

Dreadful Disease

By JOHN BARDEN

A strange disease has been cited on campus! It's origin is unknown, however similar cases have been detected at other schools and institutions. The first signs of its effects were shown in various individuals and the disease has been known to overcome large groups. All the symptoms of the disease seem to be basically the same: first the infected begins to lose interest in this daily routines; then he gradually begins, as the disease grows more intense, to lose confidence in his abilities to work with others; his vision grows worse — he cannot see where his responsibilities and duties lie; then comes the final phase — he simply gives up his existence and participation in the world around him. Slyly and wickedly it hides behind every darkened corner, corridor and wall, hiding, waiting, to strike out at its next unsuspecting victim.

The results of this disease are extremely hazardous to our campus: its' force has the power to disrupt social union; it can completely destroy any type of organization; it is known to have been deterrent to communication; and it's results block any attempt towards achieving progress.

How can such a destructful disease be allowed to continue its devastating effects? Simple. For there is no cure, because we just don't care enough to do something (an aspect which is thought by many to be the very nature of the disease itself.) The disease — apathy. Has it affected you?

Wiggs Speaks Out!

"Many students don't know that it takes much time and careful planning to have a successful dance. It also must have cooperation from the students and the staff. There is an old saying, "United we stand — divided we fall". It is the truest statement that has ever been made. Miss W.C.C. Dance has proven to me that students are united better than any other time in the history of this school."

Special Tribute

Much hard work and many long, long hours were spent on the 1972 WCC annual. With the necessary co-operation of around fifteen staff and other fellow students the annual was sent to the publishing company in Winston-Salem, February 9.

The help received by all was much appreciated, but special recognition should be given to Jean Edgerton, our annual's editor, for the time, money, patience, worry, and hard work she put into it.

I feel she should be thanked and given special recognition by students and faculty of Wayne Community College.

Santana Comments

The Student Government here at Wayne Community College has provided little interest for the students. They are so concerned with the "Student Legislature" that they have forgotten the students here at WCC. Students held responsible are your SGA representatives. If you feel that your SGA representatives are not representing you, he or she can be recalled. Another point to consider, is that students are like taxpayers, they pay an activity fee of five dollars every quarter and they feel they should get something in return.

Life On Campus

UPPERS

1. Johnny Wiggs, Cathy Worley and Barry Godwin are to be thanked for their hard work on the student activities committee all year. Especially, for the last dance which was the best one yet.

2. Thanks to Democratic Conventions for creating happier families.

3. Special thanks to everyone that helped with this paper.

4. Thanks to people entering photos in the contest. Prizes will be awarded sometime.

5. Thanks to Sigma Tau Sigma for the help with the annual and paper: especially, Steve Diehl and John Whitesell.

6. Thanks to Dean Waller for being a life saver.

7. Thanks to Homer Pyke for being so agreeable since the Democratic Convention.

8. Jean Edgerton and her trusted staff are to be congratulated for getting the annual to Winston-Salem on time.

9. Thanks to Jean Privette for becoming involved in everything and therefore involving WCC.

10. Thanks to Judy Fulghum and Jean Edgerton for writing this mess.

DOWNERS

1. Being late for the class because you have to park in the boon-docks.

2. Little tables in student union.

3. Advisors with big mouths.

4. Homework on weekends.

5. Apathy.

6. Working in the Student Union board room til 12:45.

7. The grass on the golf green.

8. "Dismal Swamp" at WCC.

9. Communications Committee for not having a meeting lately.

10. Showing your tail shooting pool.

11. Big ideas that never amount to anything.

12. Parking tickets.

13. Closed stacks in the library.

14. Unpaved streets.

WCC Leader In State Legislation

At a time when student apathy is a dominant factor on campus, it is found that there are still students who are concerned with how to better the students position in life. One such organization is the North Carolina State Student Legislation.

N.C.S.S.L.'s purpose is to give students a voice in government. The group meets in Raleigh and takes over the running of the state. As proof of this fact: The General Assembly is given all the bills passed by the N.C.S.S.L. and then passes 40 percent to 90 percent of these bills into state law!

