WHAT ABOUT OUR BUCKS?

By De' ja McNeal

After being voted Best Homecoming last fall over NC A&T's GHOE (Greatest Homecoming Ever) there was so much expectation from The Main Event Crown Coliseum Concert. The concert was supposed to feature headliners 2Chainz, Future, Jeremih, French Montana and DJ Drama. The Main Event was not much of an event after two of the sought after performers failed to show up. Students were disappointed and short 20, possibly even 50 dollars according to the non-refundable fee.

There were a bunch of local artists to fill their place but let's just say some will remain local.

Remember that email stating that there would be a spring concert possibly featuring the artists who never performed that night? Well, if your hopes were ever up about a spring concert there has been confirmation from Student Activities that there will NOT be one.

There will be NO reimbursements for those who purchased tickets for the show and no substitution for performances. Since we now know the facts, should we really be looking forward to this year's Rodeo week?

WHO IS "BLACK"?

By Michael Staton

Who is "Black" in America?
 Are you "Black" because they label you inferior?
 Or are you "Black" because your skin tone says so?
 Or are you "Black" because your friends all say so?
 Depicting colors only divide the community
 We need to stop categorizing to form unity
 We should have learned from the Jim Crow lesson
 But we still struggle and scuffle over completion
 So tell me which race has the right skin
 They don't consider you "Black" because of your light skin
 We're too blind to see the facts on facts
 Because we climb over our people for the racks on racks
 Black America has faced a great deal of colorism
 And who you are to them is critiqued by criticism
 The question "Who is Black" should not puncture your identity
 As long as you have knowledge of your culture and its history
