

ARE FSU POLICE GIVING OUT TOO MANY TICKETS?

By Tameka Kenan

"Oh no, I got a ticket!" This is not an uncommon statement at any University, and recently, it has become a very frequently made statement on the campus of Fayetteville State University. Trying to meet deadlines and rushing to get to classes can easily result in failing to adhere to the parking rules and regulations. However, some students claimed that they had paid careful attention to signs and zone areas before parking, but were given tickets; an act that they felt was unjustified. Many students personally bring this problem to the attention of our FSU Police Department. Unfortunately, they have not been resolved. Perhaps, however, it is not the unwillingness of our police department to effectively assist with the student problems, but rather our unawareness of the actual parking rules and regulations. With an understanding of these aspects, in the future, these problems may be resolved rationally and without downplaying our FSU police force. On the other hand, students may be correct when so many proclaim that these tickets are not distributed justifiably. The following is a brief summary of our parking rules and regulations to answer any questions and to avoid any confrontations and doubts:

- No unregistered vehicles on campus. Permits must be purchased prior to attending classes.

- During enforcement hours, permit holders may park ONLY in lots designated on the permit.
- Resident students' cars must at all times be parked in resident student lots.
- No vehicles with FSU permits are allowed in Visitor spaces.
- Operators of motor vehicles may not make a U turn on any alley, street, or driveway.
- Operators of disabled vehicles must report same to the FSU Police, including date and time vehicle is to be removed from the campus; otherwise, the vehicle is subject to citation and/or towing.
- Students are financially responsible for citations issued to vehicles traced to direct family members.
- Students requesting permit fee refunds must present withdrawal forms with authorized signatures.
- Students cannot appeal citations once placed on their academic accounts at the Business Office.

Regulations are enforced 24 hours per day, 7 days per week in Resident Student, Handicapped, Fire Lane, and Reserved spaces. In other spaces, regulations are enforced from 7:00 a.m. to 10:00 p.m. Monday through Friday. You may be fined also for parking along the street, double parking, on landscape, blocking the dumpster, blocking the driveway, or removing barriers placed by FSU police.
