S.G.A. Dance Makes History

SGA officers announced this week that the trial open door policy, implemented experimentally at a recent dance, has been termed a success and will be continued in the future.

According to John Prevette, Chairman of the SGA Student Activities Committee, both attendance and conduct at the October 22 dance were commendable.

Prevette commented, "We were well pleased with the outcome of the SGA function. In spite of rainy weather and two competing homecomings, we had great participation."

According to Prevette, approximately 40 percent of the Wayne Community College student body attended the dance which featured Bill Deal and the Rhondells.

The new open door policy, in effect at this dance for the first time, was formulated during recent weeks through the cooperative efforts of the Wayne Community College Student Government Association and the college administration.

The new policy allows students to determine policy and police all student government functions. Prior to the adoption of the new policy, all policy matters and police duties at student government functions were determined by the college administration.

Prevette said that practically all students are pleased with the new policy which allows them to assume responsibility for their own conduct. Prevette stated, "I believe that freedom and responsibility go hand in hand. If the students at Wayne are to become responsible members of the community they must begin by accepting the challenge of being responsible for their own actions now. I think this new student activity policy signifies an increasing student sense of responsibility on our campus."

Prevette added, "I also believe we will be able to look back a year or two from now and see this move as one of the first steps toward an active, aware and responsible student body."

Student government officials report that Bill Deal and the Rhondells were well received by the student body and that many students have requested that the band be invited to play on campus again.

One SGA member has indicated that several members of the student organization are investigating the possibility of having the Rhondells back in the spring.

The next Student Government Association dance, scheduled for late November, is currently being planned. Students who have suggestions for this dance, or for other student activities, have been requested to contact any member of the student activities committee.

Prevette, chairman of the committee, observed, "We are eager for all students to become involved in student activity functions and in all functions of the Student Government Association."

Quickies

Shrubbery Donations

Have you an extra tree, shrub, or flower? If so, donate it to Wayne Community College. Students have voiced an opinion that the campus needs landscaping, and that they are willing to help. So students, "Give a tree!"

Dental Clinic

The Dental Hygiene Department provides fluoride treatment, cleaning, and a full set of x-rays for only two dollars. This even includes a new toothbrush and dental floss.

This service is available to anyone in the community. Appointments can be made by calling 735-5151 Ext. 56, any Tuesday and Thursday.

Free Watch Repair

Watch and jewelry repair will be done by students in the Watchmaking Department.

All work is done free, except for the cost of any parts needed. These watches are repaired for instructional purposes only, and are done according to class schedule. This may mean waiting an extra day or two. For more information contact Mr. Earl Hardison, Building A, Room 16.

Britt Honored

Gary Britt has been awarded the highest degree attainable through membership in the "Future Farmers of America," the Mike Giddens, Marshall Bridgers, Jean Edgerton, Bill Rose, and Mickey Gonzales watch as Eddie Lane burns his wieners.

Cook-out Is Success

Free hot dogs, drinks and music started an afternoon of fun on Thursday, October 21. Music was provided by "Bitch", a local band; of which all the members attend WCC. The WCC SGA were the sponsors for this dance.

Members of both fraternities, Sigma Tau Sigma and Delta Chi Omega, aided in the work of the project.

Drinks were furnished by the Pepsi Cola Bottling Company of Goldsboro. Members of the Student Union Committee aided in preparing drinks for the Student body.

After the cook-out, "BIT-CH" performed in the Student Union to top off the afternoon.

Since the afternoon was such a success, more cook-outs will hopefully be scheduled. Help and cooperation from the student body is needed for this to be possible.

Thanks to all the students who helped make this afternoon a success.

American Farmer Degree.

This degree was awarded at the national FFA convention held in Kansas City, October 11-15.

Gary is a graduate of Southern Wayne High School and is now enrolled as a sophomore in WCC's livestock and poultry program.

Library Too Noisy

Recently there has been too much noise in the Library. Students have been complaining that they cannot study because of the loud noises. Remember to keep in mind that the Library is a place of study and the Student Union or elsewhere can be used for socializing.

New Annuals

New! Different! Better! All of these terms describe the proposed 1972 yearbook — if it can be called that at all. The yearbook has been changed to a magazine type publication. According to Jean Edgerton and Danny Nicely, co-editors, this book will consist only of action shots of students as they really are on and off campus.

All 17 staff members, along with Jerry Kirby from the media, have become photographers. Pictures are being taken any place and anytime. So beware you may be snapped next.

Visiting Artist Discusses Sessions

"It is like sitting up all night in the dorm and talking things out," says Miss Virginia Raad of her weekly talk sessions at W.C.C. The topic for these informal discussions is art appreciation. However, one such session started with architecture and Frank Lloyd Wright, went on to William Buckley and Senator Byrd of West Virginia, and closed with a debate on "What is Liberal Arts?"

Miss Raad graduated from Wellesley College and spent several years studying music in Paris.

She is both an outstanding lecturer and listener. She obviously enjoys the company of students and is genuinely interested in their opinions.

Miss Raad deplors the fact that people find no time to get involved in the Arts because they are so involved in the mechanics of making a living. Her sessions provide the students with an opportunity for relaxation and good conversation over coffee or coke.

She will be here every Tuesday between 11 and 12 o'clock (in the board room of A building.)

Drama Discontinued

Because of lack of support from the right people, Wayne Community College no longer has the drama department which produced such plays as Joan of Arc. The drama interest was once centered in a small group of dedicated people mostly from the community. These people worked hard at giving of themselves, their talents, and their time. Everything possible was tried to stimulate interest in drama but the lack of money and moral support hampered their progress. The drama department ended because they got tired of always giving and getting nothing.