WCC has been given the job of minority leader with John Prevette as the Senator in this role.

Prevette had this to say. "As one of the strongest Community Colleges in N.C., we were the natural choice. We have a tremendous job ahead of us. We are putting a bill on the floor and we are hoping to get it passed. The bill is that the President of the S.G.A. will be a voting member of the Board of Trustees. We are having our next conference in Raleigh March 15-19 at the Holiday Inn. I now have a big problem. I don't have five delegates. If anyone is interested in being a member please see me.

Tally On Students Opinions

On January 24 a student survey was sent out to all students to give their opinions on what could be done to improve student activities at WCC. There are 1549 students enrolled at WCC and only 249 surveys were answered. The other 1300 were listed as lack of interest by the Students' Activity Committee.

The following is the computation of students opinions from the surveys:

	Per Cent
More dances:	3
Better bands:	10
Soul music:	1.2
More hardrock:	4
Less hardrock:	1.2

High Cost Of Pot

At Phillips College, in Borger, Texas, the student newspaper offered food for thought about the case of a youth arrested and convicted for possession of marijuana, which is, at the present time, a felony for those caught with more than 2.2 grams. He received a suspended sentence, But... DID HE LOSE ANYTHING? All he lost was...

- the right to vote,
 - the right to own a gun,
 - the right to run for public office.
- He lost the opportunity of ever being a...

licensed: doctor, dentist, CBA, engineer, lawyer, architect, realtor, barber, osteopath, physical therapist, masseur, pharmacist, private detective, teacher, funeral director, stock broker. He can never get a job where he has to be bonded or licensed; he can't work for the city, county, or federal government. He can enlist in military service, but will not have a choice of service and will probably be assigned to a labor battalion.

If this happened to you, would you feel you had lost anything?

Unimportant-Do Not Read This

The following words are relevant to nothing, absolutely nothing.

Words follow words in fairly logical and quite correct order. Still, we maintain that these sentences are of little value. Correction: of no value.

After having read the headline, then, why have you gotten this far? Curiosity? Stupidity? Who knows...

The fact remains, however. Tell somebody not to do a certain thing, and it will be done. This "don't touch, wet paint" syndrome makes one want to find out, makes one want to be sure.

So... be sure. But the paragraphs following that headline above are unimportant. Don't read them again.

Dashboard Roads

Lately the cars from WCC have been crying HELP! The road conditions on campus are a hazard. It is understood the paving of the roads can not be completed until further plans for the campus have been completed.

But can't someone see to the scraping of the roads?

It is also understood that WCC has a road scraper and it is the responsibility of the college to maintain the roads.

Can someone please learn to drive the scraper and help the poor cars?

Unimportant

One student upon reading this article, had this comment to make: "The man is telling the truth, but don't take my word for it, if you've read this far you are dumber than I am. If I am dumb enough to read only the top part, and you've read this part also, then you are not only dumb, but you are a funny dummy. If this makes sense, you've really got an incredible imagination or you're a nut."

The One And Only-- Dean Waller

In the regular course of events, things occur that seem impossible to overcome. At least that is the way it seems to several students at Wayne Community College. Students who are active in school events and activities always run into problems. Who do they turn to? The one and only — DEAN WALLER.

It is about time that students and faculty become aware of all that Dean Waller does around this campus. There have been times that many students would never have made it through the day if he had not stepped in and waived his "magic wand." When it looks hopeless, Dean Waller is the man! At least that is the way the Student Activities and Communication Committee feels.

Clean Up WCC

Mrs. Ruth E. Boyer of the English department has suggested a worthwhile project for students and faculty of Wayne Community College. She suggests that students and faculty aid in cleaning up the campus and buildings of WCC. Paper, chewing gum wrappers, bottles, cans, and other trash is all over the entire campus.

Mrs. Boyer suggests that visitors to the campus would be impressed by a clean and neat looking school, and students might like the campus that way.

Mrs. Boyer's idea has merit. If she can help clean up our campus, why can't students do so too? Think about it the next time you see trash littering our campus.
