

It's Hop'n Home Cook'n

Open for Breakfast & Lunch

Meals bought locally, everything freshly made!

It's Hop'n Home Cook'n is one of the newest places to eat in town. If you have time between classes, stop on over for one of their many breakfast selections. We're sure that you can find something you like. Like their always-filling Hearty Breakfast, which is 3 eggs, 3 hickory smoked bacon strips or sizzling Jimmy Dean sausage patties, 3 Golden Brown Pancakes and your choice of Breakfast Potatoes or Wholesome Grits. All for only $7.99. They are the closest breakfast restaurant to Fayetteville State. Also be sure to try one of their many other selections like a Belgium Waffle or Steak Biscuit.

And if you're still hungry around lunch time, they also have a lunch menu that includes things like a Hot Ham and Cheese, Tuna Melt, Cheese Burgers, and Chili Cheese Dogs. Only a mile away from FSU on Bragg Boulevard. Come on in today.

Marzu Cafe combines the classic feel of a coffee and sandwich shop with the exotic flavors of a Latin restaurant. Just down the road from Fayetteville State and next to Methodist University, Marzu Cafe is the ultimate place to study quietly while having a Mocha Latte and Cheesecake. You could also go out with friends for a flavorful dinner. Marzu's lunch menu includes signature sandwiches like the "Top of the Rock" that is made up of chicken, provolone cheese, mayo, lettuce, and tomato on a hoagie. If you're looking for more than a sandwich, their Latin menu will make any meal complete. You can choose from such mouth-watering items as "Carne Asada" and "Pollo Al Carbon." And if you are 21, they even have wine and spirits to go with your meal. Try it once and we're sure that it will quickly become one of your favorite places to eat.
