeps us here. We must live each day like it is our last.

If you don't wake up, do you know where your eternal home will be? Think about it!