

And then we "wrapped up" the interview. I presented Mr. Shatner with our gifts: a WCC mug, a WCC pennant, and a copy of the last Wayne Communique. I am pleased to say that he liked the gifts very much.

During the interview and the three shows at Belk's, we took pictures and slides of William Shatner. If any students or teachers are interested in seeing these shots and listening to the tape of the interview, they may sign up for a general showing. Just sign your name on an appointment slip in the library and indicate what day and hour you wish to see them. When there is a sufficient number of names, the Communique will announce the day of the show.
