President Clyde Erwin

Behind the Scene

A person you should want to meet is President Clyde Erwin. Many students didn't get a chance to meet him last year. President Erwin is a man who cares for you and your ideas. His office is open to all the students at WCC. He will listen to your grievances. Johnny Wiggs states, "I know for a fact that he listens, because I have had the pleasure of working with him this summer." He always has enough time to talk to a student. Wiggs said that WCC is very lucky in having a person of his caliber as President of this college. Find out for yourself what kind of person Clyde Erwin really is. Meet the man behind your college.

Studying Made Easier

The Directed Studies Lab is the area of the Learning Resource Center geared toward meeting the diversified educational needs of individuals rather than groups. It provides a study situation in which anyone eighteen years of age or older may continue his education at whatever level he needs and desires. There is no traditional classroom situation - no teacher lecturing on a specific topic; no specific hours of attendance; no tardies, absences, grades, or homework. The Lab is kept as free as possible of the pressures found in the traditional classroom so the student is comfortable with studying and learning.

Students study by using programmed instructional materials which are designed to facilitate learning in small segments or sequences, and which allow the student to progress at his own rate. In addition, the Lab has a fine collection of audio-visual materials to provide variety as well as increased knowledge. At least one coordinator is present at all times of the day and evening to give as much individualized instruction as necessary at the student's request. Tests are administered periodically by the coordinator to ascertain each student's progress.

One and Only—Dean Waller

In the regular course of events, things occur that seem impossible to overcome. At least that is the way it seems to several students at Wayne Community College. Students who are active in school events and activities always run into problems. Who do they run to? The one and only—Dean Waller.

It's time that students and faculty become aware of all that Dean Waller does around this campus.

Quickies

Wayne Community College is quick with activities. September 6, an Orientation Dance will be held at the Moose Lodge from 7:30 until 11:30. Music will be provided by the Catalinas from Charlotte. ## SGA Begins New Year

This year's officers of the Student Government Association of Wayne Community College are Johnny Wiggs, President; Steve Diehl, Vice President; and Nancy Taylor, Treasurer. Representatives for each department will be elected at a later date. Anyone interested in running as a representative from his department should contact Mrs. Millie Cothren in the Dean of Students' Office.

The SGA will spend approximately $30,000 for student activities this year. The five-dollar activity fee, which each student pays at registration, is used by the SGA to support dances, athletics, the college newspaper and annual, cookouts, and the Community Concert series. A student's identification card allows him free admission to any SGA-sponsored activity. The Student Government Association truly hopes that each and every student will participate in all the events of the coming year.

From the President

As President of the SGA, I would like to welcome you to Wayne Community College. I am sure that WCC will offer you many activities you will personally enjoy. There will be 2200 hundred students attending WCC this year; and the SGA is working for each of you.

New Counselor Employed

Mrs. Millie Cothren has recently joined the Wayne Community College staff as a counselor. She will be working directly with Dean Waller in a counseling, coordinating capacity.

As a counselor, Ms. Cothren will assist in advising students regarding curriculum changes as well as personal problems. She will also serve as advisor to the Student Government Association, the Inter-Club Council and aid in coordinating other student sponsored events.

Mr. Cothren received undergraduate and graduate degrees at East Carolina University. She holds a Master's degree in Guidance. Mrs. Cothren is looking forward to working with the students at W.C.C. "I am delighted to be working at Wayne Community College and anticipate meeting all of the students." Her office is located in the Dean of Students' office in the Administration Building.

Where the Action

Many people who have lived around Goldsboro know for a fact that it lacks leisure-time activities for young people. This year the students at W.C.C. are trying to do something about this situation. We have decided to meet off campus and do things together. There are several places where students find someone he or she knows. Where? Frog & Ox (close to Curb-In) is open nightly to WCC students. It is a private club that offers a friendly, congenial atmosphere. Other places include the Pizza Inn across the street from the college and the Boulevard Lanes Bowling Alley on Berkeley Blvd. Let's get together and have our own party! See you there! Johnny Wiggs
